

SHERIFF NABS AUTOISTS IN BOOZE RAID

Get Two Speeders and Arrest Four as Drunks. SEEK TEN OTHERS Broad Ripple Resort Is Target of Clean-Up.

Two alleged speeders and four persons charged with being drunk are under arrest today as a result of a clean-up campaign by Sheriff George Snider at Broad Ripple. The authorities have the license numbers of ten other speeders who will be arrested.

The persons charged with being drunk were arrested at Garden Point, a Broad Ripple resort, Saturday night, and those charged with speeding were said to have been going to or from the resort.

Robert De Vault, Broad Ripple town marshal, assisted Sheriff Snider in the clean-up.

Garden Point is regarded as one of the potential causes of reckless driving by intoxicated autoists in Indianapolis.

The Broad Ripple council has passed an ordinance to take effect June 6, requiring all roadhouses and places of amusement to be closed promptly at midnight.

DISCOURAGE CITY DRINKS. "This practice of the 'drunks' from the city coming out here after the cabarets in the city close is going to be stopped," said Marshall De Vault. "We are faced with the problem of combating this evil every summer. However, since the passage of that ordinance, which I intend to enforce rigidly, I believe it will stop in a measure."

"Every one who comes to Garden Point, man or woman, who is drinking or has liquor 'on him,' will be arrested," declared the marshal.

Garden Point was characterized as a place where the "big boys" gather, by Marshall De Vault.

"We will keep at it until we break it up," said Sheriff Snider today. "Tell them that for me. We will get them if they violate the law."

Sheriff Snider said that the persons who frequented Garden Point usually purchased their liquor in town and took it out there.

As the riding party approached the resort early Sunday morning a party of men and women leaped into a large expensive automobile and drove furiously away. As they escaped they threw from the automobile three plants and a quart of white milk.

The men arrested for drunk gave their names as Carl Morris, who was fined $15 and costs in Squire Mohr's court; John Bechman and Clark Horan each drawing a fine of $10 and costs. George McCarty, arrested at the same time, was fined $20 and costs.

Sheriff Snider and his deputies also investigated reports of a roadhouse at Garden Point, 625 East Randolph avenue, and Norman Heiden, 901 East Morris street.

VIEWS OF WOODSTOCK CLUBHOUSE FIRE

These two unusual views of the Woodstock Country Club yesterday were taken by A. W. Bratton, Jr., a landscape architect, who happened to be near the scene when the alarm was turned in. In the upper picture the camera snapped a falling wall which gave way just as firemen were climbing to the roof of the building. Below the smoke is shown pouring in dense clouds from the roof of the clubhouse, while firemen fight the blaze with water pumper from the canal.

SELECTION OF JURY DELAYS MURDER CASE OF MRS. CLARA CARL

By TIMES STAFF CORRESPONDENT. SHELBYVILLE, Ind., May 22.—Objection on the part of counsel to capital punishment today slowed up efforts of attorneys to obtain a jury in the case of Mrs. Clara Carl who went on trial in Circuit Court here charged with the murder of her husband, Frank Carl.

An invariable question asked prospective jurors by attorneys for the State was as to their attitude on capital punishment. The statement that he opposed such punishment was sufficient to bring about the discharge of a venireman.

The defense attorneys confined their questions largely to the attitude of jurors on circumstantial evidence.

Before noon more than thirty of a panel of seventy-five had been excused. Jurors, however, expressed their hope that a jury would be obtained late this afternoon.

Mrs. Carl goes to trial surrounded by one of the most striking situations encountered in criminal annals of Indiana. The State has announced its intention of not introducing evidence regarding the alleged murder of Mrs. Carl's second husband, the late Frank Carl, but also to introduce evidence surrounding the deaths of Robert Gibson, the first husband of Mrs. Carl, and of Alonzo Carl, the father of Frank Carl and the father-in-law of Mrs. Carl.

The outstanding facts of this strange case are as follows:

Frank Carl, husband of Clara Carl, died at his home in Pleasant Hill, Hancock County, on Aug. 6, 1921.

Alonzo Carl, father of Frank Carl and father-in-law of the defendant, died at the home of his son, June 6, 1921.

Frank Carl and Mrs. Clara Carl, the defendant, were married in Indianapolis on Sept. 14, 1920.

According to the testimony of Walter C. Gung of Hancock County, Alonzo Carl, who died first, made a deed shortly before his death, transferring his property to his son-in-law, who resides in Denver, Colo. The value of the property is estimated from $2,500 to $3,000.

