License Department Lists 401,000 Passenger Automobiles So Far This Year.

1921 RECORD IS BROKEN

Trucks Also Reach New Figure —Tag Money Goes to Highway Department.

More than 401,000 passenger automobiles and 55,000 trucks are in use in Indiana today, according to records of the State automobile licensing department. These figures show an immense gain over the entire year of 1921.

The automobile department was created in 1913, but the first records obtainable for an entire year are dated in 1914, when 66,410 passenger cars and trucks were registered. Not until 1920 were the truck and the passenger car licenses separated.

In 1921 Indiana boasted 357,000 passenger cars and 43,000 trucks, while the first eight and one-half months of the present year show an increase of 41,000 passenger cars and 12,000 trucks.

Reports from many of the automobile plants throughout Indiana indicate capacity production to fill standing orders and dealers and distributors along automobile row concur in the opinion that the winter business of 1922 will be the largest "closed season" business in the annals of the industry.

Vast Amount Received
H. D. McClelland, superintendent of the automobile division, stated today that up to the present time $2,917,203 had been turned over to the State in funds produced by the sale of licenses. The overhead expenses of the department have amounted to 3.1 per cent of the total revenue, the remaining 96.9 being available to the State highway commission for the construction of highways and bridges throughout the State.

The State is using automobile license plates so fast that the National Colortype Company of Newport, Ky., cannot keep the office supplied at all times.

With less than 14,000,000 cars in the entire United States, Indiana can be said to boast one-twenty-eighth of the cars of the Nation. The State is not only famed for its purchase and use of automobiles, but takes its rank among the manufacturers, only two other States leading in point of production.

BOARD VS. COUNCIL

Park Commissioners Maintain Sole Right in Setting Levy.

The city council has no right to reduce a tax levy fixed by the board of park commissioners and all it can do is ratify whatever figure the board decides upon, is the contention of the board in a brief filed with County Auditor Leo K. Fesler. The brief asks the levy of 11.5 cents, as made by the board, be considered for the city park department, instead of 9.2 cents set by the council.

HALF THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLNESS

Keep the Liver Prepared to Do Its Duty in Cleansing the System. Black-Draught Will Help.

Mrs. Wesley Mabe, who resides near Knersville, N. C., says Theford's Black-Draught is kept in her home all the time, since it has proved very valuable when used to correct derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, and to help prevent sickness from developing from such conditions.

For dizziness, headaches, colds, and similar troubles, Black-Draught is a wonder," according to Mrs. Mabe. "It helps carry away bile and cold the easiest of any medicine I ever saw."

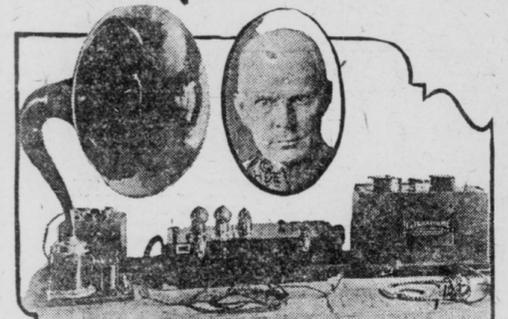

"I have used Black-Draught with my whole family, and will continue to do so, as it has proven its worth. We are glad to recommend Black-Draught. My health is just fine."

Black-Draught has been found a useful adjuvant in breaking up colds, when the use of a laxative or cathartic medicine is indicated. It acts upon the liver as a tonic, helping it to drive poisons and unhealthy matters from the system.

Biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, bitter taste in the mouth, often warn you that your liver is out of kilter. Don't neglect it. Prevention of illness is better than cure. Take Black-Draught, for your liver. Be sure you get Theford's.

Vacuum Tube Amplifier Enables Physician to Detect Heart Beats

MAJ. GEN. GEORGE O. SQUIRER AND THE HEART-BEAT AMPLIFIER

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The modern physician need no longer put his ear against the body of his patient to hear the heart or lungs perform. Nor need he use his stethoscope for this purpose.

Instead, he may place a small instrument on the patient's body and listen to the breathing and heart-beats from a distance!

This unusual performance is made possible by the use of the audion or vacuum tube amplifier, similar to the one being used in radio reception today.

Pulsations Audible
The heart of the new instrument that makes heart-throbs audible from a distance is the vacuum tube. It is exactly the same tube which amplifies the weak sound waves in a radio receiving set.

Among the first to demonstrate this instrument, in its application to breathing and heart-beats, was Maj. Gen. George O. Squirer of the United States Signal Corps. It is only one of the many uses to which General Squirer has put the radio vacuum tube.

With General Squirer's apparatus to start, experts of the Bureau of Standards went to work and perfected a process for recording breathing sounds and heart-beats.

The new apparatus consists mainly of an ordinary telephone transmitter, adapted into a stethoscope, and a vacuum tube amplifier. The sounds are recorded on a steel wire and when the amplifier is connected the sounds can be heard in all parts of a room.

If need be, the instrument can be connected to a telephone line so that a physician in his office can listen to the heart throbs of a patient in his home.

M'CARDLE WANTS COAL MOVEMENT
Advices Railroads to Curtail Passenger Service to Facilitate Fuel Handling.

Curtailment of passenger service on railroads to permit more efficient handling of coal has been suggested by John W. McCordle, chairman of the public service commission, in a letter to all railroads operating in the State.

McCordle sets forth that the price of coal is largely dependent upon prompt delivery from the mines and asks that the railroads cooperate in every possible way in the movement of fuel.

Several railroad officials in verbal reply to the letter have said they were loath to interfere with passenger services except in a case of extreme emergency and expressed the belief present arrangements would take care of shipments.

REVIVES TRAFFIC CODE
President of Council Indicates Promulgation of New Rules Impends.

After having rested six months in committee, the traffic code revision ordinance will be dragged back to public notice by the city council at a public hearing next Monday evening, President Theodore J. Bernd announced today.

Traffic Captain Michael J. Glenn told councilmen passage of the ordinance would eliminate necessity for at least fifteen traffic policemen.

The bill changes downtown parking time limits, establishes a number of "no-left-turn" corners, several preferential traffic streets, and makes other important revisions.

CHILDREN KEPT OUT OF SCHOOL

Transportation Difficulties Hold Up Erection of New Portable Buildings.

While transportation difficulties hold up ten portable school buildings, many pupils are attending school only one-half day, and in one instance, not at all, in Indianapolis.

Three of the portables were being put up today. Nos. 62, 72, and 77. No. 77 will be erected at North and Wilson Sts., to accommodate about eighty first and second graders from school No. 4, which was converted to a colored school. Superintendent Graff said today he had given the children permission to go to any regular school or to stay out until the portable is up.

Contract with the Kurman Brick and Equipment Company called for completion of the portables by Aug. 18.

Superintendent Graff said he expects to have all the portables up and full-day sessions at all schools within the next three weeks.

Portables are still on the road for schools No. 14, 37 (two), 42, 47, 75 and 76.

EMPLOYEES HIT BY WAGE LEVY

City Workers Donate to Republican Campaign Fund—Voluntary, Hogue Says.

City employees, male and female, dug into purses today to pay Republican campaign assessments.

Ten per cent of a month's salary was the minimum asked.

City Controller Joseph L. Hogue acted as treasurer for the collection from city employees, while County Chairman William H. Freeman, member of the board of public works, spurred on the work from the side lines.

The levy followed declaration of a truce last week between the warring city hall and courthouse Republican factions.

Hogue said the contributions were voluntary.
