

REPLY DETERMINED AGREED BY U. S.

U. S. Hopes Invitation May Be Re- called.

WATCHES ITALY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—An atmosphere of uncertainty was thrown about the Administration's policy with regard to the Genoa economic conference, scheduled to meet in less than four weeks to attempt the commercial and financial stabilization of strife-ridden Europe.

Twice the White House has been on the verge of announcing this Government's reply to the invitation from the Italian government, and twice the announcement has been held up at the eleventh hour.

While in neither case has there been any official explanation forthcoming as to the cause for the delay, indications point to a belief and desire on the part of this Government that the Italian government will itself withdraw the invitation, thus saving Washington the embarrassing duty of declining to participate.

The reply has been drafted, but it had not been sent up to last night. It was expected that the Italian government in Rome for presentation to the Italian government by Ambassador Child, if it goes at all.

According to authoritative information the American reply informs the Italian government that under present circumstances the United States respectfully declines its invitation to participate in the Genoa conference. It is pointed out that the United States is deeply interested in the conference and has every wish for its complete success, but, etc., etc.

Some surprise is plainly manifested in official quarters that the Italian government already has not called in the invitations, in view of the Italian political situation and in view of the obvious results of France and the United States to participate in an economic gathering at this time. The reply from Washington has been held up longer than usual in the confident expectation that a withdrawal would be forthcoming any day.

ITALY AWAITS U. S. REPLY

ROME, Feb. 11.—The foreign office is anxiously awaiting a reply from Washington to the invitation to participate in the international economic conference at Genoa. While no communication has been received, the Italian government expects to hear from the American State Department within forty-eight hours.

Italian officials attach no credence to reports from Paris that Mr. T. B. Aldrich, the American ambassador to France, and George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, may be appointed observers at the meeting to recall the situation back to Washington. Italy expects that America will either participate actively in the meeting or else refrain from representation entirely.

Italy's political situation makes it difficult for her to take part in conference matters. Premier Bonomi has consented to retain office with his old cabinet, but next Thursday he must face the chamber of deputies on the question of general policy. If the chamber votes lack of confidence in the Bonomi ministry it will be withdrawn, which will leave Italy without a government once again.

Mr. Bonomi and his colleagues out of power, Italy would lack the necessary government machinery to carry on negotiations relative to the conference. Under officials in the foreign office are handling details and matters regarding the conference, but they have not the authority to say whether or not the opening shall be postponed.

'Bucketshop Ring Sift Is Ordered to Protect Thousands of Investors

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—State and county officers and officials of the New York Stock Exchange today announced they had begun a fight to the finish to save the investments of thousands of men and women in Wall street "bucketshop rings," which in the last few weeks.

Twenty-five brokerage firms, the majority of the members of the ring, went to the wall within the last two months going down in flames in the crash. It is estimated the total liabilities of these shops will be more than $25,000,000 and only one of that number is expected to pay as much as fifty cents on the dollar to its creditors.

The grand jury now in session is expected to return indictments against several prominent firms active in soliciting business by mail and the long-distance telephone from investors in every vicinity in this country.

The "bucketshop ring" has become so brazen Seymour L. Cromwell, president of the New York Stock Exchange, has issued a warning to all members that bucketting operations will not be tolerated.

A committee of Stock Exchange members, alarmed at the widespread activity and boldness of the "bucketshop ring," is preparing a report that will be submitted to the grand jury within the next week. It is believed. This report, it is learned, will advocate all exchange firms be required to make statements at regular intervals as to their financial condition and scope of operations.

While the Stock Exchange officials have been trying quietly to get the exchange from the sheep pen in the exchange walls, the offices of the district attorney and the Attorney General of the State have been besieged by persons with hard luck tales of loss incurred in "The bucketshop ring" in the last fortnight.

Frederick R. Rich, assistant Attorney General, appointed by Attorney General Charles D. Newton to handle the bucketshop ring, has been ordered to call to that office by resident of other State, declares some brokerage houses were under surveillance because of a new form of swindling more highly lucrative than the old.

get over to the American people. I don't believe in militarism, but I do believe in war experimentation."

"Now don't get me wrong," he warned, "raising his hands in an explanatory gesture. "What I mean by experimentation is that this nation should bend every energy to discover new agencies of warfare."

The next war will be fought with gas. We must continue our experiments in poisonous gases and we must try to turn out better and bigger guns. Not many of each kind, just one or two. Then we will be up to all the devilry there is, and I'm not a bit of a pessimist. I'm not worrying. But we have got to make some adjustments, for instance, in the field of wages. In some cases wages are too high and in others too low. Common labor isn't paid enough in some places. That's not right. Some men are holding wages down because they have the power."

