COLLECTORS GIVEN ORDERS

Secretary of Treasury Is Advised of Alleged Interference.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The warm political campaign in President Harding's own state of Ohio was further enlivened today by charges that "high ups" in Washington have "ordered" the nomination of Carmel Thompson re Republican candidate for governor, and have diverted efforts of federal office holders in the state to that end.

The charges were contained in a letter written to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon by Representative Charles L. Knight, Republican, Akron publisher, and himself a candidate for the nomination.

Representative Knight accused Attorney General Daugherty with being the federal power behind Thompson, and in a statement accompanying the letter he said:

"The eminent attorney general can not keep his nose out of Ohio politics, and, of course, he only knows one way to play the game."

Collectors Get Orders.

In his letter to Secretary Mellon, Representative Knight recited that collectors of internal revenue, who came under Mellon's department, have been ordered to work for the nomination of Thompson, and that most of them were cautioned always to keep in mind that "Congressman Knight must be defeated." He named Carl F. Reutzahn, collector at Cleveland, and Frank E. Schmiedet, chief deputy at Akron, as issuing the instructions upon orders from "higher ups" in Washington.

"I have good reason to believe," wrote Representative Knight, "that substantially the same orders have gone to every deputy collector in Ohio."

Girl On Witness Stand, Ignores Her Father, Who Stabbed Mother to Death

By United News

CHICAGO, June 29.—Passing her father without the slightest sign of recognition, 14-year-old Lillian Condon stepped to the witness stand in Judge Scanlan's court and told the story which the prosecution believes will send Michael Condon, the father, to the gallows for the murder of his wife.

Condon is alleged to have stabbed his wife to death, and his bobbed-haired, adolescent daughter, who, until the time of the murder, was just a healthy little high school flapper, gave a dramatic story of the crime.

Her drawn, pallid face took on a strange aspect as she related the motions of her father's alleged action in stabbing her mother.

"We were eating supper and Pa started quarreling with Ma and said, 'I don't want any of that supper,' she said. 'My father then took a knife and stuck it up to my mother's face.'"

"I told him to let my Ma alone, and he gave me two slaps in the face. 'My mother went upstairs and I followed her, and so did I. Just as I got upstairs I saw my pa give my mother another punch. I went over to Mrs. Martin's then, and my mother came over later. We went home about 9 o'clock and I went to bed. My pa came in and asked where I had been, and I told him that I went to Mrs. Martin's."

"I lay in bed for a little while. Then I heard some noise, and I went outside, where my mother and father were."

"I said: 'Pa, don't hit her,' and then I saw him raise up his hand and pull his hand down again. Then my ma fell to the floor. My pa turned to me and said: 'Now I am satisfied. I have done what I want.'"

"Minister Schanzer and I did our utmost to carry out his ideals at Genoa."

HITHER, THITHER AND YON BELLHOP SENDS FIREMEN

Washington Hotel Knight of Ice
Water Pitcher Sees a Fire.

A bell-hop at the Washington Hotel telephoned fire headquarters last night he was on the fourth floor and saw a fire.

Firemen hung up and hiked to the hotel.

No fire here; it's on the fourth floor of the Odd Fellow building, they were told.

To the Odd Fellow building. No fire there, but there's a fire at the hotel, it was said.

Original bell-hop finally got firemen to listen to him long enough to tell them he had seen the fire on the fifth floor of the Odd Fellow building.

The blaze, which the firemen finally located, did $50 worth of damage in the office of Dr. J. M. Scheerer, dentist, 504 Odd Fellow building.

FIGHT WON ON CONCRETE WILL FIGHT TOLL BOOST

Long Wrangle Over Fiftieth Street
Paving Comes to End.

Property owners of Fiftieth St., from Central Ave., to Pennsylvania St., have won a three months' fight for concrete instead of asphalt pavement.

The board of public works awarded a contract for concrete. A fight between the board and John L. Elliott, city civil engineer, which almost resulted in resignations and veiled charges that an effort was being made to give the Barber Asphalt Company, makers of Trinidad asphalt, a strangle hold on Indianapolis street improvement contracts. Fourteen out of fifteen property owners signed petition for concrete.

Civic Association Names Committee
To Appeal Before Public Service Body.

Henry S. Bakemeyer, C. E. Weir and Albert Sahm have been appointed members of a committee to present protests of the College Avenue Civic Association against proposed rate increases of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company. The committee was appointed at a meeting at the Third Christian Church, Broadway and Seventeenth St.

A committee composed of Mrs. E. G. Ehrlich, Mrs. A. D. Leathers and T. P. Woodson, president of the association, will meet with water works officials in a discussion of the proposed extension of water mains in the city.

Bondsmen and Attorneys Must Stay
Six Feet From Prisoners

Professional bondsmen and attorneys will have difficulty soliciting in the city prison after a wire mesh cage being built around the entrance in the turnkey's office is completed. The cage is six feet square. Prisoners must talk through the screen six feet from the jail entrance.

Judge Wilmett of city court and Police Chief Rikhoff ordered the change.

Mayor Shank visited city court and saw rain leaking through the skylight into two buckets. He promised immediate repairs.

NO BENEFIT IN SHIP SUBSIDY, SAYS MINORITY

Democrats on Committee Attack Measure in Report to House.

LIST ELEVEN BAD POINTS

Loss to Taxpayers Would Run
Into Billions of Dollars,
They Hold.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Enactment of the Administration ship subsidy measure would cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars and benefit no one, except a few rich and influential shipowners, is the view of five Democratic members of the House Merchant Marine Committee, who have filed a minority report on the shipping bill.

The report was signed by Representatives Davis, Hardy, Bankhead, Bland and Briggs.

Summarized the arguments are as follows: The sale of the vessels will mean a loss of $2,800,000,000, the loan provisions provide lower interest rates than are provided for farmer aid, the owners are exempted from Federal taxes on the property, ocean rates will not be cheaper, repeal of the subsidy act in the next ten years is provided, the shipping board will not have to come to Congress each year for renewal of its appropriation, autocratic powers are conferred on the shipping board, the board will not have to report to Congress, the President or any higher authority, steamship lines are already making huge profits; the measure would subsidize corporations operating lines for their own products and the bill was rushed through without adequate hearings.

By United News
CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., June 29.—Will H. Hays has called on the women of the country to help purify the movies by refusing to attend questionable film exhibitions.

Speaking to the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in session here, the supreme boss of the films urged the delegates to use their influence in ostracizing questionable screen plays and encouraging those of a "high moral and artistic standard."

FLAPPER CLOTHES NOT WANTED BY ARMENIANS

Warm, Substantial Garb Needed By Girls of Bible Lands.

"There are no flappers in Armenia," says V. K. Beshgetoor, native Armenian, here to aid in Near East Relief bundle day activities, Tuesday, July 11.

"Hence the filmy, flimsy things the typical flappers are reputed to wear scarcely will keep warmth in freezing young girls of the Bible lands," Mr. Beshgetoor added. The relief committee submits the following list of things that cannot be used in Armenia: Laces, silks, velvets, chiffons, evening dresses, satin slippers, muslin underwear, high heel shoes, straw or frame hats. The call for clothing includes everything warm and serviceable.
