

RALSTON LEADS BEVERIDGE 35,000

Plurality Is Larger Than Senator-Elect or Friends Had Earlier Anticipated.

OLIVER'S RACE IS CLOSE

Control of House of Representatives Presents Neck and Neck Contest—Vote Piles Up.

With unofficial returns virtually complete, indications were that the plurality of Samuel M. Ralston, Democrat, for United States Senator, was approximately 35,000. This plurality is larger than that anticipated by Mr. Ralston's friends and the Senator-elect himself, even after many returns had been received.

It became certain that the Democrats had elected no more than five Congressmen as returns were being completed. The Democrats were successful in the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Eleventh districts. The Republicans carried the remaining eight districts.

Oliver's Fate in Doubt

Interest is now being centered largely in the races by candidates on the State ticket. The future contest is that between William G. Oliver, Republican, and Robert Bracken, Democrat, for auditor of State. Latest returns indicate Bracken is running ahead. The only Republican State candidate definitely defeated is Patrick J. Lynch for clerk of the Supreme Court. Lynch was defeated by Zachariah T. Dungan of Huntington.

Returns on the contests for the State Legislature have been slow in coming in because of the greater interest in other contests.

Indication were that the two parties were running neck and neck for control of the House of Representatives. It was apparent that the Democrats would have a formidable minority in the House, if not an actual majority.

Republicans Hold Senate
In the Senate, the Republicans are assured of a working majority because of the fact that they have twenty-three holdover Senators with twenty-five new Senators to be elected.

The Legislature will convene early in January for the final session of the McCray administration. Administration leaders were showing a great deal of concern over the legislative fight because it was said a Democratic majority in either house would be embarrassing to the Administration with the questions of taxes, the new reformatory and numerous other major problems to be solved.

One feature of the legislative contest was the defeat of Claude Smith of Princeton, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Although the vote in Marion County was somewhat lighter than usual, returns from over the State indicate a vote nearly as large as that of 1920.

In the election Tuesday in the neighborhood of 1,100,000 votes were cast. Two years ago the vote was approximately 1,250,000.

LOCAL G. O. P. FAVORS REMY; DEXTER LAST

Charles F. Remy, nominee for judge of Appellate Court, First division, received more votes in Marion County than any Republican candidate, complete official returns, officially tabulated, showed today. He had 50,517. Zachariah T. Dungan, nominee for clerk of Supreme Court, led Democrats in number of votes, with 51,841.

Thomas M. Dexter, colored, candidate for State representative, was the low man on the Republican list with 25,247, or 15,730 less than Remy, showing the remarkable range of the scratching. Joseph P. Turk, for Congress, was the low Democrat, with 40,067, or 11,774 below Dungan. Turk ran on a wet platform.

The difference between the vote of Louis C. Schwartz, the leading Democrat elected to the State Legislature, and Dexter, the low Republican legislative candidate, was 14,061. This appeared to be the widest margin between a Republican and Democratic nominee in the county.

Dungan Is Favorite
A better basis of comparison, however, probably would be the race between Dungan, Democrat, and Lynch, Republican, for clerk of Supreme Court. Dungan defeated Lynch by 13,603 votes.

Albert J. Beveridge, Republican, for United States Senator, ran 7,841 behind Remy, the ticket leader, in number of votes received.

Samuel M. Ralston, Democrat, for United States Senator, ran only 3,180 behind Dungan, the leading Democrat.

FIRST DEMOCRAT TRUSTEE IN 45 YEARS IS ELECTED

Bert F. Yeager is the first Democrat to be elected trustee of Decatur Township in forty-five years. He beat Oliver W. David, Republican, by a vote of 412 to 334.

Roland Fields, Republican, beat Frank Bishop, Democrat for assessor, 441 to 315.

Austin C. Mendenhall, Clarence A. Mills, L. S. Seerley, Levi Paddock, Charles Thornberry and Russell Whinnings, all Republicans, were unopposed for the township advisory board.

