

SCHOOL BOARD FINDS BUILDING PROBLEM HARD

Barry Promises Action, but Declines to Fix Construction Date.

OLD BODY IS BLAMED

Members of the majority faction of the board of school commissioners are finding it increasingly difficult to meet the need of new school buildings in Indianapolis in any other manner than that of the old board, whose building program they criticized so severely during the campaign last fall.

Delegations of citizens from three widely separated parts of the city appeared before the board at the meeting last night to request the erection of additions or new buildings and in each instance they were told their claims were well founded and that they deserved the improvements which they asked. However, President Charles L. Barry, who acted as spokesman for the majority faction in talking to the delegations, was careful not to commit himself or the board to any definite time when the improvements would be put through.

He made frequent use of the phrases "in the future," "as soon as possible," "in the future," "as soon as our finances will permit," and other phrases similar in character, and he intimated the old board was responsible for all the trouble.

TAX BOARD ADDS TO CONSTRUCTION

The delegations were from schools which would be under construction now, in accordance with the building program of the old board, had it not been for the action of the State board of tax commissioners in refusing to approve the bond issue for their construction. In this stand the commissioners received the hearty backing of Mr. Barry, whose two sons, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Wallace and Mrs. Ruth Street, and No. 16, Bloomington and Market streets.

A delegation composed of N. W. Beck, O. J. Larman, Mrs. Grant Smithson and the Rev. Joseph F. Weber, representing the Enterprise Civic League, appeared before the board and urged the betterment of conditions at Daniel Webster School No. 46, Howard and Reeder streets. The delegation told the board at this time there were only two intact eight rooms in twenty-eight were in one room in which no sunlight ever entered, and the building was a fire trap and had been condemned years ago. The Rev. Weber made special objection to the outhouses in the school yard and said "during the summer months they are a rendezvous for white moles."

When the matter of the fire hazard at the school was under discussion, W. D. Allison, a member of the board asked if there were any escapes.

"No, not unless the children could slide down the vines," Mr. Beck answered.

ASK ADDITION TO SCHOOL

Mrs. David Shepherd presented a petition signed by 100 citizens in the neighborhood of School No. 20, Spruce near Prospect street, asking for an addition at that school. The petition was referred to the committee on buildings and grounds.

In order to meet teachers salaries until the next instalment of taxes is due it is necessary to borrow $125,000 from the school building fund in addition to the $400,000 already borrowed, Walter J. Twynane business director of the board, announced. The money will be transferred to the local tuition fund.

A resolution also was adopted for a loan of $100,000 to meet teachers' salaries until June 30. This money will be borrowed on the open market and bids will be asked from various financial institutions.

High school commencements will be held at Tomlinson Hall the nights of June 12, 13, 14 and 15. It was decided by the board, the coliseum at the fairgrounds and the Cadele tabernacle had been under consideration, but were rejected. The use of Tomlinson Hall will make it necessary to hold the Arsenal Technical High School exercises on two

IS CARRIED TO HER WEDDING

Scenes of much pathos marked the wedding in London recently of Capt. Cyril Newall, R. A. F., to Mrs. May Dulcie Weddell. The bride, a handsome woman of 27, was crippled in a riding accident in Italy a year ago and had to be carried from a West End nursing home to the register's office.
