

U.S. SENATE TURNS FROM SUBSIDY TO LIVE BUSINESS

Preparations Are Made for Formal 'Burial' of Ship Bill.

WASHINGTON. Feb. 24.—The Senate today turned away from the ship subsidy bill to other and more live business.

Under the "capitulation agreement" which the filibusters yesterday exacted from the administration forces the first two hours of the session, at least were to be devoted to consideration of bills on the calendar, many of which have been held up by the ship subsidy filibuster.

Meanwhile preparations were being made for the formal rites of burial of the subsidy bill, now definitely dead, and conceded by even its warmest supporters to have no chance of resurrection in this Congress.

Two reasons combined to delay the entombing of the bill.

These were:

1. Absence of several Democratic Senators who will vote to put the subsidy aside when the formal action disposing of it is taken.

2. A desire by some Republican Senators, among whom is Senator Lodge, to keep the subsidy as a barrier against the truth in fabrics and the filled milk bills which the farm bloc wants to pass.

DE VALERA MAY BE DIRECTING REBELS

Attacks Show Strategist Is Behind Movements.

DUBLIN. Feb. 24.—While Free State troops and Irish rebels fight in the streets of Dublin and Government squads raid Republican gathering places looking for Eamonn De Valera, the latter is believed to be actively directing the sudden resumption of attacks on the State forces.

The irregular attacks during the night showed they were directed by an experienced strategist, though many of the men known as the "birds" of the rebel army have been captured.

Assaults were concentrated against central telephone exchanges, capture of which would have disrupted communications throughout the capital and seriously hampered the Free State.

Bond of $180,000 Expected to Be Forfeited.

CHICAGO. Feb. 24.—A new search for "Big Tim" Murphy, three days overdue at Leavenworth penitentiary, was ordered today when he failed to appear as promised by his attorneys to start his four-year sentence in connection with the $300,000 Dearborn St. mail robbery.

The Government was expected to ask the Federal Court to forfeit Murphy's bond of $180,000 immediately.

A number of Indianapolis folk are watching with interest efforts of Federal authorities to apprehend Murphy, who was convicted of a mail robbery in Chicago.

The solution of the robbery was brought about as a result of a story told by an associate of Murphy in the law office of Asa J. Smith and Thomas R. Garvin here. Smith and Garvin reported the affair to Federal authorities.

Murphy also was supposed to have been involved in the Service U stores stock sales here as a result of which Indianapolis residents lost thousands of dollars.

State Takes Steps to Curb Crime Wave by Restricting Gun Toting

YOUR chance of being one in 12,000 persons in the United States to die at the hands of a murderer in 1928 may be reduced by a bill now awaiting the signature of Governor McCray.

Purchase and possession of revolvers or pistols is made more difficult by the Nolan House bill, which passed the Senate late Thursday after sharp debate. The vote was 26 to 9, just the constitutional majority for passage. It had passed the House.

Indiana has taken the first step in its history to curb murders and suicides by legislation against gun-toters. Purchase and possession of revolvers or pistols is made more difficult by the Nolan House bill, which passed the Senate late Thursday after sharp debate. The vote was 26 to 9, just the constitutional majority for passage. It had passed the House.

A survey in every State of the present gun-toting situation, conducted by The Times through NEA Service, brought out startling disclosures.

Can frequent murder be checked if revolvers are difficult or impossible to obtain?

City and State officials were almost unanimous in replying:

That State and municipal laws chase weapons or have them delivered through the mail—an agency of the Federal Government.

That the sale of pistols and revolvers should be barred by Federal law except to persons having legitimate business with weapons.

That criminals evade State or city laws by going to other States to purchase weapons or have them delivered through the mail—an agency of the Federal Government.

That have a permit from the police department, and that licenses must be renewed annually. Criminals evade the law by obtaining firearms elsewhere.

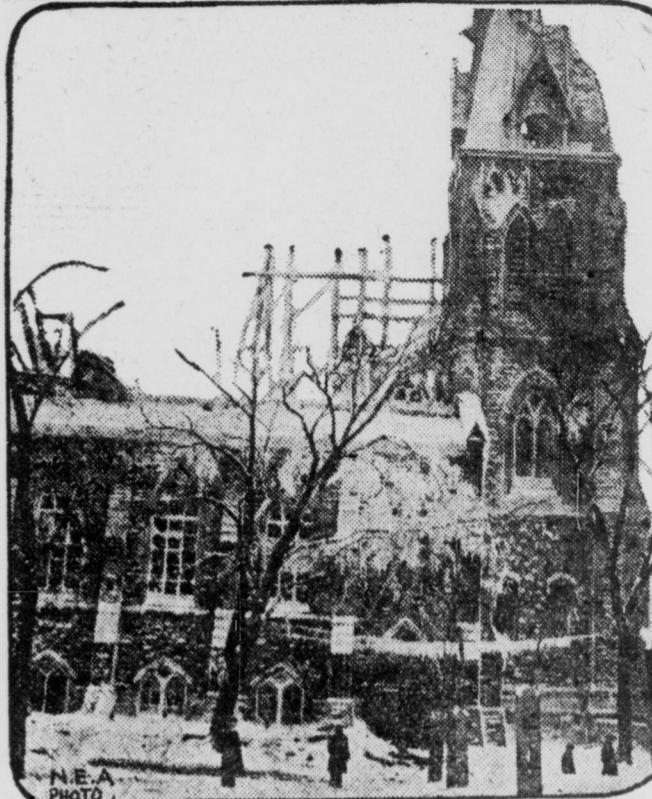

In most cities revolvers can be purchased at any hardware or sporting goods store and revolvers are displayed in windows.

There is no restriction on sale of firearms in Maine, Georgia, South Dakota, New Hampshire, Arkansas, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Vermont, Colorado, Minnesota, New Mexico, Wyoming, New Jersey, Idaho, Nevada, Montana, North Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Arizona, Florida, or Maryland.

In many cities the buyer must convince authorities of his good character, make clear his use for a revolver and must be identified by at least two freeholders.

Texas forbids the sale of revolvers or pistol by State law, but weapons may be leased for ninety-nine years.

NORTH BOULEVARD TO BE MEMORIAL

Fifteen-Mile Road to Run From Fort to Creek.

Plans for construction of a fifteen-mile boulevard from Ft. Harrison to Big Eagle creek, in the extreme north section of the city, probably to be known as "Memorial Road," and bordered by trees representing heroes of the World War, are well under way. Charles A. Bookwalter, president of the park board, said today.

The project, which will take two or three years to complete, will be started this year.

The road, according to plans submitted by George E. Kessler of St. Louis, landscape artist, will run across Fifty-Sixth St., starting from Ft. Harrison, to Meridian St., thence north across the canal, which is to be bridged, thence northwest to the Illinois St. bridge over White River.

The boulevard will ascend Crows Nest hill on the Hesston Rd. to Sunset Ave., where the new line will strike Fifty-Eighth St., thence west, striking Crooked creek just east of Northwestern Ave., thence southwest along both sides of Crooked creek to Fifty-Sixth St. west along the creek, passing the Broadmoor Golf Club, to Cooper Ave., and south to the Cradleville Rd.
