Mayor Says Assistant Master
Will Have to Give Up Some Concessions.

SHANK MAKES PROBE

Sloan Told to Take Care of Shank Men and Let Jewetts Come After.

Mike Bova, assistant city market master, is due to lose some of his stands in the market, Mayor Shank told a delegation of his political friends who seek curb market stands today. Complaint was made Bova owns three or four stands.

Shank, by Norman Zoller, south side politician, the workers complained men who fought the Shank organization four years have been given choice market stand sites through influence of Edward G. Sourbier, Republican member of the board of public safety.

Mayor Tells Sloan
"Before 6 o'clock tonight, said the mayor to Robert E. Sloan, city market master, "I'm going to have my legal department find out whether Sourbier or you have the exclusive right to say who shall have stands. I think you have the right, but I'm going to find out for sure. Nobody connected with me is going to usurp anybody else's authority."

"Bob, you take care of these Shank fellows first and then let the Jewetts come after."

The mayor gave particular instructions that Paul Dana, who said he was kept out of the market four years by the Jewett administration, should get a choice stand, and that Pete Minardo, present standholder, not be given a stand next to Dana. Minardo was accused of being an anti-Shank politician.

HORNE LOSES IN U. S. LOAN FIGHT

British Chancellor of Exchequer
Postpones American Trip
as a Result.

By United Press
LONDON, July 31.—Because of a split with the British cabinet over repaying the American war debt, Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has decided not to go to America as head of the debt funding commission.

His decision is taken as an indication he was outvoted in the councils of the ministry.

Sir Robert favored paying at once the largest sums of gold that could be raised.

Horne shared the view of many American economists that the United States is now overstocked with gold and further receipts would so upset the international financial balance as to embarrass America's foreign trade situation.

But Premier Lloyd George and other members of the cabinet feared such a program might endanger Anglo-American relations. The government favors making its payments continuously and promptly.

ASSERTS CHURCH IS STILL STRONG

Rev. Gonsolus Says Time Has Not Changed Power of Institution.

That the "Church of Christ stands firm and strong today" and that "time has not changed it" was the theme of the Rev. Charles H. Gonsolus at the Garfield Christian Church Sunday.

"Rust has not corrupted the church," he said. "The devil himself has not been able to destroy it. The church has been able to stand for ages and will continue to stand as long as time lasts, because it is built upon a spiritual foundation. Had it been erected on gold, silver or carnal things it would have perished long ago."

"If the soul is to grow, it also must be built on a spiritual foundation. Christ is the great foundation on which all things spiritual have been built. The church is a spiritual edifice and Jesus is the foundation stone. 'Christ also is the foundation of the sinner's hope for salvation, and it is in Him we live, move and have our being,' he stated.

PICKFORD-MILLER PAIR HONEYMOON

Flo Ziegfeld Sends Wire Wishing Happiness to Newlyweds.

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Somewhere in California today Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pickford are spending their honeymoon.

The wedding of "Mary's brother" and Marilyn Miller, star of "Sally," took place at 1 o'clock Sunday at the beautiful Beverly Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, and the young couple departed by automobile on their bridal tour.

One of the happy moments of the event was the receipt of a cablegram from Flo Ziegfeld, delivered to Marilyn just before the ceremony, wishing her "much happiness," and, according to the bride, ending "that time" between herself and her manager.

Marilyn was dressed in white with hat to match. Victor Heerman was Pickford's best man. The ceremony was performed under an enormous wedding bell by the pastor of Hollywood's "Little Church around the Corner," the Rev. Neal Dodd. Thousands of curious spectators crowded the driveways about the house.

Pickford's gift to the bride was a great pearl set in platinum and surrounded by diamonds.

Miss Wood does not personally administer to the needs of all these patients, but they are none the less her patients. She is the director of nursing for the Near East Relief. She superintends the work of fifty American and Canadian nurses and about 1,000 native nurses' aids. The half-million patients represent the number of war-torn sufferers in Turkey, Palestine and Armenia, who have received medical attention from the American and Canadian relief funds during the past year.

Earle F. Hites.

By THE VISITOR
Wanted—10,000 men, women and children to attend Sunday school on Sunday morning, Aug. 13.

E. Howard Cadle, founder and builder of the Cadle Tabernacle, wants to fill the tabernacle that Sunday morning, when William Jennings Bryan turns Sunday school teacher.

Mr. Bryan also will lecture at the tabernacle on Saturday night, Aug. 12.

