

CONFERENCE AT LAUSANNE BOILS

Crucial Point in Near East
Questions Reached by Delegates.

ANGLO-TURK FIGHT ON OIL
America's Open Door Policy
Stirs Up Meeting.

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent
LAUSANNE, Nov. 27.—The crucial point in the Near Eastern conference has not been reached. Committee No. 1, beginning today will endeavor to settle the frontiers of Asiatic Turkey. A fight will be staged between the British and the Turks over rich Mosul oil fields, the Turks using the flaws in the British claim to enforce their other claims. The conference begins its discussion of territorial matters still reverberating from America's bombshell insisting that whatever settlement is reached should not conflict with the principles of the open door. The Russian contingent will demand equal status with the other powers.

HOLD-UP MAN GETS LITTLE
Sam McWhir, 530 W. New York St., was held up and robbed of a small amount of change last night, according to his story to the police. As McWhir was walking west toward home the man came up behind him and ordered him to "stick 'em up," and a search of his clothing gave up only a small amount of money.

Jackie Coogan Makes Realistic 'Oliver'; Lloyd in 'Dr. Jack' Is Good, Clean Fun

By WALTER D. HICKMAN
Jackie Coogan is the "symphony kid" of movie land.

He weaves sometimes a beautifully sad, silent symphony in "Oliver Twist" and at times he creates a burst of sunshine and joyous melody.

Jackie Coogan, by his work in Dickens' big story, "Oliver Twist," is entitled to a place in the hall of fame and I believe after you see this picture you will be proud to give this little chap a room all to himself in your hall of love. Several times I had the feeling that here was a big picture and an honest attempt to visualize a literary masterpiece. Both Coogan and the director deserve credit. The others in the cast must not be forgotten.

At the beginning of Coogan's screen career I had the impression that this lad might be just an accident. Under Chaplin's influence in "The Kid," I might have been justified in thinking he might be temporary, but after seeing him in "Oliver Twist" I know that he is a juvenile genius. He will grow and grow.

Coogan's artistry—which proves to me he is not an accident—is revealed many times in his latest movie. This chap talks to your heart every minute. When he opens those eyes in an appealing way for another bowl of oatmeal in a poorhouse in London, well—those eyes tell the whole story. You need no sub titles. Jackie's eyes beg for another bowl. It gets into your heart, into your very blood. Again is his artistry apparent when he becomes a walking advertisement for an undertaker. He wears a miniature frock coat and long trousers and a high hat decorated in crepe. He looks like the last word at the end of the world. Sad, but deliciously funny.

Coogan's artistry again is revealed when he is being taught by Fagin to be a thief. Oliver thinks it is only a game and Jackie plays it as a game of childhood. Here again his eyes tell the whole story.

"Oliver Twist" is a character study in human shadows. Fagin, Monks and the others of the gang are not comedy characters. They are living symbols of London's past. Lon Chaney is the Fagin. He does wonders with this part and makes it a complete characterization. You would expect him to do this. Blady Brockwell is Nancy and a sad and sweet Nancy she is. The brutal murder scene has been treated in a dramatic but practical way by the director.

I know you will want to know the entire case (it is a noteworthy one), and here it is:

Oliver Twist Jackie Coogan
Fagin Lon Chaney
Nancy Gladys Brockwell
Bill Sikes George Sigmund
The Artful Dodger Edward Trebas
Mr. Brownlow Lionel Belmore
Monks Carl Stockdale
Toby Crackit Eddie Boland
Charlie Bates Taylor Graves
Sash Claypool Lewis Sargent
Bumble and Beadle James Marcus
Mrs. Corney Asta Kerning
Charlotte Joan Standing
Rose Maylie Esther Ralston
Mrs. Bedwin Florence Hale
Sowerberry Nelson McDowell
Mr. Grimshaw Joseph M. Hazleton
Jackie Coogan's "Oliver Twist" is one of the pictures of the year. Take your whole family to it, and if you are not married take your best girl and all her little brothers and sisters to the Circle this week, where the Coogan picture is being presented. The Circle's bill includes the regular musical program, a comedy, news reels and other features. You are treating yourself badly if you don't see Coogan in "Oliver Twist." At the Circle all week.

Lloyd Builds Aircrafts
Harold Lloyd builds aircrafts, watches them tumble down and builds them all over again in "Doctor Jack," his latest long feature, at the Apollo this week.

