

COUNCIL GIVES NEW TRAFFIC REGULATIONS TO INDIANAPOLIS

SCHOOL TRUSTEES GIVEN CHANCE TO ANSWER CHARGES

C. of C. Committee Invites Three Under Fire to Appear Feb. 15.

Three members of the school board, whose resignations were recommended in a report of the sub-committee of the education committee of the Chamber of Commerce last week, will be invited to appear before the education committee and the board of directors Feb. 15.

This was decided by the education committee Monday night in a long and, at times, stormy session. The three under fire, Adolf Emhardt, Dr. Marie Hasler and Bert S. Gadd, previously had asked thirty days in which to prepare a statement.

It was voted to accept the report of the sub-committee with the exception of that part referring to the resignations. Efforts were made to have the report approved without change, but Emhardt, C. Downey and Isadore Feibleman led the fight against such action without giving the commissioners a hearing.

Philip Zoercher, member of the State tax board and of the sub-committee, presided. He made a lengthy defense of Charles L. Barry, school board president in 1922.

The board members refused to say whether they would appear before the committee.

Friends have urged them to ignore the action, it was learned, on the grounds that the committee has been "packed" and will bring in an adverse report regardless of arguments.

In this event, it generally is believed impeachment proceedings would be instituted.

20 ARE MISSING IN WICHITA FIRE

Firemen Search Apartment House Ruins for Bodies.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 6.—Firemen risked their lives, time and again, beneath tottering walls today in the hope of finding bodies of some of the twenty persons missing as a result of a fire yesterday which destroyed an apartment building here.

Three charred bodies had been taken from the debris today and eight persons, seriously burned were in hospitals.

The bodies of a Mrs. Long and her son may be reached early today after which firemen planned a detailed search of the ruins.

The fire broke out early yesterday morning and when discovered had wrapped the building in smoke and flames. Tenants were awakened to find the stairways burning and ordinary escape impossible.

Many clung to fire escapes and window ledges in flimsy attire until firemen arrived and rescued them with ladders. A number slid down ropes to safety, but were seriously scorched.

The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Mr. McLean assumed his duties here Feb. 1, coming from the Chicago Art Museum, where he was assistant director.

SWITCHMAN'S LEG CRUSHED BY CAR

Walter Hixon Injured in Big Four Yards.

Walter Hixon, 35, of 1315 Prospect St., Big Four Railroad switchman, early today fell under a freight car in the Hill yards southeast of the city. His left leg was crushed off above the knee and his right ankle was badly crushed. Big Four engine No. 6789 was used to bring him to the city. He was taken to the Methodist hospital. Hixon was suffering so much he was unable to tell how the accident occurred. W. E. Boyd, 1112 Hoyt Ave., conductor, said that Hixon was thrown off a rear car and that the wheels of that car passed over him. E. H. McCormick, 325 S. State Ave., switchman, said that he was riding on the rear end of the last car and that the car failed to uncouple and the jerk knocked Hixon off.

BOARD OF SAFETY PATCHES QUARREL

Market Women Tell of Heated Argument.

"As long as that woman didn't talk about my form we got along all right," Mrs. Albert Leventhal, 2002 Koehne St., holder of a stand at the city market house, told the board of safety today about an argument with Mrs. Rose E. Woodruff, 5309 Brookville Rd., owner of a neighboring stand. "She told customers the sausage I sold was spoiled, and that I had to stay in bed while I got my clothes washed," Mrs. Leventhal declared. "Well, your sausage was spoiled and your husband stood around the stand and pointed his finger at this poor little girl," Mrs. Woodruff said, pointing to a child sitting by her. "I never had any trouble with any other neighbors."

"Is that so?" Mrs. Leventhal interrupted.

"Say," said Ernest L. Kingston, president of the board, "you two go back over there and stay together a while longer. If you cannot get along we'll put some one in those stands that can."

NEW MOVE IN ROAD FIGHT

Senate Gets Paving Measure Similar to That in House.

Additional moves against the practice of the State highway commission to let most hard surface road contracts in concrete were made when Senators Penrod, Neff and Richards jointly introduced a measure to prohibit the commission from allowing more than 30 per cent of the roads to be paved with one material. It is also provided that bids for five kinds of road material must be asked for. A similar bill was introduced in the House.

Cheap

By United Press CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Bread was selling at 2 cents for the 16-ounce loaf here today, with indications that the price would go lower. The cut in bread prices is the result of a "cut price war," waged by two competing chain store organizations.

Officials of one of the competitors declared today that "bread will be given away with every purchase if our hand is forced."

ARREST OF CLARA PHILLIPS PLANNED

Fate Hangs on Delivery of Dope Ring Leader to U. S.

By United Press EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 6.—The fate of Clara Phillips, hammer murderess, now hiding in Chihuahua, hangs on the delivery of "Little Phil" Alquist, dope ring leader, and alleged slayer of Detective Sergeant John J. Fitzgerald, into the hands of American authorities, officials here believed today.

