HEMENWAY WILL BE LAID TO REST IN HOOSIER HOME

Ex-Senator Dies in Florida After Illness of Two Years.

Remains of former United States Senator James A. Hemenway, 63, who died in Miami, Fla., Saturday, were expected to arrive in Boonville, Ind., today.

The funeral probably will be held at 3 p. m. Tuesday in the Hemenway Memorial Church, which the deceased built in memory of his mother.

A son and daughter, who were with the former when he died, accompanied the body. Mr. Hemenway's wife was in Boonville.

Mr. Hemenway, who had been in ill health for two years, went to Miami last week.

He was born in Boonville March 8, 1860. His political career began when, as young man, he was elected town clerk of Boonville. He was nominated for prosecutor of Warrick County, although he never had studied law. He was swept into office in a Democratic county by a Republican landslide. He immediately began to read law and made a good record as prosecutor.

In 1890 he was elected district chairman. Four years later he was elected to Congress. He was re-elected every two years until 1905, when he resigned to take the seat in the United States Senate left vacant by the election of Charles W. Fairbanks to the vice presidency. He won the Senate seat in a hard fight with six formidable opponents.

While in Congress, Hemenway was a real power. In the election of 1908 the Democrats carried Indiana and the Legislature named Benjamin F. Shively of South Bend over Hemenway, who was the unanimous choice of the Republican caucus.

ICY WINDS BRING LARGE DECREASE IN CRIME REPORT

While snow and cold put the city back into heavy clothes during the week-end, police rejoiced at the small number of alleged law violations.

The turnkey's slate at the city prison showed only 120 arrests from Saturday morning to 6 a. m. today, against 253 for the same period a week ago.

Two raids on alleged gambling games accounted for seventeen arrests.

Twenty-seven persons, including women, were charged with blind tiger violations, fourteen with vagrancy.

Sheriff George Snider, with Lieutenant Hudson and squad, raided the home of William Michael, 62, Thirtieth St. and LaFayette Pike. He was charged with a blind tiger infraction and keeping a gambling house. Eight men were charged with gambling.

A raid at the home of Elmore Hampton, 39, colored, 1558 Albion St. resulted in Hampton's being charged with keeping a gambling house. Eight negroes also were arrested by Sergeant Wilson and squad.

Sergeant Helm and squad also raided the home of William Waters, 59, 258 Indiana Ave., charged with keeping a gambling house. Waters was charged with a blind tiger and a statutory offense. Grace Hall, 28, colored, 825 Darnell St., with a statutory offense and two colored women and six men, with vagrancy.

William Roberts, 36, of 1110 Centennial St., had a slight automobile accident at Harding and W. Washington Sts. Policeman O'Brien and Lynch declared "naul" was the cause. Roberts was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Five persons were charged with speeding and eleven with drunkenness.

RUFFE PAGE IS NAMED IN SECOND INDICTMENT

True Bill Postpones Trial of Colored Politician in City Court.

A second indictment charging Robert (Ruffe) Page, colored politician, with keeping a gambling house was returned today by the county grand jury. Page was indicted with John Overton as a result of a raid on his poolroom at 1351 N. Senate Ave., Jan. 29, by Admiral Harris, colored policeman.

Page would have been tried in city court Wednesday if the indictment had not been returned today. The charge includes all alleged gambling within the past two years, a conviction in city court would have defeated plans of the State to try Page on a similar indictment returned in January, when he was arrested with twelve other prominent colored politicians.

Offers Floor Law Repeal

Repeal of the law providing that floors of school buildings be at least three feet above the ground is provided in a bill introduced in the House today by Elizabeth Rainey, Indianapolis. The bill, which also provides that floors of concrete or similar material may be built level with the ground, is part of a State program for reduction of school expenses.

The bandanna handkerchief is seen not only in sport costumes, but has made its way into the evening garb as well. It is quite apt to appear about the neck of a fashionable miss, in a metal cloth or rich fabric.

