

WEEK OF PRAYER BEING OBSERVED

Dr. Kistler to Hold Meetings Nightly at Fourth Presbyterian.

By THE VISITOR

A New Year's call to Thanksgiving and prayer, which has been issued by the Federal Council of Churches, will be observed this week by Indianapolis churches.

The week of prayer, which the council wants observed, begins today and continues all week in this country.

Dr. Edward Haines Kistler at the Fourth Presbyterian Church yesterday began observing the week of prayer with a special sermon at the morning hour. Tonight he will preach on "The Forward Look." Various speakers will appear each night this week at the Fourth Presbyterian Church.

The council proposes the following program of prayer for today:

Topic—"Thanksgiving and Confession."

Scripture Readings—Psalm xl.; Matt. xvii, 1-21; II Cor. iv.

Let us give thanks for another year of the infinite patience and mercy of God.

For every victory in our individual and national life of the Spirit of Christ.

For the sense of failure revealing the greatness of our task; for the breakdown of worldly policies and the emptiness of earthly success, revealing our need of Christ and His sufficiency.

For every adventure of faith through the overcoming of fear and doubt, and God's response of it.

Let Us Confess—Our failure in past resolves; our lack of obedience; our denial of the spirit of fellowship; our feeble grasp of the range and glory of Christ's Kingdom on earth; the closed mind and the hard heart and the censorious temper.

And Let Us Pray—"For the spirit of utter sincerity; the open mind to truth from whatever quarter; the ready heart to carry burdens in fellowship with Christ; the spirit of practical service and sacrificial sympathy; the willingness to learn from those to whom by temperament or conviction we are opposed. That being stripped of pride and searched in heart before the cross, we may claim no standing but in His mercy and grace."

Many churches will indirectly take part in the national observance as many revivals are now in progress.

'FAG END TO CHRIST'

"Personal work in religion is the best evangelistic campaign, the best way to win souls for Christ," said Dr. Matthew F. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in his sermon Sunday morning. "A Christian cannot give the best in him to the world, leaving the fag end to Christ, and expect good results," said Dr. Smith.

A call for 125 personal workers was made by the pastor. The campaign will continue until Easter. The Men's Club dinner, a "father and son" feast, will be held at 6 p. m. Friday night in the church basement. Earl R. Baker is in charge of the arrangements.

HISTORY POINTS WAY

The aim of H. G. Wells in writing his "Outline of History" was to throw light on present-day conditions and not merely to record the past, according to Dr. Frank S. C. Wells, pastor of the All Souls Unitarian Church, in a sermon Sunday.

"Wells would have Christianity unite mankind with faith," said Dr. Wells. "He describes the passing of power from parliaments and kings to the people. If the people are united and use power ignorantly, Wells shows that history will record the collapse of another great civilization."

CHRIST IS PILOT

A plea for the acceptance of Jesus Christ as a pilot through life was sounded at the Cadle Tabernacle yesterday afternoon by Maj. Earle F. Hites, pastor.

"You cannot afford to sail the uncharted seas without a pilot," said Major Hites. "You will face ultimate shipwreck. Sin and pain are the results. The gospel of Jesus is the best medicine for one who is lost in uncertainty and doubt."

Music for the service was furnished by the Gypsy Smith choir. Mrs. William E. Duthie played a twenty-minute organ recital.

FAITH BRINGS POWER

"The man who would do the impossible must put his faith in God," said Rev. Frank L. Lewis, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, in a sermon Sunday night on "Doing the Impossible." "The world," he said, "is made up of three classes of people: Those who choose the easy way always; those who choose the hard things to do and do much of the world's work and those who do that which seems impossible. These latter names have been written in history."

AVARICE DRAGON

Temptation to use one's own ability for personal gain is the greatest dragon that mankind is called on to fight today, said the Rev. U. S. Clutton, pastor of the Tuxedo Baptist Church, in his sermon yesterday on "Fighting the Dragon."

"The dragon of temptation is to seek personal gain, personal power, honor and popularity, disdaining the work God would have us do for others," Dr. Clutton asserted.

