 The Indians Association club made the most straight victories against the Tulsa Western League team yesterday in the last road game for the Indians exhibition tour, winning by a score of 5 to 3. Harry Weaver and Lee Bartlett set the opposition down with rare consistency while the defense and offense of the Indians was winning the game. The victory yesterday gave the Indians their fifth victory of seven starts during the exhibition tour in Tulsa and Oklahoma. Owner Smith and Manager Hendricks are confident that the team is in the best condition one could wish for and that it will be in the running for the Association pennant from the start with the best chance in years to be a contender all season.

Only five athletes were obtained off the delivery of the two Indian pitchers. Bartlett was hit safely, but on one occasion the Indians youngster let up that time. Bartlett was the mound for the final five innings and the Tulsa club was unable to cross the plate during that period. Weaver also appeared to advantage while working against the Tulsa leaguers and aside from the four innings when he was unable to control his hook ball, the Tulsa boys were equally as timid as they were with Lee Hendricks. The Tribe added three home runs to their long-distance hitting record. Hendricks, Krueger and Morrison taking the Tulsa club over the border yesterday. Krueger and Morrison have hit quite regularly this spring.

Bartlett found his hitting eye yesterday and put over three hits, two of which accounted for two-runners and came in the midst of scoring.

Paddy Bauman again starred for the Tulsa club. The Indians pitcher played the role of a hero yesterday. The Tulsa boys were on the last furling of the trip home and was to arrive home this afternoon. The club hustled from the Tulsa ball park to an awaiting Pullman and was on its way home shortly after the Tulsa fans had vacated the ball yard.

NOTES OF THE TRIBE.
 The Indians have been away from Indianapolis since March 5 and have been engaged in continuous practice and preparation work every day since that time. With the exception of an occasional half holiday granted them by Manager Hendricks, they have been working hard. Only two men in this time are under the weather and might be called crippled, which includes Lee Hendricks and Eddie Brown, both of whom are out of the line. Hendricks is a pitcher, and Brown is a catcher, and both are in the line of the Tulsa club as a part of the Shiner's deal with Manager McGraw.

Spencer sustained a torn ligament in his right knee and was out of the line for several days. He is now in good shape and is expected to be in the line for the Tulsa game. The Tulsa club is expected to be in the line for the Tulsa game. The Tulsa club is expected to be in the line for the Tulsa game.

Cal Crum, suspended pitcher of the Tulsa club, was hit at his visit at their hotel in Tulsa Saturday. Crum is working in Tulsa and appears to be in good health. He was one of the players who jumped to the Tulsa club and has paid the penalty by being suspended from playing in organized baseball.

ALL-STAR INFIELD LAYOUT OF INDIANS

If Manager Jack Hendricks of the Indians was as satisfied with all other departments of the 1922 team as he is of the infield everything would be roses for the gray-thatched pilot. The innerworkings can field, hit and display speed on the paths. Every man is good in his position and all told the layout is rated the best infield line-up in the American Association. Baird at third is the league's leading base thief, a good fielder and good hitter; Schreiber at short is of near major class and good in all departments; Sicking at second is a flashy batter, fair base runner and a fair batsman, while Covington, at first

YALE, HARVARD, PRINCETON TALK, BUT DON'T GET ANYWHERE

BY HENRY FARRELL.
 NEW YORK, April 3.—Yale, Harvard and Princeton—the well-known "big three"—still figure that intercollegiate sport has to be saved. They differ on methods, but they agree that it must be saved.

Harvard breaks forth with the brilliant idea that the problem could be solved if the Federal government men could be barred from the stadiums at the big games. However, the day was passed when some bright light made it known that several years ago Harvard had offered to the other colleges in the country to write anything about the Yale-Harvard game. They couldn't understand why any newspaperman would write down such a thing. It also was pointed out that troops might be needed at the gates to keep out the arches, but since the head coach came out and said that "common sense" instead of high school football would cure any evils if they did exist.

Yale stands high at Yale and the bright minds of the campus could hardly be expected to be in a hurry to clean up. Bill Roper also pointed out that Princeton boys get about cleaning up.

Umbles Defeats Donahue in Wrestling Bout at Tomlinson Hall Show

Indianapolis can boast of a colored athlete of exceptional ability. This man is Lee Umbles, who defeated Jack Donahue of Norfolk, Nebraska, in a white wrestling bout at Tomlinson Hall in the main event of a wrestling carnival Saturday night.

Umbles, known as "The Panther," serves the name as far as aggressiveness goes, but he is called the "cat" when his method of escaping from an opponent's hold is described. Donahue, a 170-pounder, was a good wrestler, but Umbles showed speed, cleverness and a knowledge of the mat game that proved him to be a dangerous grappler.

In the first fall Umbles won by securing a leg lock on Donahue and pinning him to the mat. The time was 34 seconds and 43 seconds. The wrestling bout was held at Tomlinson Hall in the main event of a wrestling carnival Saturday night.

NET OFFICIALS SUGGEST OPEN MEETING WITH H. S. AUTHORITIES

BY VEDDER GARD.
 At a recent meeting of the Indiana Basketball Officials' Association a plan was brought up and discussed that may mean much toward a better understanding of the game. The plan was to have a meeting of the high school net officials and the coaches and athletic directors who engage in the game. There are always numerous suggestions being offered as to the betterment of the popular Indiana game, not that the hardcourt competition especially needs any drastic changes, but because there is always room for improvement, no matter how well any sport is conducted.