Telephone Service Guardians Get Instruction in First Aid Methods

TOP—J. C. GILLAM, LINEMAN FOR THE INDIANA BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY, AND W. H. PHIPPS, CABLEMAN, "RESCUING" V. C. CHEW, LINEMAN, FROM A "LIVE WIRE" IN THEIR FIRST AID CLASS. THE "RESCUERS" ARE STANDING ON BOARDS TO INSULATE THEIR BODIES AGAINST ELECTRICITY, AND ARE USING A WOOLEN SWEATER TO PULL THE "VICTIM" FROM THE WIRE.

The men who follow in the wake of cyclones and go through snow and ice to see that you are not inconvenienced long by having your telephone service cut off, are learning how to save themselves from the hazards that beset them every day.

With Dr. Herbert T. Wagner, director of first aid for the Indianapolis chapter, Red Cross, as teacher, thirty-six men employees of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company, meet from 4 to 5 p. m. every Monday and 11 to 12 m. every Saturday to learn first aid.

The students are linemen, installers and supervisors. When they have completed the fourteen lessons, they will become teachers for the 1,200 plant employees in the State.

The demonstrations vary from bandaging injured arms or heads and reviving men electrocuted by live wires down to taking the hurt out of young Jimmie's bruises, for the work is designed to prevent accidents and to be of use in every walk of life, not only in the especially dangerous vocation of putting up live wires, etc.

Although the work is given in a classroom, with charts on the wall and solid floor beneath the students' feet, as Dr. Wagner discloses the subject and bandages come into play, the background seems to fade away and become a country scene, live wires stretching overhead, the injured man lying on the ground with his fellow workmen bent over him. Linemen who come into the class apprehensively soon catch this "atmosphere" and go to the work with as much zest as though men's lives actually were in danger.

Since these classes began two weeks ago, the company has furnished first aid kits to all its men. They range from large kits for squads to very small ones for individuals.

The county unit school bill, an administration measure, is still pending in the Senate. Another administration measure, the gasoline tax bill, is in the House and has not been acted on. As a result, no provision has been made for the State highway commission during the next two years.

And should not print, the famous Edison questionnaire, Coucens, the prospects of war, President Harding and politics.

Briefly, his opinions may be summed up as follows: "There is a lot in M. Couc's auto-suggestion. A lot of people think they are sick when it is only in their minds."

"The United States should modify its terms for settlement of British debt. We should accept one-half of 1 per cent interest."

"I like love stories in the movies because I am rather sentimental. I prefer Douglas Fairbanks, Tom Mix, Mary Miles Minter and Alice Joy."

War Not Imminent "No, another war is not imminent. There is not enough money."

"The French occupation of the Ruhr Valley is all right—it's a business call."

"The questionnaire method is the best way of examining employees. The average college man does not read newspapers as he should."

"The present world unrest is due to unstable economic conditions. I don't believe there is a remedy."

SOLONS EXPECTED TO RENEW FIGHTS IN BOTH HOUSES

Another stormy week in the Legislature was anticipated as the session resumed today.

The appropriation bill which brought about a bolt by Democrats and discord last week in the House is not yet disposed of. The bill is ready for third reading in the House and its consideration is expected to be stormy. Democrats were wondering whether "steam roller" methods would be resorted to in bringing about its passage. These methods in amending the bill brought about the Democratic strike.

Fight Looms in Senate

The bill, carrying an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the new reformatory instead of the $2,000,000 asked by Governor McGray, will go to the Senate following passage in the House. There the Democrats are expected to renew their attack with the object of having cost-plus contracts for the construction of the institution cancelled and the appropriation cut to $750,000. Friends of the Governor may insist on putting the appropriation back to $2,000,000.

In the end, this appropriation and possibly a number of others probably will be decided on by a conference committee representing the two houses.

