

NEW GAINS POWER AS RESULT OF FEUD BETWEEN COLONS

MRS. WM. F. CLARK, LEADER IN 'DRY' CAUSE, IS DEAD

Widow of Publisher, to Be Buried Saturday Afternoon.

Mrs. Frances G. Clark, 77, widow of William F. Clark, died at her home, 52 W. Twenty-Eighth St., today, following a brief illness. She had lived in Indianapolis thirty-two years.

Mrs. Clark became actively interested in prohibition work in 1884. Her husband, from that date until his death, published prohibition newspapers. She was an active worker in the Central Union of the W. C. T. U. For many years she was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, but in recent years belonged to the Grace Presbyterian Church.

Born in Pennsylvania. She was born in Mercer, Pa., and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hezlep Williamson. She married William F. Clark of Mercer in 1864, at Milwaukee. They lived in Huron County, Michigan, where Mr. Clark published the Huron County News. In 1887 they moved to Elkhart, Ind., where Mr. Clark published the Elkhart Daily Bugle. In 1891 they moved to Indianapolis, and Mr. Clark published the Patriot Phalanx.

Mrs. Clark was for a number of years proprietor of the White Ribbon House, a hotel on the present location of the Board of Health building. In 1914 Mr. and Mrs. Clark celebrated their golden wedding, and a little more than a year later Mr. Clark died.

The widow made her home at West Baden for a brief time following his death.

She was the mother of seven children, three of whom live here. They are Edward W. Clark, 37 W. Thirtieth St., publisher of The Spectator; Mrs. Mary Brown, 53 W. Twenty-Eighth St., and Hezlep W. Clark, 2436 E. Twenty-Sixth St., police reporter on The Times. She also survived by three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Last of Family. Mrs. Clark was the last of a family of three sisters and three brothers. One of her brothers was the late James Cass Williamson of Sidney, Australia, prominent in the theatrical business.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Grace Presbyterian Church, with burial in Crown Hill cemetery.

STAND ON ARMY BILL IS MODIFIED

Administration Changes Front on Filibuster Threat.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Threat by certain members of Congress to defeat the Army bill unless President Harding disavowed his intention of curtailing expenditures authorized it, resulting today in the administration changing its attitude.

The President had let it be known that the $56,000,000 bill provides for rivers and harbors, only $27,000,000—the amount fixed by budget bureau—be spent.

Then Congressmen who wanted to spend the full amount announced they would filibuster against the bill unless the President agreed not to interfere with the expenditure. Such a filibuster would beat the bill and leave the War Department without funds.

Witness Tells of Boy's Death. Says Cop Tried to Make Beyle Walk.

"Aw, get up! You ain't hurt," either Patrolman Albers or Daily, involved in the fatal shooting of Russell Beyle, 16, of 4339 Boulevard P., said to the boy, it was testified by Miss Rose Mumford, 4232 Sunset Ave., in the coroner's inquest.

Then, Miss Mumford testified, the policemen jerked the youth to his feet and tried to make him stand. When he crumpled again he was carried into the Mutual Service Association Home, 4233 Sunset Ave., the house where Beyle was said to have been shot by one of the two patrolmen. An ambulance came half an hour later, it was said.

The witness testified she heard three shots, then a fourth. Later came a fifth, followed immediately by a gasping groan "Oh" just outside her bedroom window. Asked if the woman in the home were in the habit of retiring without drawing the curtains she replied:

"Yes, sir. This boy is only one of many I have seen stand there and watch the ladies."

MEASURE LIFTING BAN ON GERMAN GOES TO SENATE

House Votes 63-28 to Re-instate Language in High Schools.

Indications pointed today to the lifting of the ban against teaching German in grade and high schools. The Senate had before it a bill passed by the House Wednesday afternoon to permit this in high schools. The bill was passed, 63-28, after a short argument. John W. Kitch of an amendment to prevent teaching any modern foreign language in high schools, but it was tabled on motion of Floyd C. Miller.

Discrimination Charged. Waldemar E. Elkhoff of Ft. Wayne, author of the bill, declared the provision of the bill preventing the teaching of German while teaching of other foreign languages is permitted is rank discrimination against some American citizens.

Banned in 1919. A similar bill lifting the ban on German in grade schools is pending. German was banned in the schools in 1919 by almost unanimous vote in the two Houses. Two years ago an unsuccessful effort was made to lift the ban.

ELLIOTT CALLS 25 BRIDGES 'UNSAFE'

City Plans to Replace Eight Weak Structures.

Twenty-five bridges in Indianapolis are dangerous and not capable of meeting traffic conditions, John L. Elliott, city engineer, said today. Plans for eight new bridges have been drawn. They will cost approximately $175,000.

The new concrete structures will replace old bridges at Michigan St., Churchman Ave., Linden St., and Raymond St., over Pleasant Run; two in Gardiner park over Bean Creek; one in Brookside park over Pokus Run and one on Jefferson Ave., over Tugues Run.

Bridges at Madison Ave., Meridian St., Shelby St., and Keystone Ave., over Pleasant Run, are dangerous, Elliott said. No estimate of cost of replacing has been made.

CHEST AWAITS COUNCIL ACTION ON DOG POUND

Policy Toward Humane Society Depends on Vote.

Action of the city council on the pending appropriation for a dog pound will determine the financial policy of the Indianapolis Humane Society, Homer W. Horst, Chest executive secretary, said today.