When groups of workers are receiving too much," he was asked.

"Now, you know the answer as well as I do," he laughed. "You know it and the answer is to let them have it."

"America is not in the proper condition to pay a soldier 'bonus' now," he continued. "It's the wrong time. We should wait a little while. Then we can pay them more money." he added quickly with a smile.

He believes this country should postpone their refunding of debts of our creditors until we have a better government.

"You don't get blood from a stone," he said with a snap of the jaw. "We can wait and they'll be there ready to pay."

Prohibition, he said, should be drastic enough to prevent any person anywhere from obtaining any booze whatsoever.

Was your questionnaire that stumped so many college professors a success?" he was asked.

"It was a success to me," he answered smiling. "About 1,200 tried to pass it. I've got sixty men who are better college men than I am. I'm going to use it in the future wherever we take on more men. The plumbers will have to pass similar tests."

There was a general misunderstanding of that test, he elaborated. It was designed purely to see how much general knowledge the applicant possessed.

"They could have known the answers from having read the newspaper," he said, "but people don't read the newspapers as they should."

Harding Sends CONGRATULATIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Harding sent the following letter of congratulation to Thomas A. Edison on the occasion of the electrical wizard's 75th birthday.

"My dear Mr. Edison:

"Senator Frelinghuysen has reminded me of the fact that you are to celebrate your 75th birthday anniversary Feb. 11 and I am sure that you will accept my congratulations and very best wishes. I hope you will have many more years of happy service to the world at large, such as you have so generously given in the past."

"Very sincerely,
"WARREN G. HARDING."

NATIVE TOWN SENDS A WIRE

MILAN, Ohio, Feb. 11.—Thomas A. Edison, Milan's most distinguished native son, is 75 today. A message wishing him many happy returns of the day was wired by the mayor and other officials to Mr. Edison at his East Orange, N. J., home.

GERMANS PAY GREAT TRIBUTE

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—German newspapers, educators and scientific bodies today paid tribute to Thomas A. Edison, the American inventor, upon the occasion of Mr. Edison's seventy-fifth birthday.

"The Wizard of Menlo Park" was the headline used over a eulogy printed by the Vossische Zeitung.

"If Mr. Edison had invented only the electric lamp, he would deserve first place in the Pantheon of Electro-Technical Inventions," declared the eulogy.

To enumerate his full achievements would mean writing a history of science. We will forget the unpleasant things Mr. Edison said about the Germans in the time before we estimate the man and not his words. Mr. Edison by his achievements and inventions will lead mankind into a better future."

HENRY FORD'S MESSAGE

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 11.—Henry Ford today following message of con-

VARIOUS CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS ARE UNUNITED

Federation Asks Passage of Ordinance Fixing Build- ing Zones.

Passage of an ordinance prohibiting location of manufacturing and mercantile buildings in residence districts until the city plan commission completes the work of establishing zones for each class of structures is urged upon the city council by a resolution adopted at a meeting of the Indianapolis Federation of Commerce last evening. The federation's organization was completed, excepting the election of officers at the meeting. Officers will be chosen March 10. Several nominations were made last evening.

The federation will have as members five representatives of each of the civic clubs of the city and adjacent territory, its purpose is to cooperate activities of the various societies upon matters of city-wide importance.

The resolution upon building restriction declares that business interests are taking advantage of the delay in action on the part of the city plan commission and are locating their establishments in residential sections of the city. It states that it is variously estimated that it will take the commission from eight to eighteen months to complete zoning.

The nominations for the March 10 election are as follows: E. O. Sneath, president Mapleton Civic Association, for president; Stephen Fuller, Enterprise Civic League, for vice president; L. L. Feltz, College Avenue Civic League, for secretary; J. M. Holmes, Capitol Avenue Protective Association, and E. Leroy Porteus, Brookside Civic League, for first vice president; Edgar Brown, Birchwood Civic League, for second vice president; J. M. Feltz, College Avenue Civic League, for third vice president; J. M. Holmes, Capitol Avenue Protective Association, for fourth vice president; J. M. Holmes, Capitol Avenue Protective Association, for fifth vice president.

Rich says he has received complaints from investors in Chicago and other cities who tell stories of being defrauded by the bucketshop ring. He says he has checked up on the bucketshop ring and has found that it is a legitimate firm.