It is said that Frank Carl had no property and so left no estate. He was ill for about three weeks before his death. It is thought that the State will rely to a great extent upon the testimony of doctors regarding the illness of Mr. Carl.

SYNDICATE TO OFFER SHARES OF BIG BANK

Insurance Companies Transfer Holdings as Required by New York Law.

Special to Indianapolis Daily Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger. NEW YORK, May 22.—A local syndicate composed of Kildner, Peabody & Co., Lazarus Freres, Goldman Sachs, Solomon Bros. and Butler and others have purchased from the Equitable Life and Mutual Life a total of 41,000 shares of stock of the National Bank of Commerce and the National Bank of New York, which will probably be offered to the public about Tuesday of the coming week. This is in line with the insurance law of New York requiring life insurance companies to dispose of all stock in outside corporations before 1923. This law was passed in 1906 with a five-year limit, but there have been several extensions. The National Bank of Commerce is at present quoted at about 205 to 210. SAYS OFFER OF FORD IS RAID ON TREASURY

Water Power Expert Claims Loss to U. S. Would Exceed Billion Dollars.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Government would lose from $1,250,000,000 to $1,350,000,000 if the Muscle Shoals water power project were leased to Henry Ford under the terms of his present offer, Hugh L. Cooper, Army engineer who built the dam, told the Senate Agriculture Committee today. Cooper urged the Senate committee to draft its own lease, and termed the monetary offers made for the project "just plain foolishness." He declared the Government would be the loser if it accepted any of them.

CAR COMPANY GETS $1,000,000 VALUATION CUT

State Board Announces Reduction From Last Year's Amount.

A reduction of more than $1,000,000 in the taxable valuation of the property of the Indianapolis Street Railway Company was announced today by the State board of tax commissioners. Last year the valuation was $14,705,805 and this year it was fixed at $13,624,500.

Large increases in the valuations for taxation purposes of the Indianapolis Light and Heat Company also were announced.

The property of the water company was valued at $10,735,100 compared with $9,545,185 last year. The property of the Indianapolis Light and Heat Company was valued at $7,750,000 as compared with $6,447,025 last year.

The valuation of the Merchants Heat and Light Company was placed at $7,000,000, a reduction of $55,000 from last year.

The valuation of the Citizens Gas Company was placed at $6,434,700 as compared with $5,924,706 last year. The valuation of the Indianapolis Gas Company remains the same, $8,800,706.

Mayor Shank Back at Mahogany GOING TO SCALP LUCIUS B. SWIFT

He Is Opposed to Selling Mules

After an absence of ten days, three hours and thirty minutes, Mayor Shank breezed into his office at the city hall today, radiating good cheer, better health, and marvelous stories of the racing at Louisville. The mayor returned Sunday morning, but before he came to the city hall he went out to the fairground to look over his own race horses, Sam Trangle.

With characteristic gusto, Mayor Shank began making up for lost time the minute he sat down at his desk. He dashed off signatures on an accumulation of letters, Barrett law bonds and diplomas of city hospital internes, then leaned back to hear reports on what happened during his absence.

He heard an account of the "note-writing contest" between John F. Walker, superintendent of street cleaning, and Lucius B. Swift, member of the board of sanitary commissioners, and reiterated his intention of getting rid of Swift and the sanitary board as quick as the Legislature will help him.

He made an appointment with John F. White, member of the executive committee of the citizens committee investigating

FOURTEEN DIE, MANY WOUNDED IN IRISH RIOTS

Bombs and Rifle Fire in Street Fighting Like Roar of Battle at Times.

BELFAST, May 22.—Belfast emerged today from another bloody week-end during which at least fourteen persons were killed and many more were wounded.

The roar of bursting bombs and the popping of rifle and revolver fire rose almost to battle intensity at times. There was considerable street firing during the night. Also, there were two large incendiary bombs.

A demobilized head constable of the royal Irish constabulary was attacked in his home at Rathpoe and shot to death.

MANY COMPLAIN OF PICKPOCKETS

Numerous complaints were received by the police of a gang of pickpockets operating in the city. William A. Haehl, 2235 West Morgan street, was robbed of his purse at Illinois and Washington streets. The purse contained $7.05.

A. E. Hartley, 615 East Thirty-Second street, was the victim of pickpockets who operated in the Terminal Station yesterday. The purse contained $15 and a ticket to Lafayette.

Ben Conly, 2008 Hogan street, reported his purse, containing $47, either was lost or stolen Saturday night while he was shopping at the city market.

