The Collar's Come Back

AND IT has come back in style—the very costliest and smartest frocks were the first to sponsor the collar, after a season or so of the practically collarless frock. The collar shown is an exquisite creation of real laces and embroidery; the way it is shown here features the deep part in front and the shallower portion in back; Jenny, the famous French designer, likes them just as well turned round, so surely an American woman may wear such a collar the way that most becomes her.

Another collar at $4.95 It is a charming style, composed of real laces, artfully patterned.

Other Pieces at 50c Vests and collar and cuff sets of organdy, in the Peter Pan style. Special.