"Before you consult your home town banker," is the advice Rich gives to stockholders in every State who wish to get rich quickly.

COURTESY AND DIGNITY WILL FEATURE RACE

Beveridge Manager Says No Mud Throwing to Be Attempted.

The first indication of the tactics to be pursued in the campaign of Albert J. Beveridge for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate is contained in a statement made public today by A. J. Kist, who will be in charge of the campaign publicity, to the effect so far as he is concerned "there will be nothing published or sponsored for circulation that will in any way besmirch the reputation of Senator New."

The statement also "takes a shot" at some of the tactics of the Republican State committee which have been published in the Indianapolis News.

"Let the people nominate and the party organization elect," is the slogan.

"In assuming charge of the publicity for the Beveridge campaign, I wish it understood by all publishers that so far as the control of the committee extends, there will be nothing published or sponsored for circulation that will in any way besmirch the reputation of Senator New."

"In conducting this campaign the most important thing to keep in mind is that the district attorney's office should be kept out of the campaign. It should be said by the advocates of either candidate that could be used by the Democrats to their disadvantage in the fall campaign. Every Republican publisher should realize that the November election is the only one in which the United States Senator, but practically all the State officers, every Congressman, every county judge and every town trustee will be elected. Therefore, it is essential that the candidate who is to lead the Republican party in the fall campaign should be a man of high character and high ability."

"Let the contest be on a high plane, and let the people decide the issue," is the slogan of the campaign.

"If you are for Mr. New, be for him because you think he is the better man for the place. If you think Mr. New's name at the head of the Republican ticket will pull more votes for the party than that of Mr. Beveridge, then advocate his nomination on these grounds. For this is the important thing in the campaign. It should control the attitude of every candidate running for office in the State, congressional, county or township."

"Our slogan is 'Let the people nominate and the party organization elect.'"

U. S.-JAPANESE TREATY TO END YAP TROUBLE

This Country to Have Same Cable and Wireless Rights as Nipponese.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The treaty between the United States and Japan which settled the long-standing differences over the administration of the island of Yap, the most important cable station in the Pacific Ocean, was signed at the State Department at 2:32 o'clock this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A treaty formally signed today between the United States and Japan finally settled the famous Yap controversy. This treaty was to be signed at 2 o'clock in the State Department by Secretary of State Hughes and Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador here. There were two negotiators on the Japanese side, but the treaty was signed by the United States and Japan representatives.

The Yap treaty also clears up another question concerning the four-power pact, and the restoration of the Philippines to the United States. The treaty provides that the United States and Japan shall have equal rights in the Philippines. The treaty also provides that the United States and Japan shall have equal rights in the Philippines. STATE FIRM IN CEMENT WAR

Wisconsin Insists Price Must Drop 15 Per Cent.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 11.—The State of Wisconsin today stood pat on its defiance of the "cement trust."

Chief Highway Engineer A. R. Hirst informed all county highway commissions that the State highway commission was refusing to accept half of the reduction asked by the commission on bids for the cement needed in road building for the coming year.

The cement manufacturers ordered a reduction of 8 cents a barrel below the $1.20 net price asked in the original bids. The highway commission, in refusing to accept the reduction, said it would not be subject to the consent of the United States and that Japan will address to the administration of the mandate.

Space at Flower Show All Taken

With more space already contracted for by exhibitors, who will bring displays of flowers to the national flower show and exposition of the Society of American Florists and Horticulturists than can be found in the Manufacturers' Building and the Women's Building at the State fairground, arrangements for the show which is to be held March 25 to April 1, are rapidly going forward.

Henry W. Riemann, Indianapolis florist, has been appointed chairman of the local exhibit committee. E. H. Mann of Richmond will act as chairman of the out-of-town exhibitors.

Trade exhibits will be placed in the Women's Building, Mr. Riemann announced, and the floral displays will be set up in the Manufacturers' Building.

Muscle Shoals Hearing Halted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The House Military Committee marked time today in its consideration of Henry Ford's offer to the Government to develop the Government property at Muscle Shoals, Ala. Hearings on the Ford proposal will be resumed on Monday, when engineers representing the Detroit manufacturer will appear.

PLANS READY TO OPEN FIGHT FOR SENATOR

Two Big Demonstrations by Opposing Forces Are Arranged.

Following the announcement that there will be a demonstration in favor of the candidacy of Albert J. Beveridge for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate Thursday afternoon in Indianapolis, an announcement was made today that a meeting in behalf of Senator Harry S. New, the other candidate, will be held at the courthouse Wednesday night. This meeting will be the first for New in Indianapolis and is scheduled to take place less than twenty-four hours before the first big Beveridge demonstration.

