Three Confessions Are Said to Be in Hands of Federal Agents Probing Case.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Federal authorities here are holding five men on charges of murder, growing out of the wreck of the New York Central express train at Gary, Ind., last week. Two persons were killed and two others seriously hurt in the wreck.

In addition to those accused of responsibility for the wreck, five others are being held pending the result of a sweeping inquiry into similar attacks on railroad property, including the removal of spikes from rails. The operations extend over Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Three of the prisoners are alleged to have confessed that the Gary wreck was part of a plot against railroad property generally.

Will Help Prosecution
Railroad officials have announced their purpose to assist in the prosecution of the charges and to urge that the maximum punishment be inflicted.

The five men held on murder charges are: John Joseph Popowitch, 44, laborer; Charles Uesala, 42, car repairer; John Petrowski, 42, laborer; James Phoreast, 41, car repairer; and Alvin Alessio, 38, laborer.

Government agents have literature and other matter found here and in the Bridgman (Mich.) communist raid to indicate communists were making an attempt to organize rail strikers for "direct action," including attacks on railroad property.

RECEIVERS ASKED

Suits Allege Two Firms Are Insolvent—Brings Total to Twenty.

Two more suits for receiver were filed today in the Marion County Superior Court, room 5, making the total for the month of August more than a score.

Frank G. Sipe asked that a receiver be appointed for the U. S. Imitation Meat Display Company, charging that the firm was insolvent and had failed to pay him $380.20.

Ferdinand J. Montani charged the Fine Arts Building Company was insolvent and unable to pay him $50 for services as attorney, and asked that a receiver be appointed for the company.

ENDS RECEIVERSHIP

Eichorn Holds Complaint Improper in Refining Company's Case.

The receivership for the Great Southern Producing and Refining Company filed by Edward Eichorn was set aside by Judge T. J. Moll of Superior Court, room 5, on complaint of the defendant on account of improper form of complaint.

Officials of the company represented to the judge that the company was not insolvent and was fully able to meet all just debts.

John L. Duval, president of the Marion County State Bank, had been named receiver.

Spark Alone Needed to Set Off Another Conflagration in Europe, Says House

By RALPH H. TURNER
United News Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1922, by United News)
LONDON, Aug. 29.—Only a spark is needed to set off an explosion as terrible as Europe witnessed in 1914, Col. E. M. House warned in an exclusive interview with the United News, following his arrival here from a two months' trip on the Continent. "No one knows what may happen in Europe, such is the gravity of the situation there at present," Colonel House said.

"There is a process of gradual disintegration going on," he added. "Only an ignition spark such as the Old World witnessed in Austria in 1914 is needed now to precipitate a general crash, the consequences of which it would be impossible to estimate.

Time to Save Situation
"There is still time to save the situation, but if the delay continues much longer, the crumbling will begin and then it will be too late."

Colonel House, breaking a precedent against giving interviews which he has held almost inviolate since he first went to Europe as confidential representative of President Wilson early in the war, then outlined to the United News a program for putting

Europe back on its feet. This program, the result of Colonel House's numerous trips to Europe and his conversations among the wide circle of European statesmen with whom he is on intimate terms, can be summed up as follows:

1. Reconvocation of the International Bankers conference to take up the whole reparations and European financial situations simultaneously.
2. Revitalization of the League of Nations by new non-aggression pledges among its members.
3. European disarmament both physical and mental.
4. American assistance if Europe thus disarms.
5. Reduction of the German reparations, balancing of budgets, and stoppage of paper currency issues.

Colonel House endorsed the plan of James M. Cox for sending Herbert Hoover to Europe as a sort of unofficial arbitrator but he was doubtful if the suggestion would be adopted at Washington.

"The trouble is that we tell Europe what to do without a willingness to do our part, whereas Europe asks our aid without showing sufficient inclination to do her part," he said.

Mann attempted to explain an alleged attack upon a non-union shopman at Peru by offering the excuse that he was extremely ticklish and had leaped into a group of non-union workmen when one of his friends, standing behind him, tickled him suddenly. He was charged with violation of an injunction recently granted the Wabash Railroad. He was released on bond last night.

Charles F. McKinn and Walter Hayes, both of 1325 Fletcher Ave., former Big Four employees, were ordered detained in custody of their attorney, James E. Deery, for violating the picketing clause of the injunction.

The case against Thomas F. Farrell, 227 S. State Ave., charged with throwing rocks through the windows of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Erick, 212 Bates St., was ordered dropped by Judge Baker. He ruled the Big Four Railroad had failed to make its case.

An agreement between seventy-two strikers at Logansport and The Pennsylvania Railroad was approved by Judge Baker and the contempt proceedings ordered continued indefinitely. The men agreed to obey the injunction.

WOOD SHORTAGE SLOWS MAKING OF NEWS PRINT

Future of Paper Industry Depends on Replenishing Supply of Pulp.

NEW YORK.—The future of the newsprint industry in the United States depends in good measure on replenishing the depleted pulp wood areas near the mills, according to the National Bank of Commerce in New York. Production of newsprint has been at a standstill for some years and the economic effect of having to ship raw material over long distances is beginning to be felt.

