

GENTLE SPRING SENDS WARMTH INTO POLITICS

Candidates, Hearing 'Call of the People,' File Many Notices.

Gideon M. Blain, Democrat, filed his candidacy with the secretary of State today for judge of the Marion County Superior Court, room 5, and T. Ernest Maholm, Republican, filed his candidacy for judge of Superior Court, room 2. Blain lives at 1915 North Pennsylvania street, and Maholm at 302 East Tenth street.

Two Democrats and one Republican filed petitions as candidates for Congress. William R. Wood, present Congressman from the Tenth district, filed his petition for re-nomination. James A. Clifton, mayor of Connersville, entered the race for the Democratic nomination in the Sixth district. Mr. Clifton is the first Democrat to be elected mayor of Connersville for several years. Other cities going Democratic last fall in the Sixth district usually classified as a Republican district, have raised Democratic hopes of unseating Richard Elliott, Republican, present Congressman.

Arthur H. Greenwood, Democrat, filed his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second district. He is opposed by Mrs. William A. Cullup, wife of former Congressman Cullup, who announced her candidacy several weeks ago.

Others filing candidates were: Charles E. Dean, Republican, State Representative, Jefferson and Scott Counties.

Walter R. Colglazier, Joint Representative, Washington and Orange counties, Salem, Democrat.

Thomas J. Hurley, Republican, Gary, Judge Lake County Superior Court, 3.

Florence B. Smith, Democrat, State Representative, De Kalb County.

Clarence A. Lowe, Democrat, Representative, Shelby County, Shelby County, Waldron.

Charles A. Fitch, Jr., Democrat, Evansville, Joint Senator, Vanderburgh, Posey and Warrick counties.

Walter D. Stump, Democrat, Auburn, Judge 35th Judicial Circuit Court.

Henry C. Springer, Republican, Garrettsville, prosecuting attorney, 35th Judicial District.

Charles S. Smith, Republican, Auburn, prosecuting attorney, 35th Judicial District.

M. Gray, Democrat, Petersburg, prosecuting attorney, 57th Judicial District.

unable to detect the danger and futility of the situation," said General Smuts.

"The military positions are well to hand and with the cooperation of loyal citizens who are actively engaged in the government, it should not take long to re-establish peaceful conditions."

"A general strike has been declared throughout the Union of South Africa, but the mass of workers and trade unions in the centers of population outside the Rand have refused to be stampeded into it. The outstanding feature of the strike has been the behavior of the native population, who have shown exemplary forbearance and patience throughout."

Fighting is in progress not only in and around Johannesburg, but in various parts to the mine fields known as the Rand. The strikers include workers in the coal, iron and diamond fields.

But the strike is not a general one, he was driving toward the mine fields, but he was not injured. The Premier had a narrow escape. The incident took place near Boshuizen during an exchange of volleys between military police and strikers.

NUMBER OF WOMEN AMONG THE DEAD.

A number of women have been killed during the fighting in this city and suburbs. The morgues are overcrowded with dead.

The hospitals are choked with wounded. Private hospitals are being converted into hospitals. Two of the chief danger spots outside the city are Fordsburg and Jeppe. A four-hour battle between government forces and a command of syndicalists at Jeppe resulted in a victory for the cavalry. The rebels were trying to cut off the city's water supply. The cavalry lost six men killed and fifteen wounded. The casualties of the rebels are not known.

The government troops have been carrying on a systematic campaign against the rebels holding the kopjes outside the city.

The rebels suffered a severe defeat at Brixton Ridge Sunday morning. In addition to heavy casualties they lost 1,500 in prisoners.

A member of a Boer commando, assisting government forces at Krugersdorp, was seized and shot dead.

OUTBREAK FEARED FAILS TO HAPPEN

LONDON, March 12.—The wave of violence which has been feared might sweep India as a result of the arrest of Mohandas Gandhi, chief nationalist leader, and his colleagues, has failed to materialize, according to dispatches from India today. Only one minor outbreak was reported.

A dispatch from Lahore to the Daily Telegraph said Gandhi welcomed arrest as a protection against overzealous followers who were insisting upon an aggressive campaign against British rule.

The same dispatch reported a slight outbreak in the village of Udaipur, in the Haridwar district, where policemen killed two Indians. The police had been surrounded by threatening mob.

Gandhi and Shankar Lal have expressed willingness to plead guilty to sedition when placed on trial. They already have had a preliminary hearing, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay.

INLOW SAID TO BE CHOICE FOR OIL INSPECTOR

Crawfordville Man Reported Successor to Warfel as Chief of Bureau.

Governor Warren T. McCray has decided to appoint as chief of the new oil division of Crawfordville Light and Power Company, as chief clerk of the bureau of oil inspection, according to reports at the State house.

Inlow has been active in Montgomery County Republican politics although he has not held elective office. He was formerly deputy county auditor.

Mr. Inlow would succeed Edward F. Warfel as head of the oil inspection department, which is under the supervision of the State board of health.

Gov. McCray declared some time ago that he would appoint a successor to Mr. Warfel. Mr. Warfel was an appointee of Governor James P. Goodrich.

McCray administration. He was appointed head of the department when it was reorganized by the Legislature.

John Brown of Brazil, former mayor of that city, was offered the appointment some time ago, but finally declined it.