"We want to fill this tabernacle to overflowing to hear Mr. Bryan teach a Sunday school class in his own way," Mr. Cadle stated yesterday afternoon. "He preaches the good, old-fashioned religion. It will be free, come."

Yesterday afternoon an enormous audience was present to hear the Cadle Tabernacle choir sing and to hear the message of Major Earle F. Hites.

Men, women and children joined in singing with the big chorus choir. Two soloists were encored insistently. They responded with sacred encores. The music at the tabernacle is one of the factors of these Sunday meetings.

Mr. Cadle explained one of the largest pipe organs in the Middle West will be dedicated soon, as the enormous instrument is nearly installed.

He explained the Chautauqua program, which will begin on Monday, Aug. 7, is for the purpose of aiding paying for the organ.

Dr. M. H. Lichtner, Philadelphia, Pa., will preach in the tabernacle next Sunday afternoon and evening.

Old fashioned mothers are better prepared to give advice on children than "authorities" who try to bluff their way, declared the Rev. C. H. Rose of the Woodside M. E. Church in a Sunday sermon.

"We have too many old maids who never reared a baby in their lives breaking into print high articles on how mothers should treat their babies," he said.

MINE OFFICIAL DECLARES OWNERS DEFER WAGE PACT

By THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES
Will you kindly permit me, through the Times, to correct a false impression that would naturally be formed by reading the statement of Mr. A. M. Ogle, published in Saturday's issue of the Times, in which he says that Mr. Hessler is hiding behind a smoke screen, and asserts that Indiana miners, a part of them, have participated in 800 strikes in violation of contract within the last two years. I assert that is a very misleading statement and that if Mr. Hessler is hiding behind a smoke screen Mr. Ogle is not removing the screen but is himself hiding behind a dense fog and trying to befog the mind of the public.

Now, for the facts as they really exist, and I challenge a fair investigation of the records of District 11, United Mine Workers of America, and, if permitted, the records of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, to prove my statement. The agreement or contract between the operators and miners of the bituminous field of Indiana provides that where a dispute occurs between the miners and mine management the miners shall remain at work pending a settlement of the dispute through the channels provided by the two organizations, and where the men disregard this provision and go on strike each and every employee participating in the strike shall be fined $1 per day for each and every day they lay the mine idle, to be collected out of the men's wages by the coal company.

Now, I know there have been some strikes in violation of this provision of the contract, Mr. Ogle asserts there have been eight hundred of them in the last two years. But what he did not tell, was that the great majority of them were caused by the utter disregard of other provisions of the contract by the mine management; that in these strikes the penalty of one dollar a day was levied and collected by the coal company affected and, what is of vastly more importance, that in each case Mr. Hessler and other officials of the Mine Workers compelled those striking men to return to work and settle their dispute as provided by contract and that in a great majority of the cases the dispute was settled in favor of the men and so flagrant were the acts of the mine managers in many instances that the fines collected were returned to the men.

Now, Mr. Editor, the coal operators claim to be more intelligent and more honorable in keeping their agreements, but I have yet to hear of any effort being put forth by the officials of the Operators' Association to line up their members and impress upon them the honorable necessity of living up to their part of the agreement to meet and negotiate a wage scale. In view of these facts I leave it to the public to decide who has the most honorable record for keeping an agreement—the officers of the coal Operators' Association or the officers of the Miners' Organization.

JOHN HUTCHISON,
Secretary of Miners' Legislative Committee.

Altruistic Loafer Fears He Might Take Another's Job; Baby Pleads

A blue-eyed, golden-haired baby boy who snuggled affectionately into his father's arms and sent forth gurgles of delight at the strangeness of police court, put up an effective plea today before Judge Wilmett for Clarence Gruelle, the father, 107 S. Oriental St., arrested on charges of vagrancy, false pretense and non-support.

Juvenile court workers, who caused Gruelle's arrest, testified that he was lazy, refused work and had pretended to a local grocery that he was employed in order to obtain credit.

Gruelle admitted his guilt, but said "he didn't feel like taking another man's job."

"You can get plenty of work without taking anybody's job," Judge Wilmett told him. "Where you belong is in jail."

"Does he care for that baby as much at home as he does here?" Judge Wilmett asked Gruelle's wife.

"Yes, indeed," responded Mrs. Gruelle eagerly. "The baby is just foolish about his daddy."

"Well, if it wasn't for you and this little one," Judge Wilmett said, "there wouldn't be any question of what I would do in this case."

"As it is, I will fine you a dollar and costs and thirty days in jail, but will suspend both on condition that you get work at once, bring your money home and take care of this family of yours."