HAROLD LLOYD

"Doctor Jack" is clean, wholesome and full of sunshine. It is more proof that slapstick comedy is not needed to make you laugh. This comedy has a story. It concerns the efforts of a young doctor in dealing honestly with his patients. Of course, there is a romance in the story. Doctor Jack meets the pretty blonde, who is being kept ill by an "eminent specialist." He falls in love with her and decided to use his own methods to make her well. He discovers there is nothing seriously the matter with her and that all she needs is excitement.

The balance of the picture shows Doctor Jack creating excitement for the "sick little well girl." The girl "snaps out of it" and is in Doctor Jack's arms before many minutes elapse.

You will laugh your head off at this comedy. We did. It is certainly a "bushel of fun."

In the cast are Mildred Davis, Erle Mayne, John T. Prince, Norman Hammond and Mrs. Anna Townsend, who played grandma in "Grandma's Boy."

"Doctor Jack" is one comedy the youngsters can see. They will enjoy it, too, for the doctor treats children as well as good-looking blondes. In one instance he is summoned by an urgent telephone call to help save the life of a child. When he arrives he discovers that the child in this case was a doll that had fallen into a well. To please the little "mother" of the doll, he prescribes for it.

The program includes Lee Mahoney in "Drifting," a news weekly, music by Tade Dolan's Synopated Six and a solo by Bud McIntyre.—By the Observer.

Second Thoughts on "Knighthood"
"When Knighthood Was in Flower" is now in its second week at the Ohio Theater. Several readers of this department have informed the writer they saw this movie twice at the Ohio last week. There is so much rare pictorial beauty in it that it is not surprising movie fans want to see it twice. I admit I have the same weakness. The cast is notable, as it includes Marion Davies, Forrest Stanley, Flora Finch, Lyn Harding and many others. This movie has beaten another costume movie, "Robin Hood," with Harry Carey in "The Kick-Back" is the chief offering at Mister Smith's this week. Carey is following the lead of several other stars and is writing his own vehicles. It is based on the idea that there must be a thrill every hundred feet of film. Henry B. Walthall and Ethel Grey Terry are in the cast.

The remainder of the program is devoted to serials. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes are enacted in "The Noble Bachelor," and the champion Indian fighter has more adventures in "In the Days of Buffalo Bill."—By the Observer.

More Movies

It is based on the idea that there must be a thrill every hundred feet of film. Henry B. Walthall and Ethel Grey Terry are in the cast.

The Regent is offering a lengthy bill, consisting of William (Bill) Fairbanks in "Sheriff of Sun Dog," Charles Hutchinson in another episode of the serial "Speed" and Paul Parrott in "The Filver."

The Colonial is offering Gloria Swanson in a new Paramount picture, "The Impossible Mrs. Bellow."

On the Stage
Pauline Frederick in "The Guilty One," not a movie, but a play with Miss Frederick in person, opens a three-day engagement tonight at the Murat.

Tonight at English's, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" opens a three-day engagement.

Connie Is With Us Again
Connie Talmadge (beg pardon, Constance Talmadge) is looking for a man who "will speed her off her feet."

This happens in "Romance and Ambella." She tries to find the "human carpet sweeper" in four or five suitors.

Among the suitors were an artist, a rancher, a youngster, an old professor and a chap next door by the name of Bill. It is Bill who provides Constance with so many suitors, but just the same it remains for Bill to sweep her off her feet and carry her to the altar.

Our Monte Blue is one of the lovers. Rather expected Monte to sweep Constance off her feet, but Harrison Ford did the trick. Others in the cast include Arthur Short, Arthur Carew and Gertrude Claire.

It is just a light comedy. It is the sort of thing which Miss Talmadge does well.

At the Isis all week.

The remainder of the program is devoted to serials. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes are enacted in "The Noble Bachelor," and the champion Indian fighter has more adventures in "In the Days of Buffalo Bill."—By the Observer.

Vaudeville headliners for the week are: "Young America" at the Palace; Maryon Vadie and Ota Gygi at Keith's and the Jarvis Revue at the Lyric.

The Broadway is offering "Georgia Peaches" and the Park is presenting a Columbia wheel burlesque show, "The Greenwich Village Revue."

The Rialto comes under a new policy of musical comedy, vaudeville and movies this week.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.
