Gompers Writes Headquarters of Interest in Worthy Object.

The American Federation of Labor will assist the American Legion in finding jobs for 700,000 unemployed veterans of the World War, it was indicated in a letter received today at legion national headquarters from Samuel Gompers, president of the federation.

"There is a most worthy object," Mr. Gompers stated. "You know, however, that the membership of the American Federation of Labor is composed of wage earners only. While our membership cannot give employment to the unemployed members of the American Legion, there is no doubt that every encouragement will be given to the legion about the desired result. Thousands of members of the American Legion are also members of the trade unions and the sympathy of the wage earners will go out to those who did so much for not only our own country, but for the entire world."

The legion's campaign for jobs will culminate in American Legion Employment day, March 20. Twelve Governors have issued proclamations requesting citizens to observe the day.

WIFE TESTIFIES AT HUSBAND'S MURDER TRIAL

Says Brother-in-Law Broke Up
Sanctity of Her Home Life.

Special to The Times.

WILLIAMSPORT, Ind., March 14.—Mrs. Ralph Ross testifying today in her husband's murder trial, corroborated his story of how he was driven to kill his brother Claude, because the latter had violated the sanctity of her home.

She told a story of how she had unsuccessfully resisted one assault of Claude a day before the murder. She said he had come into her home and was away from home and that she had fought him away until she was exhausted. She finally was overcome, she said.

The next day she told her husband. He stood outside the little home the next night and saw the scene re-enacted. Later when Claude left the place, Ralph obtained a 45-caliber automatic revolver and went to the Marshall garage where Claude was working.

Two shots sent Claude to the floor in death's agony. Bending over him, Ralph fired a third shot through his jaw, muttering: "There I guess that will hold you for a while."

SAYS RAILWAYS FAIL TO CONFER WITH WORKERS

Jewell Charges Majority of Roads Disregard Terms of Transportation Act.

CHICAGO, March 14.—It was indicated today that United States Labor Board may have to rule a number of roads out of the present wage hearing under the assaults of the shop crafts.

B. M. Jewell, president of the shop crafts, today paved the way for submission of evidence to show that in a majority of cases the roads had not held wage conferences with workers under terms of the transportation act.

"The roads planned to create disputes that this board could and would not settle," said Mr. Jewell. "They did not try to reach agreements as required by the law."

The roads are following a cut-and-dried program laid out by a small committee of the American Railway Executives' Association. In many cases the officials attending the conferences did not have authority to make agreements. Officials did not attempt to make agreements which might have been done as in the case of the brotherhoods, but created disputes.

"If honest efforts were made by both parties, wage agreements could be reached, as I am informed has been done in the case of the train service men."

BANKERS SAY CHANGE NEEDED IN TAX PLANS

State Board Asked to Make Alterations in Basis of Values.

The State board of tax commissioners has before it today the question of changing the basis of valuation of banks following a request for a change made by a committee of the Indiana State Bankers Association yesterday afternoon.

The banks want taxation based upon capital, undivided profits, and surplus, whereas, the tax board has heretofore held that that method does not result in an equitable basis of taxation, according to William C. Harrison, secretary.

VARYING BANK STOCKS.

Under the present system bank stock is assessed for purposes of taxation approximately at its market value, Mr. Harrison said. It is obvious, declared, that the value of bank stock varies.

The Bankers Association claims that the State tax board is placing a restriction on individual initiative and ability and that in fact banks are being taxed on their earning power much in the manner of an income tax. This, members of the board of tax commissioners say, is much the same as taxation of any kind which imposes taxes upon those able to pay.

DECLARED MR. HARRISON.

"Any tax is a tax on thrift and energy," the former or property owner who keeps things in good repair, makes improvements, increases the value of that property, and consequently pays more taxes than his less thrifty neighbor who neglects his property.

The controversy is one of long standing and according to members of the board, no action is contemplated at the present time, looking toward a change.

The committee representing the Bankers Association was composed of Frank D. Stalnaker, chairman; Ralph Payne, Rushville; Eben H. Wolcott, city; John Norris, Fairmount; and Elmer W. Stout, city.