The suggestion of the Indiana officials is for a meeting of their organization with the board of the I. H. S. A. Just before the basketball season starts, preferably in October at the general meeting of the high school association. There is nothing that clears up any situation as much as an open discussion of the various problems that come up. It is thought that a meeting between referees and officials of the State Association would do much to encourage a mutual understanding. The basketball officials could obtain the opinions of the high school authorities on the officiating end of the game, and vice versa, the men who work the game could state their viewpoints. Schedules also could be arranged at this time.

It is admitted by all that good, conscientious, intelligent work by the men with the whistles is absolutely essential for the welfare of the popular sport. The referee with clear judgment is needed to steer a contest through the forty minutes of close combat. In some cases poor officiating spoils a good contest. But, on the other hand, if everything does not go just right, the unthinking fans usually blame the "goat" whose other name is "the bum out there on the floor."

But there is another side to the question. It is not strange that the referee may think he has not to blame. And stranger still, in some cases, he may not be. There is a vast difference in the attitude of referees, coaches and fans. The attitude of some fans is wrong.

STATE SCHOOLS HIT BY RULING

Big Ten Prohibits Members From Meeting Teams Playing Freshmen.

One of the rulings made at the meeting of the Western Conference, athletic authorities in Chicago Saturday may check the sport of several football schedules in this State, at least. Beginning on Sept. 1, the conference decided that no conference member should be permitted to schedule a game with a team of freshmen. This would prohibit Indiana and Purdue from scheduling games with teams of freshmen. The other schools of the State except Notre Dame and the two Big Ten colleges and the South Bend school are the only schools that do not allow freshmen to compete in athletics.

Some years ago the rule was side-stepped by scheduling contests with teams that were not freshmen, but were not intended for the purpose of playing. This situation may prevail again.

A general tightening of the rules was the result of the Big Ten meeting. In general, the schools were disappointed, but will not influence the grid games scheduled for this year.

When an athlete graduates from one Big Ten institution to another, hereafter, he must attend the new institution for two years before being eligible for intercollegiate competition.

The amateur rule governing baseball was made more drastic by forbidding college players to be members of teams where admission is charged.

After this year athletes will be permitted to play in only two sports, if favorable action is taken at the Conference meeting in June on a resolution proposed by the University of Michigan. According to the proposed rule, an athlete would not be allowed to play both football and baseball, cross-country running and track work were considered one sport.

The conference also voted to normalize and enlarge the list of eligible conference colleges and passed the recommendation of the faculty of the Big Ten basketball officials who work in professional games shall be dropped from the list of eligible colleges. The committee decided there was already a rule providing that no student is eligible for athletic competition if he prolongs his graduation.

EARLY ACTION FOR PAGEMEN

This Week Calls for Games With Indians and Franklin.

The Butler College baseball team will crack open the season this week in big league style, being scheduled to play the Indians at Washington Park following Saturday afternoon at Washington Park. Following the game, the college team will play the Franklin team at Washington Park. The game is expected to be a pretty big jump for so early in the year, but each game has had its men working out a long time. The Butler followers are confident that the Blue and the White will give a good account of itself this week.

Inclement weather has slowed the work-out on Irving field to a considerable extent, but Butler players got the jump on other college teams in the matter of early practice and are probably in better condition than time than any of their Indiana contemporaries. The squad was divided Saturday afternoon into two teams. The first team was to play the Indians at Washington Park, and the second team was to play the Franklin team at Washington Park. The game is expected to be a pretty big jump for so early in the year, but each game has had its men working out a long time. The Butler followers are confident that the Blue and the White will give a good account of itself this week.

Hoppe's Manager Talks

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—Commenting on the announcement Saturday night of the retirement of Willie Hoppe, from the St. Louis Cardinals, Manager Benji Hughson charged that "commercialism in the billiard game made it impossible for the ex-champion to compete for his lost title within eighteen months or two years."

Primarily, Willie feels that he has reached the age where his first duty is to his family. "Benjamin's statement that 'for nearly four years he has been touring the world giving exhibitions. Furthermore, he has been very dissatisfied with the manner in which the championship contests have been conducted during recent years.'"

Benjamin declared that a billiard firm had "commercialized the game," adding that the ex-champion's recent defeat by Schaefer had not stimulated his decision to retire. Hoppe and Benjamin were to depart for New York today, where they expect to make arrangements for the future.

Romney Ineligible

CHICAGO, April 3.—Milton Romney, captain-coach of the University of Chicago football team, has been declared ineligible. He took part in different branches of athletics for two years at the University of Utah and one at the Midway. His case was presented to the Conference faculty committee, which met here Saturday, and that body ruled he is not eligible for further competition.

COAST BOER DIES

ENGINEER, Ore. April 3.—George Tetzel, of Brownsville, Ore., died early Sunday morning of injuries received in a boxing bout with Carl Miller of Eugene Saturday night. Tetzel lost consciousness soon after the referee had ended the bout to save him further punishment and never regained it. Physicians said that a blood vessel in his brain had been ruptured. Tetzel leaves a widow.

Spring Grid Work Commences Today in Scarlet Camp

Baseball Squad to Play Pre-Season Games With Semi-Pro Teams.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., April 3.—Spring football, something new in the way of sports here, was scheduled to start at Washah this afternoon. Coach Vaughan made a call for all candidates to the 1922 grid squad and more than fifty were expected to answer the initial summons. Football men, now members of the baseball squad, are exempt. This includes Captain Kessler, Goldberry and Thorn, all regulars.

The Little Giant ball tossers probably will add another chapter to their story in a practice game here at the last of next week. The Coach will take over Indiana's schedule next week.