RUSKIN SHOWS WAY

"Ruskin has set out for us the seven lamps of architecture and they are applicable to the building of character," declared the Rev. N. S. Receivers From La Grippe Cough

"Was very bad with La Grippe and had a severe cough. Tried Foley's Honey and Tar and it stopped my cough and I got better," writes Mrs. Mary Kibby, Spokane, Wash. Coughs resulting from La Grippe, Influenza, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Spasmodic Croup are quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Largest selling cough medicine in the world. Refuse substitutes. Insist on Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold everywhere.—Advertisement.

Sichterman, pastor of the Grace Presbyterian Church, in a sermon last night on "The Seven Lamps of Character Building."

These seven lamps of character building are sacrifice, truth, power, beauty, life, memory and obedience, he said. "We need each of them, well-developed, in great character."

PROFESSOR IN PULPIT

Christianity as a disposition of the individual was the text of a sermon delivered Sunday by Dr. C. S. Gardner of Louisville, a professor of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, substituting for Dr. Frederick E. Taylor, pastor at the First Baptist Church. Dr. Robert J. Ale, president of Butler College, will speak tonight at the Brotherhood dinner on "Saint Paul."

OPPORTUNITY EMPHASIZED

Men who succeed must avail themselves of immediate opportunities, said Merle Sidener, teacher of the Christian Men Builders, Inc., a young men's class of the Third Christian Church, in a discussion of "1923 Prospects." Progress during the war, Sidener said, was due mainly to the necessity of the times and the fact that things were pushed on us.

NEW GOAL SET

A goal of 8,000 average total attendance in the Christian (Disciples of Christ) churches of the city for 1923 was announced yesterday in the Sunday schools. The average attendance in the Sunday schools in 1922 was 7,462 and the total offerings, $26,287.33. Average attendance in 1919 was 5,426.

CHRIST UNIVERSAL MAN

"Jesus Christ is the only universal man in all history," said the Rev. J. P. Cowan, pastor of the Woodruff United Presbyterian Church, in his sermon Sunday on "The Universal Man." "Christ is the one man to whom all knees can bow in reverence," he said. "He was destined to be known among all the men of the world."

GODS 'LOVE UNIVERSAL

Love of God as the universal privilege of mankind was the subject of a sermon delivered last night by the Rev. Orlen W. Pifer, pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Pifer will be in charge of the prayer service at a meeting Thursday night, at which Charles F. Coffin will speak.

MUST FEED SOUL

"We may die from spiritual as well as physical starvation," said Dr. Virgil Thompson, conference secretary of the Evansville College, at the Boys' Big Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday, talking on "The Chemistry of Manhood." "The mind and soul of man must be fed as well as the body, to live," he declared.

GOLDEN RULE GAINS

"Christianity has not failed, but it is about to be discovered," said the Rev. W. B. Farmer, pastor of the Broadway M. E. Church, in a sermon Sunday on "Business by the Golden Rule." More business is being done now by the Golden Rule than ever, he added.

SOUL-WINNER WISE

"The soul-winner is the wisest man in the world, because Jesus Christ has commanded that souls be won for Him," said the Rev. Charles P. Martin, pastor of the Brookside United Brethren Church, in his sermon Sunday on "True Wisdom."

ANGELS GUIDE

Divine guarding and guidance of God's angels is the greatest body-guard one can have, declared the Rev. M. L. Schneider, pastor of the Second Evangelical Church, in his sermon yesterday on "Guiding and Guarding Angels."

Roast Beef Days in Merry England Revealed in Fairbanks' 'Robin Hood'

By WALTER D. HICKMAN

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "Robin Hood" has turned out the best movie I have ever seen. Watch your words, you say. I am and I have thought over what I am going to say for days as I saw "Robin Hood" at a private showing before its Indiana opening at the Circle yesterday.

