Jewell in contempt of court for an alleged statement made by him after the issuance of the railroad shopmen's restraining order.

The government planned to offer several affidavits before closing its case.

Union attorneys were expected to launch a bitter attack, charging that the railroad organized to break the unions and welcomed the strike as a step in their plans.

ADOPTS NINETEENTH CHILD

Mrs. Charles White Started Numbering 'Em Instead of Naming.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18.—When the father and mother of the little girl next door died, Mrs. Charles O. White took the child into her home and treated her as she would any of her eighteen others.

When she was 15 years old Mrs. White began as a nurse in a hospital, but a year later she married. Of the eighteen children born during her twenty-four years of married life there was only one pair of twins.

"I was married only once, but only once is enough," said Mrs. White.

"How about names?"

"After I ran out of names I didn't know how to do until a neighbor suggested that I begin numbering them, but I stopped naming and numbering them long ago. Eighteen children isn't so much when you say it, but it's a whole lot when you think it over."

Who Is Supplying Funds to Turks Former Ambassador Elkus Asks

By United Press

RED BAND, N. J., Sept. 18.—Abram I. Elkus, former American ambassador to Turkey, in an exclusive interview, raised the question of who is supplying the Turkish armies with funds, ammunitions and supplies.

Elkus pointed out that as a result of the World War Turkey was stripped of territories which paid tribute to the Sultan.

"Yet in spite of this loss in revenue," he said, "means have been found to maintain and provision an enormous army which has been fighting against the Greeks."

"Who has supplied the funds to maintain this army is a question. When I left Turkey it was in a state of financial ruin and collapse. It had no revenue worthy of the name. If anything, the condition is worse now. It has been intimidated the soviet

SENTENCED FOR BEATING BOYS

Stepmother Given Year in Jail for Revolving Crime Against Children.

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Sophie Sokolowski, 32, was sentenced by Judge A. C. Backus to serve a year in the house of correction after she had been convicted in the municipal court on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm in connection with alleged inhuman treatment of her stepchildren.

The woman was sentenced after a revolting tale of cruelty had been told by the children and physicians who examined them. The woman sat calmly through the entire testimony, only occasionally looking at the children, but when Judge Backus pronounced sentence she screamed and swooned and was not revived for several minutes.

The principal witnesses were Irvin, 5, and Ollie, 9, two of her stepchildren. Both boys showed bruises and scars all over their bodies where they alleged they were beaten or otherwise attacked by her. Both had a number of burn scars, resulting, they testified, from the stepmother having applied hot curling irons and hot poker to their bodies.

Detectives Mingle With Groups of Mourners at Biers of Victims

By United Press
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 18.—Detectives mingled with the mourners at the biers of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. James Mills today, in hope of finding a clue in the actions of some of the mourners present.

Investigation has revealed, according to the police, that the murder of the rector of the Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist and Mrs. Mills, choir singer and wife of the sexton, probably took place in the city of New Brunswick Thursday night.

After the man and woman had been shot, beaten and stabbed to death, their bodies were placed in an automobile and carried to the grove on an abandoned farm where they were found Saturday. The slayer or slayers carefully scattered foot love letters found to give the affair the aspect of a crime committed through motives of jealousy.

All these love letters may have been forged, in belief of police. A rod, found near where the bodies were discovered, is believed to have fallen from the automobile which conveyed them there. Detectives examined a number of automobiles, in expectation of finding one with the missing rod.

Mrs. Hall, questioned by police, admitted she was the "woman in the polo coat" seen entering St. John's rectory about 2:30 a. m. Friday morning. She declared she had gone to the church to see if her husband had fallen asleep in his study.

Mrs. Hall, husband of the slain woman, visited the church about the same hour, looking for his wife, he told police, thinking she might have been taken ill while working there.

But the clergyman's wife and the sexton did not chance to meet while on this mission, both insisted.

Underwriters Begin Campaigns to Standardize Laws of Arson

By E. M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A systematic campaign against the firebug has been begun by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Arson last year was worse than in any previous year, according to a report of the committee on incendiarism and arson.