POULTRY SCHOOL WILL BE FEATURE OF EXPOSITION

Dr. L. D. Leger's Poultry School will be one of the many interesting features at the Breeders' and Fanciers' Poultry Show, Nov. 21 to 25, inclusive, at 25 N. Alabama St.

Dr. Leger's exhibit and daily lectures consist of a very interesting exposition of his course of instruction to young poultry breeders.

Dr. Leger is a foremost authority and owner of many grand prize medals and ribbons won at poultry shows throughout the country.

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still reduce steadily and easily without going through long stages of tireless exercise and starvation diet. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists the world over at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Company, 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.—Advertisement.

SLENDER THREAD THREATENS BREAK

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Republicans continued today to cling to control of the next Congress by a slender thread as the slow process of making returns from Tuesday's election complete was continued.

Latest available figures early today showed that the House stood Republicans 220; Democrats, 210; Socialists, 1; Independent, 1, with three scattered districts not heard from. These figures were expected to be revised some what later, as they conceded to the Republicans some districts still listed by the Democrats as doubtful.

Margin in Senate Slight
In the Senate the Republican margin will be eight or ten, depending on results of two close contests. In Utah, Senator King was not yet certain of his re-election, though he was leading in early morning returns by more than 1,700. North Dakota's returns were not complete because of bad weather and consequent delay in getting the count in from remote sections and it was therefore uncertain whether J. E. T. O'Connor, Democrat, or Lynn Frazier, Republican, had won.

Over night returns seemed to make conclusive the defeat of two more Republican stalwarts in the West—Senator Miles Poindexter, Washington, was ousted by C. C. Dill, his Democrat adversary, and Senator Frank B. Kellogg, Minnesota, who will be succeeded by Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Labor Non-Partisan League candidate. Kellogg's defeat by Shipstead was one of the most surprising upsets of the campaign, although it was evident for some time that Kellogg would not have an easy time.

Equal 1920 Landslide
Every new compilation of returns emphasized the sweeping character of the Democratic overturn which now appears to have equalled the Republican landslide of 1920. Political historians pointed today that off year elections such as occurred Tuesday, usually point the way to the political trend of the next presidential year. If that is borne out in this instance, the Democrats stand to win in 1924 by the most stupendous majorities ever polled in this country.

The magnitude of Democratic gains was shown by what happened in the senatorial fight. The Republicans lost nine States and may lose North Dakota, making total losses ten. The Democrats lost but two, Ohio and Nebraska, with Utah still in doubt.

MARSHALS GUARD COUNTY BALLOTS

By United Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—United States marshals stood guard over Cook County's election ballots today.

A detachment of special armed deputies took possession of the ballot boxes in the city hall, after Democrats charged the incumbent Republicans with scheming to rob them of their victories.

PUBLIC AUCTIONS COST CITY MONEY

The law which requires sale at public auction, under authority of an ordinance passed by the city council, of any property the city no longer has use for, is losing money for Indianapolis. City Purchasing Agent Jesse E. Miller told the board of public works today.

Harry B. Newby, superintendent of the municipal garage, reported there are several city automobiles in such condition it is uneconomical to attempt to repair and operate them longer.

If the city junks these cars and sells them at public auction they will bring from $25 to $50 each, past experience has proven, Miller said. On tradesmen for new cars, automobile firms would allow from $65 to $300 or $400, depending upon the kind of car, Miller said.

The board directed Miller to ascertain if the State board of accounts would approve some method of arranging a trade-in which, while technically getting around the law requiring authorization by ordinance and sale at public auction, would still comply with the spirit.

WOMEN COLLAPSE COUNTING VOTES

By Times Special
MARION, Ind., Nov. 9.—When Sheriff Bert Fowler of Grant County was dispatched by the county election board to the Eleventh precinct of Center Township to find out why the vote had not been reported he discovered that three women members of the board had collapsed at different times during the counting.

Unprecedented scratching made the counting unusually laborious and the women were unable to stand the strain. The election commissioners went to the precinct and completed the count.

William Frazee, 67, died of apoplexy while counting ballots with the election board in Van Buren Township, this county. He asked the board to stop counting, saying he was ill, and almost immediately became unconscious.