Governor McCray was out of the city and his office could not verify the report that Mr. Inlow had been given the appointment.

treaty. I shall vote against this treaty because, if any foreign alliance can ever speak to this country with the word 'must,' then the spirit which made this country a safe haven for the world will have departed from it and our record in history will be that what we dared when we were weak, we feared to face when we were strong."

But they found themselves in the four-power treaty with the Democratic Senators whom they fought in the long struggle over the league. Their present antagonists were the Republican Senators with whom they joined in preventing ratification of the Versailles pact.

The whirlwind of politics had changed their position. The Republicans had to abate their unyielding hostility to what they construed as "entangling foreign entanglements and alliances."

It was the intention of Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, to wait until the opposition to the four-power treaty had failed itself out and then press for a final vote on ratification before the end of the week if possible.

Both Lodge and Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, still claimed to have enough votes to ratify the pact by a small margin, one of the craters on which the fight was being waged.

But with Borah, Johnson and LaFollette aided and abetted by equally experienced debaters on the Democratic side, like Reed of Missouri and Robinson of Arkansas, the Democrats were added to the list of missing ones, both being compelled to return home by the pressure of private business. Standfield is for the treaty; Jones against it.

Muncie Police Hunt 3 Youthful Bandits

MUNCIE, Ind., March 12.—Authorities were unable today to find any trace of three bandits, described as young men, who late Saturday night slightly wounded D. C. Upton, a suburban resident, when he refused to hold up his hands at their command. The men entered the store as Upton was counting his day's receipts.

Instead of obeying their command, Upton grabbed a gun and started shooting. The robbers, after firing one volley, ran from the store and escaped in a waiting automobile. One of the shots struck Upton in the arm.

'Flu' Epidemic Practically Over

Dr. Herman G. Morgan, secretary of the city board of public health, believed today that the pneumonia-influenza epidemic is practically at an end despite the fact that there were ten deaths from these causes reported Saturday and Sunday.

In the past four days the daily death report has shown a fluctuation from one to nine and one to ten deaths. This indicates that the epidemic has reached the waning stage and will press the end, Dr. Morgan said.

New Ray Will Wreck Warships and Cure Disease

California Scientist Announces Discovery of Real Importance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 12.—Fiction again has been made by fact if the assertions of Edgar G. Hollingshead, Pasadena scientist and electrical engineer, hold good.

He announced here today the discovery of a radio-active ray that can cure disease or destroy battleships or cities at will. The new ray has far greater speed and penetrating power than any yet discovered, Hollingshead claims, and works miracles on all forms of matter. Some of his remarkable claims are:

It increases or reduces weight of metals.

Penetrates eleven and one-half inches of solid steel.

Makes rocks as transparent as water.

At its highest rate, disintegrates the heaviest substance so that it passes away into air.

Unlike radium, which radiates in all directions at one speed, the new ray can be controlled as to speed and direction.

The discovery, according to Hollingshead, has led to other startling scientific discoveries, including:

Force cannot have weight within itself. The law of cohesion has a third and smaller unit, the Anti-Saloon League.

Gravity is stronger in daytime than at night because of the sun's influence.

This accounts, Hollingshead states, for clocks running faster at night than by day.

When the American people under the stress and distractions of war, permitted the eighteenth amendment to be inflicted upon the people by the Anti-Saloon League, they got something they little bargained for and are sick of the bargain, is the view expressed by Joseph P. Turk, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress on a wet platform, in answer to a denunciation of his candidacy by E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, Saturday.

In part, Mr. Turk's statement said: "The majority of the people are sorry for what they permitted to be done to them, I think. The people wanted to get rid of the saloon, which had come to be an abomination in their eyes, and that is what they thought was meant by prohibition." But the people have found out—or at least are fast finding out—they have gotten something that they little bargained for, and that is a prohibition which is an attempt to regulate their private lives, even to the pursuit of the citizen into the once sanctified of his own home. The people do not like that.

"Personally, I am tired of having my private life regulated by statutes proposed and enacted as the result of a condition of public opinion, which is organized and promoted by wild-eyed theorists and professional reformers, and I am quite sure there are thousands of others who are as tired as I am and who earnestly desire the repeal of the well-ordered government contented by the founders of the republic."

"The so-called 'average' man—at least those of them—deeply resent the prohibition laws as they are now enforced. They want to have the right to drink what they desire, while the average man is compelled to satisfy himself with poisonous bootleg concoctions which he is forced to drink, and which are a life-long curse to him. The average man says that if the prohibition works, and he is very sure about it."

City councilmen who inspected the city hospital with Dr. W. H. Foreman of the board of public health and Dr. Richard A. Poole, superintendent of the hospital, Sunday morning are not convinced a bond issue of $50,000 for the erection of additional buildings should be approved, President Theodore J. Bernd of the council, said today. Councilmen John King, Heydon Buchanan, Ira L. Bramm, and Ben H. Thompson were to be inspecting party with the president.

The councilmen believe, Mr. Bernd said, $50,000 would pay for all additions needed at the present time. The board of public health has proposed a new unit for patients be built west of the two present Bardsall units and a nurses' home and administration building in the northeast corner of the hospital grounds. An ordinance authorized a bond issue of $50,000 with which to do this is pending in the council. The health board contends a fine home for nurses is one of the most needed improvements for the hospital. It is getting student nurses to enter the hospital school under present "abominable housing conditions."