Standardization of arson laws, defining the crime and fixing the penalty more rigidly in all the States, is the purpose of the campaign, according to announcement of Abraham B. Morton, president of the board.

Secret service men, under the direction of Frank R. Morgarridge, chief of the arson bureau, are scattered over the country investigating suspicious fires. They are on the trail of crooked adjusters as well as firebugs.

Many Arrests Made
Investigations were made into 332 fires last year, and 303 persons were arrested. Out of 210 cases brought to trial, 150 persons were convicted and fifty-one acquitted.

Heavy penalties imposed include a twenty-to-four-year sentence for an Italian cobbler in New York, who set fire to his kitchen and endangered the lives of twenty-five families in the same building.

A similar fault is found with the arson laws in Vermont and Mississippi, where death is the penalty if life is lost in a fire, and life imprisonment otherwise. Penalties in other States run from two to fifty years.

During the last three years, since the model arson law has been promoted by the national board, ten States have made important changes in their arson statutes.

OPENS ROAD AND BRIDGE PROPOSALS

Highway Commissions Finds Estimates Exceed Bids on All but One Project.

The State highway commission today received bids for the construction and repair of eight bridges and for six miles of hard surface road on the Lincoln Highway in La Porte County.

John D. Williams, director of the commission, announced after the opening of the bids that all but one bid on the bridge contracts were below estimate and that all road bids were lower than estimates made by the engineers.

Contract to One of Three
The contract for the construction of the Lincoln Highway will be given to one of the three lowest bidders, the letting to depend upon the commission's opinion as to the type of work. The low bidder was the Highway Improvement Company of South Bend, bluminous macadam, $109,017, against estimate of $134,630; C. S. Brineman of Bluffton, concrete, $152,247, against estimate of $172,090; Pike Construction Company of Warsaw, bluminous concrete, $144,659, against estimate of $211,012.

Has Lowest Bid
The lowest bidder on the Whittier County bridge construction was Ward D. Hill, Ligonier, $1,994 against estimate of $2,227; the Jackson County construction job bids were all above estimates and not considered; the Vanderburgh County project low bid was made by Anton Schenk of Mt. Vernon, $6,218 against estimate of $7,007; Blum and Parr of Hammond were low bidders on the State County substructure project, $3,585 against estimate of $4,659.

The Elkhart Bridge and Iron Company was the low bidder on two Kosciusko County structures, one at $6,185 against $6,905, the other $2,632 against estimate of $2,895; Otis Kirtley of Plainfield was low bidder on the Wabash River repair job, Parks and Vermillion counties, $17,198 against $20,317.

Total estimates on construction by commission engineers was $44,003 and total low bids was $38,065.

Tries to Collect Insurance He Took Out on Friend Who's Alive

By United Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—When Joseph Eulo was seriously ill two years ago, his friend John Ingravello was very kind to him.

John's kindness even tended to the point where, when Joseph grew worse and the doctor's didn't hold out much hope, he went to an insurance agency and took out a $4,000 policy on his sick friend's life, with himself as beneficiary.

But Eulo drew no halo. From the day his life was insured, he improved steadily and about the time Ingravello had planned to console himself with the proceeds, Eulo was in better health than himself.

John, however, kept the policy against the unhappy day—as sort of a "John Doe" document, it appeared, for when his second cousin, Max Plomont, went to join the gone, dead and departed, John appeared at the insurance office, said amid tears that Eulo was defunct, and that he, the bereaved beneficiary, was all set to be consoled.

The insurance people told him to return in a few days for the $4,000. John followed these instructions and ran into the wide-open arms of a policeman. The rest was short and snappy. Eulo, Hale and Hearty, was there in court, and Ingravello was sentenced to from one to ten years for trying to play a confidence game.

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results.

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of plasters.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger.

People should realize that mercury will salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and how ever disguised, is a deadly poison, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years.

Mrs. A. Arceneaux of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin; and Mrs. Gus Anderson of Ball, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.