It was said at a meeting of the society that owing to the city's failure to renew appropriation, the society is facing a deficit. Care of animals has been financed, largely in the form of membership, contributions through the Chest and city funds.

The society hopes to get an increased appropriation from the Chest by a new budget now being prepared, Mrs. Detha Lantz, president, said.

W. R. Christy, 45 N. Beville Ave., conductor on a Big Four switch train, risked his life in a vain attempt to drag Samuel Bain, 71, of 2008 W. New York St., from in front of cars at the Belmont Ave. Big Four crossing at the Belmont Ave.

OPTIMISM CALLED BUSINESS ASSET

Editor Addresses Traffic Club at Annual Dinner.

"Optimism is one of the most important assets in making a success in business," asserted F. D. Van Amburgh of New York, editor of the Silent Partner magazine, in an address on "How to Fail" at the thirtieth annual dinner of the Traffic Club at the Claypool.

Van Amburgh pointed out that if a man was not loyal, honest and ambitious he had no right to start in business, for he always would fail. James G. Thomas, president, welcomed members of the Louisville Traffic Club, who were guests, Albert Stump, attorney, was toastmaster.

During the evening President Thomas sang in two duets with Miss Jessamine Barkley, soprano. Charles Soldani, tenor, accompanied by Cyril Humes, pianist, Margaret Seemiller, violinist and Luba Willhite, cellist, sang.

WOMAN TEACHER FINED IN CRASH

Grand Jury to Investigate Further Charges.

A fine of $50 and costs was imposed on Miss Frances Longshore, 2716 Shriver Ave., teacher at Technical High School, on a charge of assault and battery in city court. She was bound to the grand jury for investigation of charges of failure to stop after an accident.

Miss Longshore was arrested Jan. 27, after an automobile driven by her ran through a safety zone and struck Miss Florence Newhouse and Miss Ruby Briel, both of 5438 Lowell Ave., police said.

Witnesses testified they took the number of the car when it failed to stop until 100 feet from the accident, and said Miss Longshore did not return to the scene. Miss Longshore testified that she was driving home and went to seek advice. Her lawyer asked the court to remember she was not familiar with the manner in which accidents are investigated and hesitated to enter the crowd.

"The law will take its course," said Judge Wilmett. "We will consider those acts, but also that two women were killed last December in a similar manner."

OFFICER FORCED TO QUIT JOB IN ARMY SCANDAL

General Cronkhite Appeals Direct to President Harding, Protesting Action.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A sensation has been caused in military circles here by the forced retirement from the Army of Major General Adalbert Cronkhite, formerly in command of the 3d Corps Area.

Cronkhite, whose son, Major Alexander P. Cronkhite, is alleged to have been murdered near Camp Lewis, in 1918, has written a strong letter of protest direct to President Harding. It was learned here today.

Ever since his son's death the general has been conducting a vigorous campaign to force the prosecution of those guilty of the crime.

Charges of Cronkhite that his efforts have been hampered by high officials here were believed to have been the cause of his involuntary retirement.

Relieved of Catarrh Due to La Grippe

Thanks To PE-NU-NA

Mrs. Laura Berberick, over 70 years of age, 1205 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N. J., writes: "A severe attack of La Grippe left me with a hoarseness and slime in the head and throat. I had chronic catarrh. It grew worse. I could not lie down or sleep at night. I was always bothered by the slime, pain in the back and a terrible headache every morning."

Finally I bought a bottle of Pe-ru-na which was of great benefit. It gave me blood and strength. I have no pains in head or back, no noises in the head. The slime has gone and I can sleep. My weight has increased. I am cheerful and happy, thanks to Pe-ru-na, which I shall always keep in the house and recommend to my friends."

For every form of catarrh Pe-ru-na meets the need, Coughs, Colds, Nasal Catarrh, Indigestion, Bowel disorders are all forms of catarrh.

Buy it anywhere in tablet or liquid form.—Advertisement.

The DOCTOR'S Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

"Dreadful" writes: "I am a woman aged 40 and suffering from a severe cough, cold, and throat trouble. I have no appetite, am weak, listless and have no ambition to work or seek recreation. Am tired all the time and in no sense strong, capable man I was a few years ago."

Answer: A powerful rejuvenating anti-anemic medicine should revive the dormant, sluggish condition and put new ambition and energy into your blood and nerves. Obtain Cadumene tablets in sealed tubes, take as per directions.

"Miss Colla" writes: "I suffer with my stomach and have to live on a very limited diet. Please prescribe something to take a teaspoonful measure and at bedtime: water of Potassium, 2 drams; Sodium Salicylate, 4 drams; wine of Colchicum, 1/2 ounce; compound essence of Cardui, 1 oz.; fluid Balaust, 1 oz., and Lactated Pepsin, ad. q. s. 8 oz."

"Tom K." writes: "I have been unable to work for some weeks on account of rheumatism. What would you advise?"

Answer: Take the following and I am sure you will soon be back at your work again. Have mixed the following and take a teaspoonful measure and at bedtime: water of Potassium, 2 drams; Sodium Salicylate, 4 drams; wine of Colchicum, 1/2 ounce; compound essence of Cardui, 1 oz.; fluid Balaust, 1 oz., and Lactated Pepsin, ad. q. s. 8 oz.
