Factional Fight Develops in City Over Selection of Site for New Dam.

By Times Special.
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 28.—Water at $18.50 per tank car f. o. b. Bloomington is being shipped from Bedford at the rate of two trains daily to tide over the public utilities, creameries, bakeries and other essential industries of the city during the shortage. The springs emptying into the reservoirs of the city will have furnished sufficient flow for water to be turned on for a few hours today and again Monday morning, according to the city waterworks superintendent.

Local insurance rates on a number of factories have been boosted. Insurance firms are also doing a thriving business writing short term policies of from sixty to ninety days on real estate.

Factional strife has been started by the announcement that Herman S. Bowman and the Leonard Springs Quarries Company will bring suit against the city of Bloomington to hold them on a contract signed by the special committee of the city council purchasing 168 acres of land in what is known as the Leonard site for a waterworks.

Dr. W. F. King, health commissioner, and L. A. Guepel, State Sanitary Engineer met Friday with the student health committee of Indiana University and C. E. Harris, city health officer, to go into the health situation.

ORDINANCE PROTECTS GIRL'S VOICE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 28.—The city council here has passed an ordinance prohibiting a young girl singer from appearing in concert. Not that her voice is so bad—but so good. She is Marion Talley, 15-year-old school girl who comes from Nevada. Mr. Mm. Schumann-Helink says she has "the voice of a century."

And the citizens here agree. They gave a benefit concert in a large auditorium, raised a good-sized fund and will pay for the girl's training. But they do not want her to spoil her chances by singing too much before she's properly developed. So the mayor took a hand and had the municipal ordinance enacted.

GARY IS REGARDED STRONG FRIEND OF ECONOMIC PARLEY

Movement for International Conference Gains With Magnate's Address.

INDICATES DEFINITE TREND

Position on Debt Cancellation Is Unlike That of Other Financial Leaders.

By United Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The movement for an international economic conference has gained a new powerful recruit in Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation. Joining in the same suggestion which has recently come from bankers, exporters and other groups of business men, Judge Gary told the American Iron and Steel Institute that the nations should send delegates to Washington for another peace conference—to be conducted on the same high, open-minded scale as the armament conference—at which the financial problems of the world could be considered.

Statement Indicates Drift. His statement, coming in the trail of several similar ones from other influential quarters in the business world, was taken here to indicate a drift which may finally lead to the calling of such a conference. It is recalled that the armament conference was called only after the ground had been prepared by several months of agitation for it, among private groups.

Gary's position against cancellation of the foreign debt is somewhat different from that of many financiers who have recently spoken. But it accords with the view taken by Herbert Hoover in his recent Toledo speech. To cancel the foreign debts would be an act of forced charity which would not be agreeable to any self-respecting nation, nor to American citizens he said.

LOCAL TEACHERS WILL JOIN WITH THOSE OF STATE

Riley Memorial Fund Plan Changed in Accordance With Desire of State Convention.

Indianapolis public school teachers are wholeheartedly in favor of plans for the raising of a sufficient sum of money, by all the teachers of the State, for the erection of one of the ward buildings of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, according to a resolution passed at a meeting of a committee of teachers Friday. One teacher from each of the school buildings in the city attended the meeting, which was held in the business branch library.

The committee voted in favor of affiliating with the Indiana State Teachers' Association in the raising of a sum sufficient for the erection of one of the ward buildings of the hospital which will be a permanent memorial to all of the teachers of the State. The State association, at its convention here last week, approved such a plan by the adoption of a resolution. The local teachers had formerly planned to raise a fund for a memorial to Indianapolis school teachers alone, but following the action of the State association, has now decided to affiliate with the State.

Almus G. Ruddell, Marion County chairman, who attended the meeting, outlined how pledges may be paid one-fifth annually over a five-year period or may be made in cash. It was pointed out that if the teachers of the county give an average of $25 each, which they could pay over the five-year period, a sum of at least $35,000 would be raised.

Miss Martha Howes of school No. 3 acted as chairman of the meeting and H. D. Knight of school No. 1 acted as secretary. Speakers included D. T. Weir, assistant superintendent of schools; James W. Carr, Mr. Ruddell a number of the teachers present.

PRICKLY PEARS TO REPLACE MELONS

HUGHES REQUESTS REPORT OF FACTS ON MEXICAN WRIT

Attachment of Consulate for Contract Violation Stirs Officials to Action.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary of State Hughes has requested Governor Miller of New York to investigate immediately the full circumstances surrounding the issuance Wednesday by a New York judge of a writ attaching all funds of the Mexican government in the State of New York.

This action follows the filing of a protest with the State Department by the Mexican embassy against the court proceedings, which were the outcome of a suit entered against the Mexican government by the Oliver Trading Company, an American concern.

The State Department has asked the New York authorities to determine whether the court was within its rights in attaching these funds, it being the contention of the Washington authorities that the case is out of the jurisdiction of the American courts.

Big Contract Involved

Supreme Court Justice Tompkins, of Rockland County, on Wednesday issued a writ in favor of the Oliver Trading Company attaching all Mexican funds and property, particularly money in New York banks and oil companies and the Mexican consulate in New York City. The case arose out of a $1,250,000 contract with the Mexican government.

Mexican charge d'affaires Tellez at Washington immediately ordered Consul General Sanchez to close the New York Consulate and entered protest with the Secretary of State. Tellez contended that inasmuch as the contract in litigation was entered into in Mexico City, the matter was one for the Mexican Property in the United States is "Sovereign" and it is understood that in both instances he is upheld by the State Department.

SOAP BOX ORATOR RAPS SOCIALISM

Jack O'Brien Holds First of Series of Anti-Radical Meetings Here.

"Soap Box" Jack O'Brien, executive director of the Constitutional Defense League and anti-radical lecturer, last night at Delaware and Washington Sts., held the first of a series of meetings in a campaign which his organization has started in this city. O'Brien declared himself to be opposed to class hatred and all other forms of pernicious agitation that are inimical to the political traditions of the American people. He explained the purposes of the league and declared that it stands for the methods of making political changes provided under the Constitution.

"Socialism has an unbroken record of failure," O'Brien said. "His program calls for a new method of distributing the wealth of the world. That can be worked out, but in the meantime production must be kept up and constantly increased. The Russian experiment has proved that a socialist state is unable to keep up production and feed the people." O'Brien will speak tonight at Market and Illinois Sts.

NATION AWAITS CHANGED POLICY AMONG DEBTORS

Official Washington Regards Isolation as Temporary, Pending Stability.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—While the present isolation of the United States, as regards European economic rehabilitation, is said to be only temporary, at the same time, so long as the creditor nations of Europe, along with their debtors, continue to approach the edge of the economic precipice, America can only stand by and wait, what now seems to be, the inevitable catastrophe, Washington officials agree.

International experts here aver that France maintains the greater part of an army of 2,000,000 men on the very borders of Germany, whose army is now 200,000; that France continues compulsory military training so that she has a potential army within the next fifteen years of from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 men; that France is adhering to an erroneous policy with regard to reparations; and that she is apparently attempting to create a situation so intolerable as to force this country to cancel the French war debt of some $3,750,000,000. In this regard, Gary's statement of opposition against cancellation of the allied debt meets with hearty approval of the Administration.

Beyond this, however, the United States can not go at this time. Until Europe establishes an equitable basis on which a conference can be held—in other words, the moral will be to help itself by reducing land armaments and the suggestions of Judge Gary and of all those who are adding their voices to the growing demand for a world conference on economics can not be acted upon.