"In the East, where the principal mills are located, it has been estimated that the supply of pulp wood will be exhausted within twenty or thirty years," the bank says in the September number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly. "Although by the extensive practice of reforestation the cut-over areas near the mills could, within thirty or forty years, be made to yield more than the present consumption requirements of the United States."

Import Half of Supply
"Already the pulp and paper mills of some States are importing more than half of their supply of raw material. While considerable quantities of pulp wood are imported into the United States from adjacent freehold lands of Canada, the newsprint manufacturing industry in the United States is beginning to feel the economic effect of having to ship raw material over long distances."

"More than eleven and a quarter billion copies of daily newspapers are now printed annually in the United States. The gravity of the position of the news print industry in the United States is emphasized by the fact that production of news print in the United States for some years has been practically at a standstill while production in Canada has trebled. Only two news print plants have been established in the United States since 1909."

Pulp Too Far From Mills.
"There are supplies of pulp wood in the United States and its possessions adequate to satisfy the requirements of the news print industry for years to come. These supplies, however, are in the western States and in Alaska while ninety per cent of the news print mills of the United States are in the Eastern States which are also the main consuming centers. It is impracticable to ship pulp wood a long distance since transportation costs rapidly diminish the margin of profit."

"Apparently the most feasible plan for protecting the source of raw material is to adopt a policy similar to that of many European countries in reforesting cut-over and waste areas and conserving present supply. More than 60,000,000 acres of potential for forest land are available to the present forest land and paper mills in the United States are now producing nothing. A production of one-third of a cord of pulp wood annually per acre on the waste areas would yield 20,000,000 cords or three times the present consumption requirements in the United States."

YOUTHFUL 'MATRIMONIAL AGENTS' Discover Lucrative Employment

"Mister, watcha give for a good-looking girl? Ja gimme a nickel for 'ordinary dame? 'Nen, p'raps, on a special order we've can bring ye a strikin' beauty for a dime."

Messrs. Jack Stearns and Gus Singleton, ages 7 and 9, respectively, found this brief episode the most lucrative of any scheme they thus far tried this summer. Existence in the Cambridge Apartments for boys, they say, has been woefully drab, and, following suggestions of their mothers, Mrs. Edna Stearns and Mrs. Brooks Singleton, they started out on a venture which bids fair to outlive any the boy clan has originated. Their mother simply suggested that the boys make their own spending money, and the boys—well, they did it. Saturday their earnings totaled 90 cents. They were dividing the money, recounting their exploit, as one would say, "remember this old fellow? He gave us a dime. Wasn't he foxy?"

Selling papers didn't seem to be in it for Jack and Gus, specialists in juvenile ready money. Something new, they saw, was what the public wanted. Something with a kick, or, as Gus said, "with lotta snap."

Talk about psychology of salesmanship, is there a man in the world that wouldn't give 5 cents for the choice girl of Indianapolis, and 10 cents for a prize beauty? Certainly not! They just picked the man, sold their product and said, "There's your girl, Mister. Take her if she satisfies."

ACTION OF FORD PUZZLES BIG FINANCIAL INTERESTS

Other Motor Manufacturers Have Sufficient Fuel to Keep Going.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The action of Henry Ford in closing down his plants on Sept. 16 because he is unable to obtain coal at a reasonable price, puzzles the financial district here. In the first place Ford has always been counted the most powerful as well as the most resourceful of the motor makers. The coal shortage, Ford says, has forced him to close is not having the same effect on motor manufacturers who might have been expected to have been hit before Ford.

A number of companies are reported to have sixty to ninety days' coal supply on hand and even though their electrical power were cut off, they could resort to gasoline engines. Motor manufacturers generally are reported less concerned about fuel than about the prospect of delayed deliveries through the rail strike.

May Be Huge Gesture
Because of these considerations many believe that Ford is indulging in a huge gesture to awaken the country to the problem of settling the current strikes and of acting against the profiteering which has arisen because of them. This would be an unusual action, but Ford has shown in the past that he does not hesitate to do unusual things if he believes they will accomplish the results he is after.

Meanwhile the conditions in the coal market here show that the prices asked several days ago have been cut and that consumers feel they can be more particular about the kind of coal they are getting.

MULE PRICES UP
Woman Calls Police and Complains of "Legger."

Failure to keep pace with the rise in white mule prices caused Agnes Monday, 1238 Brooker St., to call the police and complain she had been robbed. Agnes told police she purchased a half pint of whiskey from a bootlegger and he only gave her a quarter back as change out of a five dollar bill.

Slain Mountaineer's Wife Escapes Like Fate Through Snores of "Collie Jim"

By NEA Service
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 29.—A faithful dog, lying outside the door of a lonely mountain cabin, is credited with saving the life of Mrs. Florence Kester and bringing about the arrest of a man, accused of slaying her husband.

A snore from "Collie Jim" and the woman's quick wit drove the slayer away. And then Mrs. Kester, half-dressed, escaped by running barefooted in the night across three miles of the San Diego mountains to the main highway.

