Sunday School Tots Sing Nursery Rhymes And Listen to Stories of God's Wonders

By THE VISITOR.

The singing of "Jack and Jill went up the hill to get a pail of water" by about sixty little tots in a homelike Sunday school room of the Central Christian Church may not sound like a Sabbath lesson.

The sight of these little people listening gladly to Mrs. Charles W. Field telling the story of the growth of the potato might seem out of place to some people in a Sunday school classroom, but there is a great moral lesson to be found even in a "spud."

"God sends the rain and the sunshine and the potato grows," Mrs.
Field tells the children in one object lesson concerning the love of God for His people in furnishing food for His people.

These wee youngsters, some of whom are still in the arms of their mothers, attend Sunday School each Sunday morning in the cradle roll department of the Central Christian Church. Mrs. Charles W. Field, superintendent of the cradle roll, is seen telling the children a little story which illustrates the love of the Almighty.

In the language that the children understand and with objects that they love and know, Mrs. Field is able to cause little children of 4 years and less to appreciate the "love of God."

The Cradle Roll of the Central Christian Church numbers 205, and the average Sunday attendance of little tots of about 4 years of age numbers about sixty.

By the Cradle Roll system, perfected by Mrs. Field and her co-workers, the children of the city literally roll from the arms of their mothers and out of the cradle into the Sunday school.

On Sunday mornings the wee tots are brought to the Central Christian Church. Some of the mothers and quite often the fathers bring their children. Harold Elston Curtis, who is just a few days over a year old, attends the Cradle Roll meetings. He nestles close to his mother and smiles as only a youngster can smile when his older friends play a musical game.
Harold is the youngest regular member of the Cradle Roll. There are younger members, but they haven't outgrown the cradle and the nursery.

Mrs. Field, who lives at 3140 Washington Blvd., in discussing her work, said: "It is surprising how the children enjoy the music and the games. In all lessons we point out that God is love and the father of all.

"We want the mothers to come and see what we are teaching their children. We go into the home as soon as a new mummy moves in. The Cradle Roll work is really church work. The idea is to get the entire family into church."

Aiding Mrs. Field at the Central Christian Church is Mrs. J. Morgan, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Harold Burnhart, cradle teacher; Mrs.
Clark Wheeler, assistant to Mrs. Burn-hart; Mrs. George Griffin, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Zelma Johnson, assistant to Mrs. Griffin, and Mrs.
Scott Brewer, pianist.

Nowadays under the splendid system of Mrs. Field and her workers it is "from the cradle into the church."

BOY IS HELD FOR ROBBERY FROM WINDOW OF STORE

Sixteen-Year-Old Believed Thief Who Smashed Glass.

Fred Tomlinson, 16, 3015 Station St., is under arrest today charged with being the thief who smashed Abe Tavel's jewelry store window, 208 W.
Washington St., yesterday.
He is said to have given a watch to Eugene Miller, negro, 310 Paca St., to obtain the services of a taxi driver to take him to a vacant lot where the loot was buried. Harry Sturges, 3815 Ralston Ave., was the taxi driver, and he in company with Alex Mitchell, of the same address, are alleged to have returned to the vacant lot and stolen the loot.

Miller, Sturges, and Mitchell are charged with receiving stolen goods.
The police recovered all the stolen jewelry.

Own a Home Like This In Westridge

Have you noticed the new buildings going up and the general activity in Westridge? Right now we are completing several nifty bungalows, each one of a different style and size. Don't worry planning to build, when the lot and home you have wanted to own, is waiting for you here in the coming section of Indianapolis—not a section that has seen its high mark. Perhaps you have never realized how easy it is to own a home in Westridge.

$300 Cash
and $25 Monthly

If you haven't the $300 to pay down, perhaps you have a vacant lot that we will gladly accept as your first payment. Then you pay your balance each month with the same money you are now using to pay the rent. Paying rent is a short-sighted policy that leads you over a mighty rough road to nowhere.

Come Out Sunday Afternoon

And see one of these beautiful bungalows which will be open for inspection. It has electric lights, two bedrooms, cement porch with brick columns, cement walks, driven well, cistern, garage, attractively and substantially built on a large lot; plenty of room for small garden or chickens.

How to Reach Westridge

WESTRIDGE is located just one mile west of the city limits on the north side of the National Road (West Wash. St.). Take the West Washington street car and ride to the end of line, where auto will meet you and take you out free of charge to the addition. Or take any of the nine busses running out to West-ridge. Take the bus at the corner of Capitol Ave. and W. Wash.
St. and tell the driver to let you off at Vine street in Westridge.
We will refund your fare at our office on the addition. If you drive out, you will find a paved road all the way.

$1 Down—$1 a Week

Buys a big, beautiful lot in Westridge. No more attractive offer was ever made to Indianapolis citizens. Think of being able to buy a lot on such easy terms in an addition already built up with brand new homes. We do not permit the erection of shacks and we sell to desirable white people only. Just come out and see this sub-division, and be convinced that there is no addition near Indianapolis for moderately priced homes that will compare with it.
Remember, too, that we are ready at any time to build a home for you on your own lot in Westridge.

RECORD MAY BE MISLEADING

Inside Story of Oratory for Consumption of Talks Back Home.

By ROBERT TALLEY,
Times Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—If you've never been to Washington and seen Congress in action, just take a look at this picture and save your railroad fare:

Big, oblong room—artistic skylight above—more than 400 nicely cushioned chairs (not desks) arranged in semi-circular rows in front of Speaker's high desk. It's the House of Representatives.

Fringe of visitors' galleries around the walls—folks from Keokuk and Kankakee, eager to get an earful.

About seventy-five of the 435 members in their seats (seldom more, frequently less), some reading newspapers, others chatting among themselves.

Pair of waving arms and flapping coattails as member gets under way after receiving permission to speak for—well, say three minutes.

Speaks his three minutes and then gets permission "to extend his remarks in the Record." Record is franked to folks back home, who read voluminous speech, punctuated with frequent notations of "applause," and agree that "John's making a representation for himself in Congress."

Speeches seldom influence a vote—in fact, they're intended mostly for home consumption when mailed out in "the Record," in greatly elaborated form, as aforesaid.

Decisions of importance nearly always made in conferences in committee long in advance, not on floor.
Congressman begins thinking about "re-election" even before he gets to Washington, and maps his course accordingly.

Over in the Senate chamber members are far fewer, but dignity far greater. Attendance almost nil. Frequently a senator may be seen wildly gesticulating, whooping 'er up with a rip-snorting speech half a day long, with only two or three members honoring him with their presence.
And they're probably writing letters home or reading the newspapers.

Such is a snapshot of your lawmakers in action.

A Bottle a Day Keeps the Doctor Away

It is harder to keep in good physical trim in summer than it is in winter. Hot weather takes away the appetite, makes one feel heavy-headed, tired, uncomfortable.

Many people, not feeling hungry, neglect their diet and do not eat sufficiently. Then they wonder why they lose weight and feel faint and lacking in ambition.

Utica Club Pilsener is a splendid remedy for summer lag.
Being made from pure yeast, malt and hops, it is rich in vitamines—the body-builders—and its snappy tangy hop taste jogs and stimulates the appetite. A glass taken just before each meal means healthy hunger and fine digestion. Try it.
A case of 24 bottles costs only $2.80, plus $1.00 deposit, which is refunded on return of the empties. Sold by all good grocers.
