

FIRST GROUP OF PRISONERS MOVE JUNE 1

Will Be Housed in Wooden Barracks at New Site for Reformatory.

PRISON BOARD MEETS

The first contingent of reformatory inmates will be sent to Pendleton, the site of the new reformatory, from a temporary site, about June 1, it was learned today, when members of the reformatory board met with Governor McCreary. It is expected the two-story frame structure, which is to house them, will be completed by that time.

This building is to have two dormitories on the ground floor, accommodating fifty men each, a dining room to seat 100, a recreation room and a kitchen. On the second floor will be quarters for twenty-five officers and foremen. This building can be enlarged, if necessary, it is said. It is being built at the rear of the thirty-acre to be enclosed by a thirty-foot concrete wall. The frame structure is not to be a part of the permanent construction and probably will be used as a shop for the manufacture of small articles after it is vacated as a barracks.

FIRST UNIT IS POWER HOUSE

The first unit to be constructed will be the power plant which is to be placed in the rear of the enclosure. A tunnel will run from the front of the institution to the power house with lateral channels where needed to accommodate water, gas and electricity and all other service mains. The total estimated cost for the power house, the power house and the erection of the wall is $275,000.

The next step, according to present plans of the board, will be the building of one cell house which will be three or four tiers. There will be two such cell houses, flanking the main entrance and their length will be that of sixty cells, two rows and three tiers. It is decided to increase the tiers there will probably be forty-five cells in a row. In either case it is expected to have 300 cells to the block.

Two other cell blocks will radiate at an angle from the inner guards' hall which will be a building 40 by 60 feet and will constitute the actual entrance to the institution. One of these radiating blocks set at 45 degrees to the others will be built on a different plan from the others. Instead of having the cells in the center and the walks between the cells and the outer wall, the walk will be in the center and the cell windows will look through the outer wall of the cell block. The other building will be a dormitory for dormitory to accommodate 200 with a room for moving picture exhibitions upstairs.

WORK ON COST PLUS BASIS

Under the cost plus proposal, work will not be contracted for ahead of the money appropriations. At present the board had appropriated three hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the reformatory, $300,000 appropriated for removal, $300,000 from Colgate & Co., which bought the Jeffersonville plant, and $150,000 in specific appropriations. Material valued at $25,000 from the old institution probably can be salvaged for the new reformatory.

Plans for the buildings have not been made public heretofore. The dining room will occupy the center of the thirty-acre tract. In the rear of the dining room will be the kitchen and the ice plant and cold storage facilities.

On one side a hospital is to be erected and will contain fifty beds, twenty detention cells, the assistant superintendent's office. Other buildings will contain the identification bureau, tailor and printing shops. On the right hand side from the entrance will be the chapel, the school and library building, two vocational training buildings and two industrial buildings.

Recreation grounds and sites for various units of the foundry buildings have been laid out.

The administration building projects from the front wall and in one wing will be the superintendent's office, board of trustees room, office of clerk. Upstairs in one wing of the building will be special rooms with sleeping accommodations for officers.

Tought on Willie, Who Wants Girls to Write to Him

For generations Kentucky boasted of the kick in its famous wild juleps, the speed of its horses and the beauty of its womanhood. Prohibition killed the first, the automobile eclipsed the second, and now hooded girls apparently have taken the place of the Kentucky sisters in the first row of the national beauty show. At least this is the inference postoffice officials draw from a letter received from Somerset, Ky., which reads:

"Dear Sir—I am writing to see if you please send me some of those girls names and address and I pay you. I love to have some friends to write to and if you please send me some girls names and tell them they are a Boy wants their names. My address is Willie Stephens Somerset Ky. So as in a once and send me some names if you please and at once. By-By."

Robert H. Bryson, postmaster, answered the letter and told young Stephens that postal regulations prohibit the giving of names and addresses.

POLICE SEEK MAN WHO WAS RUNNING STILL

Escapes From Second Story Window When Joint Is Raided.

A search was being made by the police today for the bootlegger who escaped by jumping from the second-story window of a house at 1104 East Seventeenth street late yesterday. Federal Officer George Winkler fired one shot at the fugitive as he fled a rear fence.

Sergeant Hudson broke into the East Seventeenth street house and as he rushed in a man who was operating a big still turned the gas on under it in an effort to cause it to explode, then jumped out of an upstairs window and escaped.

Mrs. Josephine Klander, 1704 Alford street, who has charge of the house, told the police the man gave his name as Joe Goldfinger at the time he rented the place.

The place proved to be a combination distillery and factory for the manufacture of whisky stills. The still in which the mash was cooking contained 100 gallons, heated by acetylene gas. The officers also found 400 gallons of mash. Two men told the Federal officers they went to the place a few days ago, thinking it was a tin shop. They were met by a man who threatened them with a revolver. They smelled the white male and tipped the place off to the Federal prohibition officers.

