ASSEMBLY COMING Head of Presbyterian Church Here

By THE VISITOR
As the meeting place of important church conferences, Indianapolis is rapidly becoming a leading center.

Next May about a thousand commissioners of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in this country will meet here.

Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church, with offices in Philadelphia, arrived here today to perfect arrangements for the spring meeting of the assembly.

Dr. Mudge will preach Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian Church. This church will act as host to the commissioners attending the assembly.

Dr. Mudge became stated clerk by a call from the general assembly at Winona Lake in 1921.

The office which he holds is the chief permanent office of the denomination.

By a vote of the last general assembly, Dr. Mudge is administering the details of the revolutionary consolidation of the church boards and agencies in conjunction with a special reorganization committee of which Dr. John Timothy Stone of Chicago is chairman.

Chamber of Commerce Committees Plan Intensive Campaign for Oct. 9 to 16.

SAFETY AS NEW FEATURE

Committee on Laws and Ordinances to Fight Wooden Shingle Roofs.

A fall and winter program of fire and accident prevention under the auspices of the fire prevention committee of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce will include a "No Fire, No Accident Week," Oct. 9 to 16.

The personnel of a number of special committees which will be in charge of the fall campaign was made public by the fire prevention committee consisting of Frank C. Jordan, John J. O'Brien, chief of the Indianapolis fire force, and Jacob E. Riedel, chief of the division of fire prevention of the Indianapolis fire force.

Preliminary plans for the "No Fire, No Accident Week" will be discussed by the committee at the Chamber of Commerce building Tuesday.

The safety feature of the fire prevention committee's work is a new one, but it is the expectation of the executive committee that the idea of a "No Fire, No Accident week" will lend ultimately to the formation of a permanent committee on accident prevention, Mr. Jordan said.

To Prepare Bills
A committee on laws and ordinances has been named to prepare a more stringent ordinance in reference to the elimination of wooden shingle roofs in Indianapolis. The committee will also consider a bill by the State Legislature which would provide for personal liability for preventable fires.

The re-roofing of homes with fire resistant material will be urged by a special committee on fire resistant roofs, which is scheduled to conduct a campaign from Sept. 25 to Oct. 14.