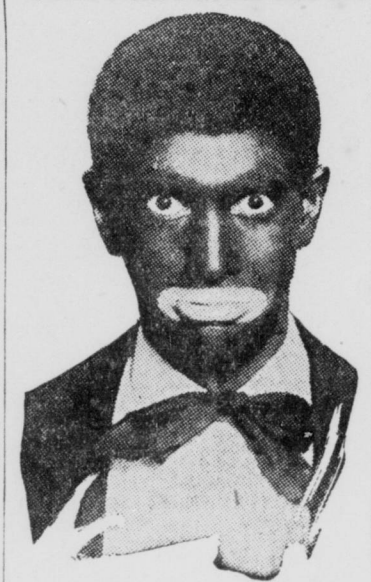

"Robin Hood" is better than I hoped for. This picture renews my faith in American-made movies.

ROMANCE of the days when knights were bold and kings went on long trips to the holy lands is revealed in this Fairbanks movie. It is performed with as sweet a love story as one could dream. It is filled with such romantic characters as Friar Tuck, Alan-a-Dale, Robin Hood, Little John, King Richard, known as the Lion Hearted, and many others.

FAIRBANKS

Star of Stage Revue Sees Fairbanks Movie

AL JOLSON

Al Jolson arrived in town yesterday and visited the Circle Theater to see Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood." He was the guest of Ralph Lieber, manager of the Circle. Jolson opens his engagement tonight in "Bombo" at the Murat.

STORYLAND comes to life in the old days in England 800 years ago lives again. The cream of romantic literature has been photographed. As you witness the adventures of Fairbanks, first as the Earl of Huntingdon and later as Robin Hood, the leader of a merry band of outlaws who are virgins compared to the gang that Prince John had around him, that wonderful glow of complete satisfaction comes over you.

If you have forgotten the days when you knelt at your mother's knee and listened to the reading of "Robin Hood," then this movie will bring back those days. Remember that none of us are too old or too important to recall the memories of the days when we dreamed of bold knights and a lady fair.

People who are howling for better movies will do well to study this movie. Ralph Lieber, manager of the Circle, told me that yesterday his theater broke all records in face of bad weather. This picture has cost fortunes and it deserves a packed theater at every performance.

PARDON ME, but I can't find words enough to praise this picture. I am going to outline the things which appealed to me the most. Here they are: The marvelous acting of Wallace Beery as King Richard I; the marvelously haunting beauty of the castle scenes as well as the forest where Robin Hood and his merry men gathered; the regal beauty and fine acting of Ed Bennett as Lady Marian; the Red glow of romance which runs through the entire picture; the Crusade scenes; the really wonderful tournament; the striking work of Fairbanks in every scene and hundreds of other things I could mention.

Thousands of people have been used to relate this wonderfully romantic story. Castles, a forest and the town of Nottingham all have been erected. The very vastness of the undertaking startles me. The great day in movieland has arrived and that day when "Robin Hood" was first revealed to an audience.

The regular Fairbanks habits of thrilling one are used in "Robin Hood." He fights in close quarters; he fights dozens at a time. He scales the walls of palaces; jumps from tree to tree, always outwitting those who follow him.

The cast of principals is as follows: King Richard I. Wallace Beery; Prince John. Sam de Grassa; Lady Marian. Ed Bennett; Sir Guy of Gisbourne. Paul Dickey; The Sheriff of Nottingham. William Lowery; Little John. Alan Hale; Friar Tuck. Willard Louis; Alan-a-Dale. Dick Rosson; The King's Jester. Roy Coulton; The Earl of Huntingdon. Douglas Fairbanks; Robin Hood. "Robin Hood" is one picture that I do not have to urge you to see. You will be lucky if you can get a seat at the Circle. So I suggest that, if you can, go as early as possible. If you must wait in line be good natured, because you will enjoy the world's best picture.

Douglas Fairbanks' "Robin Hood" remains at the Circle all week.

To Cry or Not to Cry, That's the Big Question

Here is a tip.

When you go to the Apollo this week take a handkerchief with you because the lady next to you may send you an S. O. S. The signal means "Please give me another handkerchief, mine is full of tears."

Some people have a grand time when they are crying. That William Fox knows and that is the reason he ordered "Who Are My Parents?" made into a movie.

