SPEED MOUNTS TUNED UP AND PILOTS READY

Field of Twenty-Eight Expected to Get Away on the Big Grind.

FINAL TRIALS TODAY

Tomorrow is the big day, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway place, the starting time 10 o'clock, and from that time until late in the afternoon the fastest speed cars in the world will be sent around the big course in the international motor sweepstakes for fame and gold. Some will go only part of the way, but disappointment goes with the event, and whether a car finishes or drops out, every pilot will have done his best to get in the money.

It is believed that twenty-eight cars will start, the DeWahr being doubtful. Howard Wilcox, leading Indianapolis pilot, took his trial late yesterday afternoon, and today he will start today. Frank Davidson's DeWahr, William Gardner's Benz Special and Jack Currier's Protty-Ford. These drivers had until 3 o'clock today to meet the time requirements, and if they did not get ready by that time with the stipulated speed they will be scratched and their cars left in the garages tomorrow when the starting bombs explode.

Foreign mounts and Yankee mounts will battle it out for the big honors in the historic five-century grind, the two French Bailleurs and Wilcox's Peugeot stacking up as the strongest contenders from across the sea. The English entrant, the Bentley, driven by Douglas Hawkes, is not thought possessed of the necessary power to push the American-made mounts for the laurels.

As for the Yankee favorites, there are plenty. Duesenbergs, Frontenacs, Monroes and some special makes are all set and ready to step out with dazzling speed. Tommy Milton and Ralph De Palma, two former winners, are to pilot mounts that have displayed great power in the practice sprints, and other prominent pilots of Yankee cars rated high in the estimation of close race followers are Jimmy Murphy, Roscoe Saries, Leon Duran from Albany, Cliff Durand and Ralph Mulford.

Sport Features in Brief

NEW YORK, May 29.—Zeno Shimidzu, Japanese tennis star, forced William T. Tilden, world's best tennis player, to the limit to win an exhibition match at the New York A. C. at 4, 6-0 and 6-4.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Bill Bingham, Harvard track coach, announced he would resign at the end of the season to devote his time to business interests.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The team that will represent France in the Davis cup matches will be made up of Jean Borotra, Henri Cochet, Jacques Brugnon and Jean Cochet. It was announced at headquarters of the United States Lawn Tennis Association today.

PARIS.—Chances for America to land the 1924 Olympic games are thought to be growing stronger with each succeeding development of the friction between the French Olympic committee and the government authorities. The games would be held at Les Anizes. The latest move of the Chamber of Deputies asking for a reduction of the appropriation of five million francs would make the government contribution only 1,000,000 francs, which the committee considers far insufficient.

TRIBE READY FOR COLONELS

The Indians are back home full of vim and vigor after sweeping the series at Columbus and are ready to tackle their rivals, the Louisville Colonels, in the double-header at Washington Park tomorrow afternoon. Today was an off-day at the scheduled contest was moved up for the double bill at Columbus yesterday.

Handricks and the rest of the Tribe are wearing broad smiles after the sensational work of the pitchers in the Senator series. One long run was all that the Buckeye team could score in four games against the slants of Hill, Weaver and Jonnard. The splendid work of Jonnard recently secured from the Glans, and the return to form of Hill, the spectacular soundman, has put a lot of zip in the club.

With pitching the Indians should go far and it looks as though the hurlers are starting to deliver. It is said that the shut-out ball thrown at Columbus is an Association record. The Senators were blanked for thirty-four innings. The lone run of the series, went over the rubber in the eighth frame of the fourth contest.

Hill was the big noise in the series, pitching two games and winning both. Sunday games were pitching. The first game Hill went to the Indians, 2 to 0. Jonnard allowed only six hits, while Sanders and Sweeney were picked for ten. All of the scoring came in the second inning when the Handricks pushed two runs over as the result of hits mixed with some loose play.

In the second game Hill was tight with the law, knocking and permitting only five blows. The Indians scored two right at the jump on Baird's and Reig's singles and an error. Another came over in the fourth on Schreiber's triple and Slicking's single.

The Indians' road record was excellent as a result of their strong finish, the team winning fifteen games and losing ten.

Billy Evans Says

A play that always creates trouble in baseball is where a base runner is compelled to hold his base on a fly ball that is caught before he tries to advance.

Hundreds of times during the summer campaigns arise over this play. As a runner of fact every time a runner advances a base on a fly ball that is caught his right to do so is questioned.

If the runner happens to be on third at the time and is able to score on such a hit all the more attention is paid to the play.

I know one major league manager who evaded an appeal to the players to return the ball to the base a runner left every time the play comes up and appeal to the umpire for a ruling.

A number of times I have had players on my team make an appeal to me when it was apparent that the runner had not left too soon. I asked the manager why such foolishness? He simply replied: "It may look foolish, but it doesn't require much effort to make the play and there is always a chance we may get the decision from the umpire."

It is a difficult matter for the runner to decide just when to start. It is also a difficult matter for the umpire to determine whether or not the runner left too soon. Likewise it is a difficult matter for the umpire to keep his eye on the runner and also the player making the catch.

Recently I had a talk with a famous sprinter about beating the game. He told me that such a thing usually happened. In our conversation the play in which a runner scores from third on a fly ball to the outfield was discussed.

The sprinter pointed out that it was possible to get away quicker, and get into your stride earlier from a crouch position than standing. His suggestion as to this play made an impression on me. Some day some modern manager is going to try it out.

It is his idea for the runner on third in the way of a rally in the outfield to assume a crouch position, such as used by sprinters waiting for the crack of the gun. The runner is to pay no attention to the ball.

The coacher at third is to do this and let the runner know that he is on his feet and hands, is to simply await the word go. This word is to be given by the coacher at the moment the ball strikes the hands of the fielder.

I am positive such a scheme for starting a rally in the way of a rally in the base runner. That is often the distance between out and safe. I am waiting for some manager who believes in innovation to try it out.

The Tigers got away running in the first few innings against Denny and Lander and lost managed to lose to the wife. The Indians came strong in the final innings, but didn't quite make the grade, losing to the

HAS HOWDY GOT SOMETHING?

Howard Wilcox, Indianapolis Pilot.

HOWARD (HOWDY) WILCOX.

Close speed race wounds around town are saying that Howard Wilcox has got something this year, despite the fact that he apparently has been having lots of trouble with his gasoline nag. He didn't qualify his Peugeot car for the 500-mile Indy race, but he was looking when Wilcox took the required time test and he blew around the course for four laps at an average of 84.1 miles per hour. That is not as fast as some of the pilots sent their whizz wagons, but Wilcox didn't have anything to gain by cracking up any more speed than he did. On the face of things it would appear that he has been delayed so much that he will be handicapped in the five-century, but despite this, the Indianapolis race would be a real test for him.

Qualifying round in the Romeo Johnson trophy will be played Tuesday morning. The second round will be played in the afternoon, the third round will be played next Saturday afternoon with the final eighteen holes on Sunday.

The winner and runner-up in each of the flights will be awarded prizes. The low net qualifying player will receive a prize. The second and third place players will receive a prize.

Officers of the sports and pastimes committee have issued a challenge to any club in the State for a four-man team match. Thirty dollars will be played on the Highland course and the team winning the match will receive a trophy.
