Blind Musician Has Played Church Pipe Organ for Nearly 25 Years

Charles F. Hansen, Although Blind at Birth, Reflects Sunshine of Spiritual Nature in All of His Compositions.

By THE VISITOR.

Hands directed by eyes that never see the sunshine streaming through the beautiful windows of the Second Presbyterian Church at Pennsylvania and Vermont streets, produces the beautiful sacred melody heard on Sundays for nearly twenty-five years at this church.

Charles F. Hansen, 55, has been blind all of his life, but by devoting himself to years of study has overcome his terrible handicap, until today he is recognized as one of the most finished organists of the country.

Although Mr. Hansen has never seen the sunlight of a beautiful summer day, nor has he beheld the splendors of the rainbow, yet he lives in a land of everlasting spiritual sunshine. His love of sacred music has brightened his sightless existence to such an extent that he admits he is always happy.

"The world doesn't want to see ugliness and sadness, but wants us to put on a smile," he said as he played the organ at the Second Presbyterian Church the other morning while The Visitor halted the blind professor in the middle of a music lesson.

Then he put a smile into the big orator and so great was the smile that the auditorium was flooded with the sparkle of delightful melody. The organ seemed to sing a wonderful sermon of hope and love as the fingers of this blind man played over the keys.

The organ bowed to the touch of the master as it increased in volume and then as suddenly the organ became an echo as the melody trailed away.

He laughed as he completed the selection and said: "This is an old organ, dates back to 1870, but it has a wonderful tone."

KNOWS MORE THAN 3,000 SACRED SONGS.

Mr. Hansen is able to play on a minute's notice from 2,500 to 3,000 sacred hymns and other church music. He has memorized probably more than 5,000 different organ selections in the years he has been playing.

So wonderfully developed is the memory of Mr. Hansen that he is able to recognize hundreds of songs in the books used during the church services at the Second Presbyterian Church by the mere announcement of the number.

Many times the Rev. Jan S. Milner, pastor, has announced the page number of a hymn and without waiting to hear the title, Mr. Hansen has begun playing the number.

Mr. Hansen when he desires to learn a new number employs the services of a reader who reads the notes from the lowest up and in that way the blind organist "sees" the notes.

The prayer hymn will be, "Jesus I My Cross Have Taken."

Cap. Joe Edwards will give the Men's Bible Class a talk on "Virtue Has Its Own Rewards," Sunday morning.

THE REV. H. W. MYRICK will lecture at the Progressive Spiritualist church, Capitol and North streets, Sunday at 7:45 p. m. on "How and Why I Became a Spiritualist."

ELABORATE SERVICES have been planned for the laying of the corner stone Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the new auditorium of Centenary Christian Church at Eleventh and Oxford streets, according to the Rev. J. J. Montgomery, pastor. The auditorium will be completed in the summer.

"THOUGHTS ON NATURE" AND "A SPRINGTIME SERMON" will be the subjects of the Rev. Edwin Cunningham, pastor of the Universalist Church at Fifteenth and New Jersey streets.

THE REV. JAMES D. STANLEY, rector of Christ Episcopal Church on the Circle, who has been visiting for several months in Eastern cities, has returned to this city and will occupy the pulpit Sunday, according to the Rev. J. J. Montgomery, pastor of the Universalist Church at Fifteenth and New Jersey streets.

"EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY"

"JESUS IS THE CHRIST" will be the Sunday morning subject of the Rev. L. C. Fackler of St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church. At night he will deliver an illustrated sermon. The quarterly conference will be held following the morning service. The Ladies League will meet on Tuesday night at the home of Miss Edna Platt, 1028 Willow Drive.

About the same method is used when Mr. Hansen composes as he dictates the melody in about the same manner that a business man would dictate a letter.

During the vacation period in the summer, Mr. Hansen generally goes East to hear concerts and organ recitals. He is a lover of grand opera and often goes to Chicago during the opera season.

GOES TO THE THEATRE TO "SEE" A STAGE PLAY.

During the regular season of English's and the Murat, Mr. Hansen is often seen in the audience. He is accompanied by a friend who reads the program and the acts to him.

"In that way, I am able to follow the play and I generally know just how the entire performance looks," he said. "I love the stage, of course, I can't get anything out of the movies and when I as he has time to instruct. He also has appeared in many recitals in this city and in other important musical centers. He is often invited to "open" or dedicate a new church organ.

He now is completing plans for the publication of a number of his compositions.

Orbison to Help Near East Relief

C. J. Orbison, attorney and former Superior Court judge, has accepted the chairmanship of a local appeal to be made by Near East Relief in behalf of Armenian orphans.

Mr. Orbison will form a committee of citizens to function in the city and county. Dates for sounding the appeal have not yet been fixed.

"I know of no other cause quite so appealing as this call of thousands of children of the Near East," said Mr. Orbison. "I am told in one orphanage there is an assemblage of 15,000 children of the average age of 11 years. The pitiable part of it is thousands of children cannot be admitted to orphanages because of lack of funds to feed and house them."

Funeral Truck Hits Bit of Bad Street

Inchells Willis, undertaker, and Roy Cottman, 910 West Twenty-Sixth street, negroes, were slightly injured when an automobile funeral truck, driven by Willis, hit a telephone pole, at Twenty-Fifth street and Boulevard place early today. The machine struck a hole in the pavement causing Willis to lose control, run over the curb and hit a telephone pole breaking it in two places. The machine was upset and damaged. The two men were on their way to Cottman's home where the latter's mother had died.

PLESIOSAURUS NOW IN PERIL

New Argentine Official May Declare Season Open.

BUENOS AIRES, April 22.—One effect of the resignation of Senator Fomez, the minister of the interior, will probably be the annulment by his successor, Francisco Beltrame, of the locally famous order issued by Secretary Gomez safeguarding the life of the supposed plesiosaurian monster for which an expedition sent from here March 23, is to search.

Professor Onelli, director of the natural history museum, who, despite much ridicule, has not lost faith in the existence of some large, strange animal roaming the wilds of Patagonia, said today that he had obtained assurances that the expedition would not be molested by the police of the province of Chubut, within which the search will be prosecuted.

Meanwhile the Buenos Aires orchestras are playing three different new tunes, all dedicated to the supposed plesiosaurus.