SHANK WILL 'RAISE DEVIL' IF OPPOSED

Mayor Warns Foes of Direct Primary of Action.

TO BE KEYNOTER Executive Is Picked as One of Speakers at Convention.

Mayor Shank announced today he is going to "raise the devil" if an attempt is made in the Republican State convention Wednesday and Thursday to adopt a platform plank calling for the abolition of the direct primary.

The mayor has been picked as one of the convention speakers. He said he would accept the invitation although he had not known he was to talk until he read of it in newspapers.

Although he has talked for months of leading a movement to abolish the public service commission, the mayor said, "I haven't made up my mind what I'll do about that. He said he did not believe he would say anything about this in his convention speech."

"You can say I'm going to raise the devil, though, about them trying to do away with the primary," said the mayor. "You can't make a popular mayor, Governor or President unless the people name them. They'd better never put a plank in there to do away with that primary."

"I'm against the commission system because the people don't get what they want. Any party that goes against the people goes to the scrap heap. People may make bad selections but if they do they're to blame for it, not the party."

Senator James E. Watson, who was selected to sound the issues as temporary chairman of the convention, is expected to arrive from Washington tomorrow after reported conferences with President Harding over the text of his keynote address. Albert J. Beveridge, who is to be one of the speakers on the opening day, has taken headquarters at the Hotel Severin. Candidates whose nominations are in doubt until the convention meets also have headquarters open here.

Local contests for the nominations for the major offices has tended to lessen interest in the convention this year. Ed Jackson, secretary of State, is unsupported for re-nomination, and James E. Watson, auditor of State; Ora Davies, treasurer of State; Benjamin Burris, superintendent of public instruction, and the supreme and appellate judges. Only for clerk of the Supreme and Appellate Courts is there a contest. Patrick J. Lynch of Newcastle is opposed by Henry Roberts of Indianapolis. Roberts was nominated and elected State statistician, but after he served a few months in the office it was abolished by the Legislature.

MRS. ROBINSON. Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson of New York, sister of Theodore Roosevelt, has sent word to State Chairman Lawrence Lyons that she will be unable to attend the convention. Her place on the program will be taken by Mrs. Louise M. Dodson of Iowa, who was formerly chairman of the women's division of the Republican party of her State.

Governor McCray and Mayor Shank are to be speakers at the first day of the convention. Mrs. Daisy Douglas Barr of Newcastle will deliver the invocation. John T. Adams, who succeeded Will H. Block as president of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be one of the speakers.

DISTRICT MEETINGS. Wednesday night the delegates will be held Wednesday evening at the Statehouse. Each district is to elect a vice chairman and assistant secretary of the convention. The first executive meeting of district delegates will be at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. The meeting places of each of the district delegations are as follows:

- First District—Statehouse, room 240, first floor.
- Second District—Statehouse, room 219, second floor.
- Third District—Statehouse, room 332, second floor.
- Fourth District—Statehouse, room 227, first floor.
- Fifth District—Statehouse, room 431, third floor.
- Sixth District—Statehouse, Senate chamber, second floor (room 329).
- Seventh District—Statehouse, House of Representatives, second floor (room 308).
- Eighth District—Statehouse, room 306, first floor.
- Ninth District—Statehouse, room 303, first floor.
- Tenth District—Statehouse, room 202, first floor.
- Eleventh District—Statehouse, room 418, first floor.
- Twelfth District—Supreme courtroom 317, second floor.
- Thirteenth District—Hearing room, public service commission, room 401, third floor.

YOO-HOO!

NEW YORK, May 22.—Mrs. Winifred Hudnut Valentino, wife of Rodolph Valentino, arch lover of the screen, was in hiding here today.

NEGRO TERROR FALLS IN GUN DUEL WITH COP

Two-Year Record of Robert Channels Halted.

PITCHED BATTLE

"The Terror" has fallen. One night, about three months ago, he fought, single handed, a fierce revolver battle with a squad of police night riders. At the time it was believed he was wounded. Today, doctors at the city hospital found a bullet entry on his shoulder verifying the belief that one of the policeman's bullets had found its mark that night.

Last night Policeman Davidson was walking along the street when he saw the slinking figure of the negro two score feet away. He was walking toward the dark figure when he was ordered to "Stick 'em up."

The negro held a revolver in his right hand, ready to shoot from the hip. Davidson drew and fired, running toward the negro who was standing his ground and shooting at the policeman. Davidson was within five feet of "The Terror" when he had emptied his .45 and one shot from the negro's weapon powder-burned his face.

