

Bishop Leete to Preach at Church Dedication

The congregation of the Clermont M. E. Church, on the Crawfordville Rd. at the Hendricks County line, will dedicate their new brick venter church building on Sunday with an all-day service. The old frame church was burned last summer and while the structure was still burning a subscription was started by the pastor, Rev. T. L. Stovall, and certain of the members, to build a new church. A new site was secured and on Sept. 1 building was commenced, which has now resulted not only in a modern and commodious church edifice, but a modern parsonage as well.

The building enterprise has cost approximately $21,500, and is sufficient to meet the requirements of the congregation for many years. Had a contract been let as is usual, the cost would have been much more, but by employing a superintendent and assistant and having the building committee assume the responsibility of buying and sub-contracting and by obtaining much donation work, the cost was greatly reduced, it is stated.

At the dedication services, Bishop F. D. Leete will preach the morning sermon at 10:30 o'clock. At noon the ladies of the church will spread a dinner in the basement, to which all present will be invited. In the afternoon Dr. U. G. Leazenby, district superintendent, and visiting pastors will speak. At night Dr. Leazenby will preach. The week following will be given over to special services at night, and among those who will preach are Rev. Jesse Doran, Rev. Frank Hovis, Rev. Horace Sprague, Rev. George Henniger, Rev. Frank Howard and others.

Don't Miss the Greatest Thriller Ever Made

THERE is something in this picture that you won't see on the screen!

Laughter and tears, joys and sorrows, the thrill of something that is both magic and heartsease blended into a great medley of human emotions, played on the heart-strings.

In it there is something that you will take from the theater with you. A song of gladness, perhaps—or perhaps you will close your eyes in solitude and fragments of this tale of dark streets and sunlit places will drift back across the place where sweet dreams linger.