When "Little Phil" is landed, Herbert and Fernaldo Uribe, charged with possessing a stolen automobile, will be freed.

Chief of Police Oakes of Los Angeles promised the boy's father Dr. Uribe, and to Herbert's beautiful wife, Catherine, that should "Little Phil" be put across the border, the two boys would be freed unconditionally.

Barring slips in present plans, freeing of the two boys will be the signal for Clara's arrest.

SUSPENSION IS REVOKED

Lucius Wilson Sent to Prison on Fourth Conviction.

The hand of the law fell heavily on Louis Johnson, alias Lucius Wilson, 35, of 525 Talbot Ave., after four convictions and fines on charges of violating the liquor laws.

On Dec. 22, Johnson was fined $200 and sentenced to sixty days on the Indiana State Farm. Prison sentence was suspended by City Judge Pro Tem Thomas Garvin. According to evidence, Johnson sold Federal Officer Ward a pint of whiskey for $7.

Suspension of the prison sentence was revoked today by Judge Wilmett when evidence was presented that Johnson had sold whiskey recently to a decoy of Ward.

Flat-to-Curb Parking Continued—Preferential Streets Are Created—No Provisions for Penalties for Jay-Walking—Power Ordinance Held Up.

Indianapolis has a new traffic code. The measure was passed Monday night by city council, 8 to 1. Councilman Buchanan opposing.

The new code takes precedence over all existing rules and police orders. Three amendments to the original draft were offered by Councilman Wise, one making Washington a preferential street. Another giving traffic from the right the right of way over left traffic, and the third permitting left turns at the intersections of Ohio and Meridian Sts. and Ohio and Illinois Sts.

The ordinance prohibits all turns at Washington and Meridian Sts. No left turns can be made at the intersections of Washington and Illinois Sts., Pennsylvania and Meridian Sts., and Capitol Ave. and Ohio and Pennsylvania Sts.

Flat-to-Curb Parking

Flat-to-curb parking will continue. No provision is made for jay-walking.

North and south traffic has the right-of-way except on all boulevards, E. Tenth St., W. Michigan St., E. New York St., Oliver Ave., Washington St. and Virginia, Indiana, Massachusetts and Kentucky Aves.

All vehicles must come to a stop before entering Capitol Ave. from Washington St. to Maple Rd., N. Meridian St., Maple Rd., E. New York St. from the Big Four Railroad bridge to Emerson Ave., and all boulevards. The code extends the limited parking district to one and one-half hours to include Washington St. from East to West Sts. The present district is on Washington from Capitol Ave. to Alabama St.

No Decision on T. H. I. & E.

After a two-hour caucus of the Republican majority before the council meeting no decision was reached on the proposed ordinance permitting the T. H. I. & E. Traction Company to enter the commercial power business in Indianapolis. The measure was not called out of the committee.

Annexation of the State fairground was passed over the mayor's veto. In vetoing the ordinance, Mayor Shank said police protection costing thousands of dollars would have to be given during State fair week the burden of which is now borne by the State.

Other ordinances passed were: Appropriating $13,200 to build a pier at the bridge over White River at Harding St.; permitting the T. I. & W. Railroad to lay two switches at Concord St., and providing a temporary loan of $300,000 to meet current city expenses.

New Ordinances

New ordinances were: Appropriation of $5,000 to purchase a squad wagon for the police department; $25,000 to purchase new fire apparatus; $22,710.90 to pay salaries of firemen at the Broad Ripple fire station; approving the petition of the Merchants National Bank to the city of the fire tower on the bank building; $2,000 for fire prevention work; transferring the proceeds of the Anna Seegar fund to a fund to be known as the Anna Seegar coliseum fund, to be used by the department of parks in building a coliseum in some park; abolishing the position of bicycle policeman and creating the position of motor police; authorizing the sale of fire station No. 31; providing for double wall construction of reinforced concrete, and changing the date of collection of the license fee on gasoline pumps from July 1 to Jan. 1.

Follies Dancer Is Hit of Yale Prom

Ritzes and Vans Out-Ritzed and Out-Vaned by Broadway Chorus Girl at Exclusive Society Function.

By United Press NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—The little Miss Ritzes from mupstoun New York, and the ultra-exclusive Miss Vans of aristocratic Connecticut, were out-Ritzed and out-Vaned today by the little Broadway dancer, who didn't want to allow at the Yale junior prom, the classiest of eastern collegiate dances.

Ula Sharon, premier danseuse of the Greenwich Village Follies, got there at 3 a. m., more dazzling than a sunrise, and was the hit of the ball.

The Follies girl didn't sit out a dance; she had to divide each number among the innumerable horde.

Ula put in an appearance on the arm of Hale Cullum, a childhood chum, and what she didn't do to the ball that thought it didn't want her will fill many a sub-deb's diary.

The earth tremors reported around the Yale campus when it was first raised abroad that Hale Cullum was bringing a "show girl" to the dance were stamped into passivity by the tread of Ula's fifty-seven partners.

Ula cried when she heard she wasn't wanted at the prom.