AUTO LIGHTS TO BE TESTED

Police Establish Stations for Safety Week.

Automobile owners have been asked to clean the tail lights and license plates of their cars as provided by law, and in this way cooperate with the police department during safety week. The law provides that the white light of the tail light shall shine on the license plates, so they can be seen at least 100 feet.

Four places will be established by the traffic department where automobile drivers can have their lights tested. These will be at Maple Road Boulevard west of Boulevard place, in the 800 block of North Rural street, at Union and Palmer streets and at Michigan and West streets.

It is also urged by members of the traffic department that all automobile drivers have the brakes on their cars tested. A warning is also given that all automobiles must be equipped with horns of some type.

JAPAN BEGINS SCRAPPING OF BATTLESHIPS

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The work of converting the Japanese superdreadnoughts into auxiliary ships, into an air-ship carrier displacing 27,000 tons is rapidly getting under way, according to reports received here from Tokyo. The Amagi, one of the largest and most powerful ships ever designed by Japanese naval experts, was doomed to be scrapped under the original Hughes naval proposal, but was saved under the removal from the list of warships, which permits conversion of certain capital ships into auxiliary carriers so long as the maximum tonnage allowed under the treaty is not exceeded.

Suspension of work on battleships and battle cruisers being built at Yokosuka and Kure naval arsenals and at private shipbuilding yards at Nagasaki and at Kobe will be followed, it is stated, by the removal from the list of warships of the battleships Kashima, Katori, Satsuma, Aki and Settsu and the cruisers Ikoma, Ibuki and Kurama.

In view of the labor situation at shipbuilding yards where warships were under construction the Japanese Government is making every effort to arrange their scrapping and construction programs in such a manner that the smallest possible number of workers will be thrown out of employment. It is understood that plans for building certain auxiliary ships permitted under the naval treaty will be put in effect at a much earlier date than originally intended, thus doing much to mitigate the unemployment situation. Among those ships likely to be carried through to completion as soon as possible are the light cruisers Otonose, Kawachi, Ayase, Naga, Shikishima and Minase; the gunboats Hira, Seno, Hozon and Katata; the air-ship carrier Kokaku; seven first-class destroyers and ten second-class destroyers.

Auxiliary ships already under construction are the light cruisers Abukuma, Yura, Natori and Kinu; the first-class gunboat Arishima; the special service ship Sado, the first-class destroyer Kazanami and the second-class destroyers Botan, Basho and Sawagata.

Among the ships already launched, but not yet completed, are the airplane carrier Hoshio, the light cruiser Isuzu and the special service ships Tsurumi and Yajiri, the first-class destroyer Nohsue, the second-class destroyers Hama, Hushi and Sumire and six second-class submarines.

Under present plans it is believed there will be a reduction of naval arsenal employees for many months to come.

TROTSKI SAYS RUSSIA WILL MEET DEBTS

Commisar for War Declares Soviets Want Alliance With United States.

MOSCOW, May 17.—Despite the outcome of the Genoa conference, which he expects will fail, Russia will carry out all the international obligations to which she is committed. Leon Trotsky, commissar for war in the soviet government, declared today. He said that Russia is anxious to enter into a commercial agreement with the United States.

"The Moscow government will show American and European capitalists that the soviet republic is an established fact, and that this republic, which is built in accordance with the methods and principles of its founders, must be reckoned with."

"In view of the large resources in the United States, Russia is most interested in reaching an economic understanding with that country. American expansion in Russia may be of a commercial or industrial nature."

"We are anxious for a reduction of armaments in Europe."

Trotsky denied that the Rapallo treaty means a Russo-German entente.

Reverting to American affairs, Trotsky said: "I am unable to interpret the recent statement made by President Harding regarding Russia accurately, but I should like to interpret it in the sense that the Wilsonian traditions regarding Russia are no longer valid and that the American Government desires to reckon anew with the realities of the situation. If this psychological change comes about, then an understanding is sure to follow. 'Unquestionably' Russia will enter into an agreement with Great Britain regarding all rights," continued Trotsky. "That is, if Premier Lloyd George does not listen to the voice of the capitalists."

"40" INDUCES SLEEP

Dr. Humphrey's Number "Forty" is a new idea in medicine and depends for its action on the natural reactions of the body.

Whenever an accident happens, whether a cold or a cut finger, etc., the body reacts to it and eventually overcomes it. If this does not take place every accident might prove fatal.

In Number "Forty" we give a medicine, which, in the crude drug would be a stimulant; but, we give it in such quantity and form, that the stimulating effect is negligible, the reaction commences almost immediately and the person quiets down and goes to sleep.

Since this sleep is not produced by a drug but by the natural reaction to the remedy, the sleep produced is natural, healthy and refreshing, and there can be no danger of "habitu."