The following call for the meeting was signed by Charles A. Bookwalter, New's Marion County manager: E. D. Clark, Ralph A. Lemcke, Miss Eleanor Barker, women's organizer for New; Mrs. Hugh McGilghey and Mrs. Charles H. Jose:

"As it is long established custom to nominate for Indiana the United States Senators who have rendered faithful and efficient service we believe that Senator Harry S. New has well earned this support from the Republican party of Indiana."

"His record is entirely consistent and in full accord with the record of his party, and there is no good reason why he should not receive the support of all loyal Republicans in the State."

"As representatives of a large number of his friends we are calling a meeting in support of Senator New's candidacy at the Criminal Court room, Wednesday night, Feb. 15, at 8 o'clock to which you are invited and to which all friends of Senator New will be welcome."

CALLS PARLEY OF ENGINEERS

National Convention to Be Held at Pittsburgh.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A second parley to settle the long-standing engineering was called today by the commissioner of education, to meet at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, May 1 and 2. The first conference was held in Washington two and a half years ago.

Invitations to the Pittsburgh meeting are said to have been sent by the commissioner of education to commercial and trade associations, educational institutions and other groups.

Hiked to U. S. Court After Tiger Fine

Out of the city court frying pan into the Federal Court fire was the uncomfortable position in which John F. Gross, 610 West Third street, found himself yesterday. Just after Gross had been fined $50 and costs in city court for operating a blind tiger and while he was paying his fine, the United States marshal descended upon him and carried him away to the Federal building to answer to a charge of destroying national bank notes.

At the time of his arrest he is said to have torn a large roll of paper money to bits before Policemen Gooch and Berman could recover from their astonishment and stop him. His bond was set at $2,000 by Judge W. H. Moore, United States commissioner.

Go After Woman and Hold Man Here

While Detective Harry McElroy is on his way to Racine, Wis., to bring Joie Bradson to Indianapolis on a charge of child neglect, the police are holding Carl H. Bradson, 26, 517 Burgess avenue, under $1,000 bond. The police say Bradson wrote Bradson a letter saying she left a 10-month-old baby at his house Feb. 4. Bradson, according to the police, said he knew the Bradson girl near Darlington, Wis., in 1910 and that the Indianapolis Orphan's Home is caring for the child.

INFUENZAS HERE

From Atlantic to Pacific Coast Re- ports Show Alarming Increase.

Influenza and influenzal pneumonia are again prevalent and care should be used by all or death toll may run into the millions, say all Health Boards. During the Epidemic of 1918-1919 one hospital reported 497 cases and another 385 cases without a death. The only medication used at these hospitals was Bala-same, a western discovery. In thousands of cases Bala-same was used and no fatalities occurred from the influenza or its running mate, pneumonia. Bala-same was used at the beginning of the disease in most cases.

Take it at the first sign of influenza or cold and prevent the deadly pneumonia. Formerly Bala-same was sold only on physicians' prescriptions but now you can buy it at any first class drug store. Get a bottle today and be prepared. Bala-same is a palatable medicine powerful in its effects on all respiratory troubles, either temporary or chronic.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Watson stated that the Indianapolis cat show, by having eighty red tabbies, has the largest number of cats on exhibit than any other show she has judged.

Theo Hewes, manager of the show stated that all attempts to recruit cats have been broken and that the show is a winner from every standpoint.

JUDGE MAKES NEW RULING

When Special Judge George G. Rimmer in a motion to suppress evidence in a blind tiger case he opened a new legal avenue for escape for alleged bootleggers.

Blind tiger charges against Abe Roberts, 104 Elm street, were dismissed by Judge Rimmer, who has announced that the court would rule in favor of the motion filed by Ira Holmes, attorney for Roberts. The judge, according to evidence heard in court, said that the name of the blind tiger was not Robert, but was Robert, who was arrested at 1043 Elm street, Jan. 21 armed with a search warrant of the premises of a man named Robert McGuff. The officers searched the place and found a quart of whisky, the bottle whisky. Roberts claimed the liquor was arrested. McGuff denied ownership of the liquor and was not arrested.

The court held that inasmuch as the search warrant was not made out on Robert's name, the police had no right to introduce liquor found in the raid as evidence. Prosecutor J. Burdette Little argued that the police were there legally and had right to search for any liquor found and arrest any person claiming ownership of the liquor.