The bonus bill also is ready for third reading in the House and probably will be disposed of this week. It has been held up pending passage of the appropriation bill. It is expected the bonus bill will be passed without much difficulty, the members taking the attitude that, inasmuch as the bill carries a provision for a referendum, the people will be given an opportunity to decide whether it shall be effective.

Race Bill Shelved

The House also still has before it the bill aimed at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, which would make sporting events to which admission is charged on Memorial day unlawful. So much opposition to this bill developed after its passage by the Senate that it now appears it may never come before the House for consideration.

The Senate has few important measures compared with the House. It has a bill providing that Memorial day shall fall on the last Sunday in May instead of May 30. This bill is expected to meet with considerable opposition.

The county unit school bill, an administration measure, is still pending in the Senate. Another administration measure, the gasoline tax bill, is in the House and has not been acted on. As a result, no provision has been made for the State highway commission during the next two years.

Poincare Ministry Totters as Government Is Unable to Gloss Over Conditions—Berlin Is Jubilant Over Successful Sabotage—Latest French Action Cuts Off All Exports Into Germany From Rhineland.

By United Press

Sunday ended the first month of the French occupation of the Ruhr valley, Germany's great industrial district. France, assisted by Belgium, sent into the area an army of 100,000 soldiers to protect experts whose duty was to seize coal from the mines and collect customs taxes. The coal and cash was to be applied to the reparations account, on which Germany has defaulted.

The first month of the experiment shows that France has failed to accomplish her purpose. She has received only 30,000 tons of coal and coke during the period, while normally she would have been given 1,600,000 tons. Failure, thus far, to reach his objective, threatens the political life of Premier Poincare.

Disagreement between French and Belgium over the Ruhr policy has also resulted; Belgium insists that Poincare has been too lenient.

The Berlin government is convinced that its only way out is to continue its opposition and resistance in the Ruhr despite the fact that wide-spread suffering for the country, both occupied

HOUSE PREPARES TO ACT TUESDAY ON SPORTS BILL

The Memorial day bill to prohibit the Speedway race and other commercialized sports on Memorial day, will be handed down for second reading in the House Tuesday, it was said today.

All possibility of withdrawal, urged by opponents, disappeared with action of the State executive committee of the American Legion Sunday. Resolution approving the bill and standing by Perry Faulkner, State commander, in removing Humphrey Harrington as judge advocate, were adopted unanimously. No mention was made of the revolving Marion County posts which went on record recently against the stand of Faulkner and the State Legislative committee in their support of the bill.

James H. Duncan, chairman of the Legion's Seventh District advisory committee, called a meeting of all post commanders for 8 p. m. today at the Hotel Severin to consider the action of the executive committee.

The bill is doomed to defeat, according to Ralph E. Updike of Indianapolis, who originally was one of its staunchest supporters. He predicted that sixty votes would be cast against it in the House. Philip Stapp, editor of the Hoosier Legionnaire, insisted that sixty votes are pledged in support of it.

Dissatisfaction with the stand of the James H. Duncan, Seventh district committeeman, at the meeting of the executive committee, was expressed by local Legion men today. Despite the fact, they said, that at a meeting of Marion County commanders he had been instructed to oppose the bill, he voted for it Sunday.

NEWS HERE FOR MARBLE PLAYERS

out of the ring will be left where they come to rest and the player following will be permitted to shoot at them. A player whose tag goes outside of the ring, at the same time he has been successful in shooting a duck out, will continue shooting from the ring line and is permitted to take rounders.

If after a miss the shooter comes to rest inside the ring, it must be left there until the next turn. If the shooter on a miss travels outside the ring, the player picks it up until his next turn, and make take rounders on the ring at his next turn.

A duck coming to rest exactly on ring line shall be considered as having been knocked out, but a duck with its center resting on the ground inside the ring is considered still in the ring.

"Kills Opponent"

A player hitting the shooter of opponent left inside the ring on a preceding miss, and not knocking the opponent's shooter outside the ring, is entitled to pick up one duck for the hit. If he hits the opponent's shooter out of the ring, that kills the opponent, and puts him out of the game, and entitles the shooting player to all the ducks that opponent has won in the game.