MILITARISTS ARE TRYING TO GAIN HOLD IN INDIA

War Advocates Seek Control of Gandhi's Peaceful Revolt Movement.

BY J. W. T. MASON.
(Written for the United Press.)

The militarists of India are trying to gain control of Mahatma Gandhi's peaceful revolutionary movement. Their purpose is to fire the entire north and middle east with Pan-Islamic hostilities.

If Gandhi's passive resistance agitation can be changed by Mohammedan and Hindu to active warfare, the British rule in India will be threatened. The Mohammedans have been expelled finally from Europe except for the Constantinople district and their retreat to an extinction point in Central Asia must be halted quickly or not at all.

For this reason the Pan-Islamic leaders are stirring up strife at every point where Mohammedans and Christians are face to face. There is complete cooperation among the followers of the prophet in every land. The latest evidence of the extent of the movement is the uprising against the Italians in Tripoli, making the whole of North Africa coast the scene of Pan-Islamic strategy.

Beside the Tripolitan war, the Mohammedans in Morocco are battling against Spain and in Egypt the British rule is being resisted under Pan-Islamic direction. In Asia Minor, the Mohammedans and the Greeks are adding to the conflict between the Crescent and the Cross.

But these are all comparatively minor affairs. The Pan-Islamic leaders know their only possible ground for winning major success is in India. They have gained there, the Christians elsewhere might be forced to retreat. The Indian Mohammedans are doing all they can to encourage cooperation with Gandhi's Buddhists, who outnumber the Mohammedans in India, five to one. There is no natural affinity between the two sects. Rather, antipathy, for Buddhists fight to fight, while the Mohammedans are warlike.

But the Mohammedans are baring their contempt, because they wish to make use of Gandhi for "Pan-Islamic purposes." If Gandhi is deceived, the Koran will have its chance to conquer.

Art Display to Be on View Tomorrow.

The representative collection of Indiana artists which represents eight artists' contributions to the Indiana Bureau of Fine Arts, will be put on display Wednesday morning in a Meridian street window of the L. Richards, Clifton A. Whelan, Guyman Adams, George E. C. Smith, C. C. Steele, William Forsyth and John E. Bundy. The exhibit will remain in the window during the week, and at the end of that time the works of art will go to the highest bidder, and the proceeds will go to buy food for stricken Russia.

19-YEAR FIGHT OVER LAND NOW IN U. S. COURT

Establishment of Steel Mills
Makes Worthless Tract Valuable.

After nineteen years of litigation in the State courts over the ownership of 170 acres of land three miles east of Gary, the case finally has found its way to Federal Court and is being heard before Judge Albert B. Anderson today. Charles H. Stebbins of Chicago and John S. Putnam of Brookline, Mass., are plaintiffs and are asking to have their right to the land established by virtue of deeds held by them as against Drusilla Carr of Gary, who claims it by right of adverse possession of more than twenty years.

The litigation arose following the establishment of the great steel mills at Gary, which turned what had been regarded generally as worthless waste of sand into valuable tracts of real estate.

Three times the case has been fought out in the lower courts during these nineteen years and three times it has gone to the Appellate Court of Indiana only to be sent back each time.

The contention of the defense is the holders of deeds to the property took no steps to assert their ownership, but Drusilla Carr held it for more than twenty years and thereby obtained ownership through the doctrine of adverse possession.

Some idea of the rapid growth of land values in the dune territory adjoining Gary may be gathered from the fact in 1903 the land was assessed at $27 an acre, that in 1920 the taxes for the entire tract amounted to $67.54, while the complaint in the present case states the land is now worth $150 an acre.

Mr. Schopp did not know if the movement for freedom of the knees was responsible for the fact that more than 300 men played on the course yesterday.

Harry Schopp, golf professional at South Grove, nonchalantly remarked to R. Walter Jarvis, superintendent of parks this morning, that all the ladies kept playing on the course are wearing knickerbockers.

One department store informant said, he said, that more than thirty women who played at South Grove, had bought golf pants in the last few days.

Mr. Schopp did not know if the movement for freedom of the knees was responsible for the fact that more than 300 men played on the course yesterday.

