

CONGRESS BLIND TO EMERGENCY IN STRIKE CRISIS

Immediate Presence Alone Will Inspire New Laws to Meet Issue.

POLL SHOWS UNCERTAINTY

Many Doubt Possibility Even for Preventing Collapse of Industry.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Legislation authorizing President Harding to operate the anthracite mines and railroads should an occasion of dire necessity arise, was left out of the legislative program for the remainder of the Senate session today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Congress will not enact emergency legislation authorizing seizure of the railroads and idle coal mines except in the immediate presence of an absolute crisis—such as does not exist now.

This, a virtually complete poll of sentiment in both the Senate and House showed today, is the reaction on "capitol hill" to the official White House statement that President Harding wants Congress, before it adjourns, to arm him with the power to take over the rail and coal properties, as a last resort, and operate them in the public welfare.

Many Senators and Congressmen expressed the doubt as to whether such legislation could be passed in any event, and practically all agreed that a seizure act could be put through only when it was certain that it was the only move left that would stop industrial paralysis and end severe hardships.

Chamber of Commerce Decorates Chair for Miss Indianapolis

MISS INDIANAPOLIS will enter the rolling-chair parade on Thursday, Sept. 7, in the Atlantic City Pageant in an artistically decorated chair furnished by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce.

The chair will be emblematic of the city and the State, as it will represent a golden ear of corn, which will enhance the natural beauty of Miss Indianapolis.

Great expense and time has been spent in working out a design which would reflect the glory of the city and State.

Miss Indianapolis will enter the rolling-chair parade confident she not only has the support of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce officially, but that the entire city and State are hoping her beauty and the beautifully designed chair will make her winner.

The pageant committee of Atlantic City is a part of the Chamber of Commerce of that city and the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce accepted the invitation to decorate the chair for Miss Indianapolis on invitation from S. P. Leeds, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Atlantic City.

Both Miss Indianapolis and Mrs. C. Rollare Eggleston, chaperon, are assured that the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce by its cooperation will leave nothing undone to aid them in reflecting the spirit and beauty of Indianapolis and Indiana.

MINES CURTAILED BY CAR SHORTAGE

Pigeon Creek Company Appeals to McCordle for Relief of Condition.

Indications that Indiana mines may be forced to curtail production by car shortage was contained in a telegram from the Pigeon Creek Coal Company, Boonville, Warrick County, to John W. McCordle, chairman of the State fuel emergency committee today. The telegram follows:

"Southern Railway has not furnished equipment for loading since last Thursday. Railroad officials claim no relief in sight. Our mine producing 1,000 tons per day and every mine on Evansville-French Lick division down. Some action necessary without delay to protect public and employees."

McCordle immediately started an investigation into the car shortage situation by conferring with officials of the various lines operating in the coal district.

Coal operators, at their meeting with McCordle last week, intimated that the car shortage would be one of the limiting factors in coal production.

Less complaint of shortage among utilities and industries throughout the State is now being received than at any time within the past month. Large supplies of eastern coal are being shipped into the State daily, McCordle states, and this, with the Indiana-mined coal is taking care of shortages which reached alarming proportions a few weeks ago.

WHY ARE SOME WOMEN POPULAR,
happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "venereal." The well woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity, while the ailing one reels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.—Advertisement.