After hitting an opponent and taking a duck for the shot, or after knocking a duck out of the ring, or after knocking an opponent's shooter out of the ring, a player shoots from where his shooter comes to rest, providing his shooter does not go outside the circle. If shooter goes outside the circle he will continue play by shooting from ring line.

To All Outside

Should opponent knock more than one duck or opponent's shooter out of the ring on a single shot he shall be entitled to all marbles going outside of the ring.

When a marble is knocked from line in center of ring and comes to rest near the ring line (but inside the circle), it is not necessary that the marble has to travel the entire length of ring, when hit by a player following. It can be shot from ring at any angle, but players must knuckle down on ring line.

A scorer must keep accurate count of all marbles each player scores, and the player having the largest number after all marbles are out of the ring will be declared winner of that game. The player who wins three games will be the winner of that group, and the other players are eliminated from the contest. In case one of the players should be "killed" during the course of the game this does not eliminate him from the contest, but only from the game then in progress.

BERLIN IS JUBILANT Impossible for France to Get Worth-while Amounts of Coal.

By United Press BERLIN, Feb. 12.—The results of the first month's French occupation in the Ruhr, as viewed here in Berlin, follow:

1. Cutting off of all coal and manufactured products from the unoccupied portion of Germany.

2. The complete collapse of the German mark, bringing out catastrophic internal consequences.

3. Unification of factions in the German nation which up until a month ago was lacking.

4. The organization of resistance which was brought about the failure of the French purpose.

5. By the occupation of Baden, the French have seized strategic points, welding themselves between the north and south of Germany.

6. The occupation has caused indirectly—the withdrawal of the American army from the Ruhr, with prospects that Great Britain will take similar action.

7. Food shortage in the Ruhr, with widespread hardships.

8. The complete tie-up of transportation in Germany and the occupied areas.

9. The expulsion of hundreds of German officials thus paralyzing local government in the occupied area.

The German government is jubilant that it has succeeded in causing the French to fail in their purpose of digging reparations out of the Ruhr. It is declared that it is impossible for France to ever obtain worthwhile amounts of coal from the region.

POINCARÉ FACES COLLAPSE Ruhr Occupation Doomed to Failure, Observers Say.

By United Press PARIS, Feb. 12.—Premier Raymond Poincaré, because of the failure of his Ruhr policy to produce cash or coal on the reparations account, is riding toward a political fall, judging from all indications.

According to the opinion in neutral diplomatic circles in Paris Sunday, the Ruhr occupation is doomed to failure unless some disinterested power of France and Germany. If some nation does not interfere, the government will no longer be able to gloss over its failure which is certain to bring about the fall of the Poincaré ministry.

1. The industrial leaders of the country who believe that the best way to get reparations out of Germany is to have the good feeling of the people of the former enemy nation.

2. The ardent Nationalists who claim that Poincaré has failed in the Ruhr because he has been too lenient.

Poincaré's strength lies, however, in the fact that none of his opponents seems willing to take up the thorny problem and risk the charge of non-patriotism by opposing the government during a crisis.

Vet Recalls Abe in '62

"I rubbed elbows with Abraham Lincoln back in '62," said David Oliver, 6 N. Gladstone Ave., a Civil War veteran, today, recalling the emancipator's birthday.

"I was a cook in the water battery E. E. Stephen. One day in April, '62, we received word to make everything shipshape. I shined up my kitchen and had everything in fine shape. We didn't know why we received those orders, but we carried them out to a 'T'."

"While I was in the kitchen a party came through. One man struck me as being especially interesting. He was tall, and wore a dress suit and a plug hat. His trousers were slick and bagged at the knees. I was so narrow in the gallery that I had to stand against the wall to let them through. The tall man touched me as he passed. When the party had gone I asked who the tall man with the plug hat was. It was Lincoln."