The man, fleeing because he thought the noise the dog made was the husband, reviving from the clubbing he had received, was caught with the aid of the Scotch collie. He is in jail, and is said to have confessed to the sensational "moonshine murder."

Police say the two men had been engaged in the illicit whisky traffic at the mountain cabin and that in a quarrel the man under arrest killed the husband, Tom Kester, by beating him over the head with a pick handle. Then he attacked the 20-year-old wife.

The prisoner told police that before the murder he feared the dog would get him into trouble and he asked Mrs. Kester why she kept the "cur."

"Oh, I don't know," the girl replied, "but you know sometimes a dog will save a person's life."

Came the night of the murder—midnight. Said Mrs. Kester: "Just after the murder of my husband, I was in the hands of that terrible man. I wondered then where the dog was."

"Finally I heard him breathing, just outside the door. He was snoring like a human being. I thought for a moment how I could make the most of that. My husband was lying outside, beaten to death."

"Then I thought if I could make that man believe Tom was coming back I could escape. The dog gave me the very chance. I waited until he gave a loud snore."

"Tom's coming back," I screamed. Then he ran. And I escaped across the mountains in my bare feet. I owe my life to this dog."

"He heard the dog snore once—mountains in my bare feet. I owe my life to this dog."

'TICKLE ALIBI' OF SHOPMAN FAILS TO MOVE JURIST

L. J. Mann Sent to Jail for Contempt of Federal Court by Judge Baker.

The "Tickle Alibi," one of the most novel ever presented in Federal Court, failed to save L. J. Mann, striking shopman of Peru, from being sent to jail for contempt by Judge Francis E. Baker in Federal Court yesterday.

Mann attempted to explain an alleged attack upon a non-union shopman at Peru by offering the excuse that he was extremely ticklish and had leaped into a group of non-union workmen when one of his friends, standing behind him, tickled him suddenly. He was charged with violation of an injunction recently granted the Wabash Railroad. He was released on bond last night.

U. S. NAVY TO BE AT CONVENTION

Will Participate in Show at National American Legion Meeting.

NEW ORLEANS.—The United States Navy will participate in the naval show to be held during the American Legion national convention in New Orleans next October, the convention committee has been informed by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. Representation will consist of at least one battleship or cruiser and a number of destroyers.

Twelve hydroplanes will fly from Pensacola to New Orleans and will remain on the Mississippi River for exhibition flights during the convention period. The order authorizing the New Orleans flight was issued by Admiral William A. Moffett, head of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, who a few weeks ago made the first hydroplane flight from Pensacola to New Orleans.

In addition, the legion committee hopes to obtain a number of submarines. One flotilla of undersea craft is on the way from Mare Island, Cal., to the east coast and it is believed its schedule will enable the flotilla to make the port of New Orleans about convention time.

Invitations to send ships to the legion naval show have been dispatched to naval authorities of England, including Canada and Australia, France, Italy, Japan, Brazil and China.

MUSICIAN DIES FOR LOVE
German Music Master Commits Suicide Following Sweetheart's Death.

NEW YORK.—A strange story of an elderly German music master's infatuation for a youthful protegee that led both the master and the girl to suicide, has been unfolded to the police by the wife of Louis Koemmenich, a noted composer and conductor.

A week ago Vera Lehmann, a young actress known on the stage as Vera d'Artelle, was taken to Flower Hospital suffering from poisoning. She had been found unconscious on the floor of her mother's costume shop in the Rialto district. She died the next day.

Twelve hours later the body of Koemmenich, clad in silk pajamas, was found on the floor of an apartment off Riverside Drive. The gas coals of a stove were turned on. Koemmenich had been asphyxiated. At his side was found a note, apparently scrawled in haste. It was not signed.

"Just received word that Vera committed suicide. This being a great loss to me, there is nothing else left for me to do."

Koemmenich was 50 years old, had been married thirty-seven years, and was the father of a son and two daughters.

In 1912 he reached the height of his career, succeeding Walter Damrosch as conductor of the Oratorio Society. As director of a Philadelphia Maennerchor he won the Emperor William prize three years ago.

"Mother Why Not Try The Newer Form Of Iron
And Be Strong and Well and Have Nice Rosy Cheek Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable All the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old?"

The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine." There can be no healthy, beautiful, rosy-cheeked women without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended to thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance.

It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you feel weak, pale, and listless. You are looking just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron. You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated Iron from any druggist under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back. ## RAIL OFFICIALS FIGHT SABOTAGE

Track Walkers Increased to Lessen Chances of Trains Being Wrecked.

Local railroad officials took steps today to lessen chances of further sabotage which caused several hundred thousand dollars damage in three wrecks near the city in less than a week's time.

The number of track walkers was increased by several roads because switches tampered with caused the previous wrecks. Others increased the number of men guarding railroad property.

Federal authorities began a probe assisted by local authorities here and at Danville. It was stated that few clues which would lead to the identity of the vandals had been found.
