

THREE ASPIRE TO DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMANSHIP

Russel J. Ryan, James J. Moriarity and Joseph C. Manning in Race.

With three candidates actively in the race for the Democratic county chairmanship, Democratic affairs in Marion County are showing more signs of life than for a long time past.

Russel J. Ryan, one of the best-known of the younger Democrats; James J. Moriarity, an aggressive, militant Democrat of the old school, and Joseph C. Manning, who has been connected actively with local party affairs for a number of years, are the three candidates for the position.

Moriarity's backers come largely from the old anti-Bell faction of the party, and behind his candidacy there is an interesting story going the rounds. This story has it when he first considered entering the race, some of his friends approached Joseph E. Bell, former mayor, to discover what his attitude would be toward the Moriarity candidacy. Bell is reported to have said, while he had nothing personal against Moriarity, he thought a younger man should be selected. When this word reached Moriarity, he was so pleased, he said he would show the whole crowd he was just as aggressive as any younger man and had many a good fight left in him. He announced his candidacy immediately.

BUSH AMONG MORIARITY MEN.
Among his most active supporters are Dennis J. Bush and Jack Dunn, the Ninth ward politician. Around Moriarity have rallied many of the strongest of the anti-Bell leaders of a few years ago, men wise in political ways, and they are making a hard and intelligent fight for the election of precinct committeemen at the May primary favorable to Moriarity's candidacy.

Behind Manning are lined-up Thomas A. Riley, member of the State Industrial board, his business associate William Feeney, who was defeated for the city chairmanship by Thomas Meeker a year ago, William Gibson and their friends. In many quarters it is believed the fact Riley, ever since his term as county clerk expired, has been beneficiary of appointments conferred by Republican city and State administrations, will have an adverse effect on the Manning candidacy.

Opponents of Manning are arguing Riley held a position on the board of public works during the Jewett administration and, even before his term of office expired, was named a member of the Industrial board by Governor Warren T. McCray. They insist to name county chairmen backed by the Riley forces would favor too highly of making the Democratic county organization nothing more than the tail of the Republican kite.

MANNING FORCES ARE OPTIMISTIC.
The Manning forces are growing more active and are displaying considerable confidence in the outcome of the fight.

Russel J. Ryan was brought out by a number of the younger Democrats of the city in an effort to inject new blood into the county organization. He was selected after a careful canvass of the entire field of available material had been made, and his backers say he represents a new deal in local Democratic affairs, since he is not affiliated with any faction, nor interested in any factional differences or personal political feuds of the past.

There is no doubt his candidacy has made considerable headway since he entered the race about two weeks ago. At all events, Democrats seem to have awakened in Marion County and are displaying more interest in the triangular race for the county chairmanship than they have in any party contest for many years.