And cry they do on seeing this movie. Every one was crying around me. I heard gasps of "Oh, it is too sweet for words" and "Bertha, have you another handkerchief." Every body seemed to have a fine time. So why should I kick. The whole affair was comedy to me. (Isn't he a hard hearted brute?)

I am not going to poke fun at a picture that can move people to tears and cause every one to be sweet and re-eyed. I have to admit that a picture which can sway the emotions has real power whether it comes up to my idea of a good movie. I am not the most wise person on earth and I will take my hat off to the movie producer who can make people shed a tear or two these days.

I heard people all around me express satisfaction at "Who Are My Parents?" I think the general appeal of this movie rests in the children. A fine bunch of youngsters are used in this picture. These kiddies will get right into your heart. When they cry, well I'll wager you that you will cry or kick yourself to keep from crying.

The story is far fetched and not too clearly developed, but your interest will center upon the children. The lesson seems to be that if there are no children in a home you are sure to find one at an orphanage.

The bill includes a comedy, "Out of Place," a news weekly, the Hoosier Harmony Three and Virgin Moore's orchestra.

At the Apollo all week.

A Toothache May Give

One a Fortune and an Auto.

A cowboy, suffering with a toothache, decides to leave the ranch and take a short vacation until his swollen jaw is better. He tells the boys that he is going on a fishing trip. Two years later he returns in a powerful motor car with a wife and a baby.

What happens in the two years makes the story of "The Lone Hand" a picture featuring Hoot Gibson at the Isis for the first half of the week.

The rest of the story concerns the efforts of the cow puncher to add an old miner who had discovered a great gold mine. He fights off a gang of crooks who tried to steal the mine and finally wins the hand of the miner's daughter. The rest of the story you know.

The program includes a Harold Lloyd comedy.

Bill Shakespeare Planted

The Germ For This Movie Play

Shakespeare might turn over in his grave if he knew that a movie producer has placed two shrews in one play.

Bill did a fine job with Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew" but E. Mason Harper, a movie director, has gone a step better and placed two "Katherines" in a rip snorting movie comedy by the name of "Brothers Under the Skin."

It is a Goldenwyn picture and take it from me, this well done little comedy handed me one laugh after another. Pardon the slang but it expresses my sentiments.

The Newtons lived in a small flat on a salary of $35 per week. They couldn't make both ends meet, financially speaking. The Kirtlands lived in a mansion. They couldn't live on $55,000 a year. Both women ruled their husbands. The women always had the last word.

The wealthy Mrs. Kirtland expresses her extravagance by ordering a $10,000 coat. Poor Mrs. Newton gets the same fever and orders a costly floor lamp. Kirtland could afford the expensive coat. Newton couldn't dig up the cash to pay for the lamp.

So the authors bring the two husbands together and they decide to run their own homes.

Oh man. How those husbands tame their shrews. The author of this movie must have been thinking of Bill Shakespeare.

The cast is good, consisting of Pat O'Malley and Helene Chadwick as the Newtons, and Norman Kerry and Claire Windsor as the Kirtlands. The subtitles are good laugh getters.

The truth is you are bound to have a grand time at the Ohio this week when you see "Brothers Under the Skin."

WORDLINESS DECIED

"It is a terrible thing to cast oneself out of the way of Jesus and lose Him," declared the Rev. C. H. Ross, pastor of the Cumberland M. E. Church, in a sermon last night on "Losing Jesus." People are becoming too absorbed in the things of the world, giving themselves up to the pleasures of the world, he asserted.

Feel Lame, Achy— All Worn-Out?

IS a dull, throbbing backache making you old and miserable? Are you tired and lame, and tortured with stabbing pains at every sudden move? Do you feel all worn-out—as if you just can't keep going? Surely, then, you should be finding out what is wrong. Winter-time, for many folks, is backache time—a common sign that the kidneys need help.

Winter colds and chills strain the kidneys and slow them up. Poisons accumulate and then comes that all-played-out feeling and those mysterious aches and pains. You are nervous, have headaches, dizzy spells, and annoying bladder irregularities. Don't risk a serious kidney sickness. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills.