Following behind the concrete foundation of the dance hall of old Labor Park, Davidson reloaded his revolver. When the policeman emerged, the negro had disappeared in the dark.

Davidson reported his battle to police headquarters, telling of his belief that he had wounded "The Terror."

Early today a report came that a man was suffering from a bullet wound and needed hospital attention. Police investigating found Channels at 2123 Howard street. The negro carried one bullet in his abdomen and two shots had nicked his right arm.

A search of the negro's effects disclosed that the gun with which he fought Davidson was one he had stolen from a same policeman some time ago when Davidson was spending a holiday fishing in Big Eagle.

Among other things found in his room were fifty handkerchiefs, many of them initialed. Police believe they represent names of many persons who doubtless had been held up and robbed by the negro, but had not reported their experiences.

RULING MAKES IT EASY FOR BOOZE BOTTLES

Federal Officers Will Allow Barreled Liquor to Be Bottled.

Booze, from barrels to bottles to bootleggers to buyers. Federal authorities feel this is going to be the result of a recent ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington permitting owners of whisky to transfer bottled whisky in warehouses from barrels to bottles without tax, on condition that the whisky be returned immediately to the warehouse.

The ruling is put in force, it is said, to prevent wastage of the stored liquor through seepage and evaporation. However, Federal authorities point out it is easier to steal a bunch of bottles than a bulky barrel; also, that a barrel of whisky carried in the hip pocket would be far more likely to attract police notice than would a half pint bottle.

Rumors have been current recently that all the liquor now stored in warehouses throughout Indiana will be concentrated in one warehouse in order that it may be more easily guarded.

MOTORIST WHO HIT TWO CARS IS DISCHARGED

City Court Withholds Judgment in Case of Ed Brown. Alleged Drunken Autoist.

Judgment was withheld in the case of Ed Brown, 823 North Capitol avenue, who faced Judge Delbert O. Wilmet in city court today on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and drunkenness.

Witnesses testified Brown was driving south in Capitol avenue when his car struck two automobiles. Policemen testified Brown appeared to be drunk, but he denied the charge.

Sam Ruben, 437 North Alabama street, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, also was discharged.

George McElroy, 815 South Meridian street; B. Fox, 437 North Alabama street; David Geider, 718 South Meridian street, and George McGraw, 619 South Meridian street, who were arrested with Ruben and held under a vagrancy charge, also were discharged.

LETTERS PUT DAUGHERTY IN MORSE CASE

Correspondence Said to Relate to Pardon of Federal Prisoner, Under False Pretense of Illness, Presented to Congress by Sen- ator Caraway.

INVOLVES DISPUTE OVER $25,000 FEE

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A complete account of how Attorney General Daugherty and Feltner, who is now in Washington attorney, are alleged to have obtained a pardon for Charles W. Morse from the Atlanta Penitentiary in 1912, was given in two letters published exclusively here today in the Washington Daily News.

Facsimiles of part of the correspondence were exhibited.

The letter signed "T. B. Felder" apparently was written because Felder thought Morse had failed to pay to Daugherty and Felder the $25,000 fee, which, according to copies of the alleged contract inserted in the congressional record Saturday by Senator Caraway, Arkansas, the two lawyers were to receive if they obtained Morse's freedom.

COST SEN. NEW $24,080.68 IN THIS COUNTY

Expense Bill Filed Shows Money Used Locally.

MANY BIG GIVERS

The campaign of Senator Harry S. New, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, cost $24,080.68 in Marion County alone, according to a report filed today by the New-Senator Club.

This is more than twice the amount spent by Albert B. Beveridge, the successful candidate, in the entire State, according to the latter's expense account.

Prominent in the list of contributors is the name of Charles G. Dawes, who contributed $1,000. It is not stated whether Mr. Dawes is the same Charles G. Dawes who is director of the budget.

No Charles G. Dawes appears in the Indianapolis city directory. He is included in the list of disbursements as $123.28 for the usual messenger service. The largest item is for salaries. Included in the list of disbursements are $1,000 paid to the Bookwalter-Ball-Greathouse Company for printing. Charles A. Bookwalter was Marion County manager for Senator New.

The statement of contributions and expenditures was signed by Rely C. Adams, treasurer of the club.

The larger contributors, as shown in the statement, were: Ralph A. Lemcke, $250; Charles G. Dawes, $100; Harry S. New, $500; William P. Evans, $425; L. C. Huesman, $300; William E.