Take Care of Your Cough

Guard against Grippe, "Flu" and Pneumonia—Rub Musterole on Throat, Chest and Back

Grippe, Influenza and treacherous Pneumonia all start with a cold, so guard against these dangers before your cold gets deeply seated.

At the first signs of a cold (which is just congestion) bring your circulation back to normal by rubbing Musterole on your throat, chest and back. Musterole is a counter-irritant which warms up the body quickly and sets the blood surging through the congested parts.

Remember the good old-fashioned mustard plaster that was grand mother's standby? Musterole has all of the good qualities of that messy old mustard plaster without the sting and blister.

Made of pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, it penetrates the pores and goes straight to the seat of trouble. During the "Flu" epidemic several years ago, Musterole was used in our army training camps and the Y. M. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to our soldiers in France.

All druggists; 35c and 65c jars and tubes. Hospital size, $3.00.

'DEAD ONES' ARE ATTESTED FOR JURY SERVICE

Judge T. J. Moll Sends Some Pertinent Advice to Commission.

The Marion County jury commissioners today were urged in a letter sent by Judge T. J. Moll of Superior Court, Room 5, to take "extra care" in certifying to sheriff the names of men drawn for jury service.

Judge Moll explains himself as follows in the letter to the jury commissioners: "You will recall that in my recent request for a jury of thirty to report today, I urged that so far as possible persons who are deceased, have removed from the county or are otherwise notoriously ineligible, be excluded from the venire. The experience of the several judges in the past was verified and repeated in the return to this summons of jurors today. Of the thirty drawn, one had died, seven were reported 'not found,' several having removed, six were exempt on account of old age, one is a public officer, another a practicing physician, one had been drawn for jury service in this county already in 1922, seven in all. Of the remainder all sought to be excused except three. Six substitutes had to be called to make up the panel of twelve. This recital is not made as a criticism of your administration, but merely as a simple statement of the almost insuperable difficulties that confront the judges in their endeavor to get competent jurors."

"Although mere business excuses or personal considerations are not considered, not a few of those eligible for jury duty do have valid reasons for being relieved when they happen to be drawn. All of which emphasizes the necessity of my former request that in drawing and adopting lists of men for juries, extra care should be exercised to certify to the sheriff the names of those known to you, gentlemen, to be eligible."

One of the problems of the local courts is to obtain jurymen who are qualified to serve.

After twenty-six years of continuous service as secretary of the State board of health, Dr. J. N. Hurty will quit and enter private life as a physician. First, however, Dr. Hurty is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the House of Representatives from this county, at the primary May 2.

"I hope to do what good I can. As a member of the Legislature I believe I can make use of the knowledge and experience gained in this work, to benefit the State," he said.

"I am not a young man any more and I have no ambitions for fame, wealth or power. All I hope to be able to do is something for the benefit of the people."

"Twenty-six years is long enough here. I intended to resign after finishing my twenty-fifth year, but I could not because of unwholesome work. If I am elected I will make no trades, but will support every measure that appeals to my knowledge, judgment and conscience."

Dr. Hurty's resignation will become effective Sept. 30, it was stated, regardless of whether he wins a nomination to the General Assembly.

Dr. Hurty's work, by virtue of which his name has become almost a household word throughout Indiana, began under the administration of Governor Claude Matthews, at a time when the department of health functioned to a very limited degree. There were then two divisions. In twenty-six years the board of health has grown from two to fifteen divisions.

During the years which Dr. Hurty has been secretary the political complexion of the State has changed many times, but Dr. Hurty's place was undisputed by the Republicans or Democrats.

Dr. Hurty is the author of practically every piece of health legislation placed on the statute books of Indiana in a quarter of a century.

The appropriation for the State board of health when Dr. Hurty assumed the place as secretary was $4,000 a year and his salary was $1,200. While only part of his time was expected, Dr. Hurty gave his entire time to the work. The present yearly appropriation is $147,000.

Salem D. Clark, Democrat, 2541 North New Jersey street, will be a candidate for the nomination for the judgeship in Superior Court, room 1.
