

JULIA SANDERSON AND THURSTON DUE AT LOCAL THEATERS

'Tangerine' Opens 3-Day Engagement at Murat Monday Night.

MAGICIAN AT ENGLISH'S

'Jazz Time Revue' to Be Burlesque Show at Broadway.

JULIA SANDERSON will arrive at the Murat Monday night in the tuneful and pretty musical comedy, "Tangerine." At the same hour, Thurston, well known magician, will open his seventeenth annual engagement at English's.

Miss Sanderson and her excellent assistants will be at the Murat for only three days, but Thurston will hold out at English's for the entire week.

"The Jazz Time Revue" will be next week's offering at the Broadway. The Rialto will offer triple bill, featuring "Three Married Men."

Many Song Hits in Sanderson Show

Julia Sanderson will open a three-day engagement Monday night at the Murat, with a matinee Wednesday.

With Miss Sanderson comes the entire original English's production cast including Frank Cruttit, Frank Lator, Rebekah Cauble, Hobart Cavanaugh, Beulah Benson, Harry Puck, Eddie Young, John Kane, Gloria Davis, as well as the famous Tangerine Quartette and equally famous Tangerine Octette.

The song hits of "Tangerine," which include the internationally popular "Sweet Lady," "Ish of Tangerine," "Listen to Me," "Atta Baby," "In My Mountain Bower" and "She Was Very Dear to Me," have all preceded the production to this city, but the surprise in store for local audiences will come from the many novelties and innovations contained in the construction of the piece and from the brilliant satire on love, matrimony and alimony, contained in its book.

Just as in his previous success, "Irene," Mr. Carlton found it necessary to make two complete productions of "Tangerine" before he succeeded in attaining the excellence in cast, story and music and effects he sought.

Many Modern New Tricks Included on Thurston's Bill

Thurston, a magician, will make his seventeenth annual appearance at English's next Monday night. The engagement is for one week with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees. This season's program consists of his latest and most elaborate illusions, as well as ancient Egyptian, Hindoo and Chinese magic. Two seventy-foot baggage cars are required to transport the scenery, electrical and mechanical effects and company of thirty skilled assistants, recruited from all parts of the world are carried.

Among the new features on this season's program are "King Tut Ankhen's Magic Columns," an effect done by ancient Egyptian necromancers more than 3,500 years ago and "The Famous Hindoo Rope Mystery," which is being shown by Thurston for the first time outside of India. Magi being the oldest form of entertainment, Thurston has delved into the lore of ages ago and has succeeded in unearthing many thrills.

Modern magic is represented in his all-new program. Among the new effects created by Thurston himself are "Sir Conan Doyle Outdone," "Fairy Queens From Ireland," "The Radio Mystery," "Beautifying by Magic," "Spiritualistic Materializations," "The Triple Conundrum," "A Glimpse of the Hereafter," "The Mysterious Fountain," "Mephisto's Visit" and "The Beautiful Witch."

New Jazz Revue Booked at Broadway

"The Jazz Time Revue," which opens at the Broadway Sunday with a matinee, comes with new scenery, costumes and with faces well known to burlesque followers. Featured in the production are Ben Moore and Nate Busby. Others who add to enliven the entertainment are James Walter, Vi Kelly, Viola Bohlen, Ethel Bartlett, Jack Staib and a chorus of sixteen. Special feature nights will be offered as usual on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Triple Bill Announced at Rialto Next Week.

On the triple bill at the Rialto next week will be presented a new musical comedy called "Three Married Men," a fast, snappy lined farce with many musical and dancing numbers given by a large cast of principals and chorus.

The plot is woven around the mix-up in dates of an Irishman and a Hebrew and their admiration for a young woman in the neighborhood by whom they believe their affections are returned. Vaudeville specialties will be introduced during the play.

To complete the program, the management has booked for the week the latest feature of John Emerson and Anita Loos, "A Red Hot Romance."

Movie Players Are Guests

Leatrice Joy and Nita Naldi, Paramount players, who are at present engaged in George Melford's production, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," were guests of honor at the International silk show in New York recently. Miss Joy appeared in the Chinese costume she wore in "Java Head." Miss Naldi had a rich red gown of brocaded silk.

Quite a Mixture Persons of diverse training gather in motion pictures. In "Adam's Rib," Celia B. De Mille's new production, Milton Sills, a featured player, is a former teacher of philosophy. Theodore Kosloff is a former member of the Imperial Russian Ballet and Forrest Robinson is a lay reader in the Episcopal Church on Sundays.

Two Acts to Divide
Honors at Palace

Some original comedy is expected on the bill at the Palace next week, which has been designated as Clown Week. "Clowning" has become the favorite sport of vaudeville performers and clown nights are frequent at the National Vaudeville Artists' Club in New York.

Headline honors will be divided between Al Fields and Hughes and Lady Friends. Fields will present his vaudeville art called "The Miseries of a Handsome Cab" and Hughes and Lady Friends will offer a dance mélange called "Handle With Care."

Other acts include:

BERNIVICI BROTHERS—Assisted by Jack Gold, will be seen in "Moments Musical." They are violinists and will offer a program of jazz and classic numbers.

NED NESTOR AND COMPANY—An Irish act called "Kissing the Blarney Stone." Nestor is assisted by two pretty girls, Alla Sessions and Olive Green. The former is said to be an exceptionally clever eccentric comedienne.

BILLY DUVAL AND MERLE SYMONDS—"Their First Quarrel," an amusing sketch with some dialogue and interpolated songs. The first disagreement of a newly wedded couple is the theme.

CLOWN WEEK ON TAP AT PALACE

William Halligan Will Head New Bill at Keith's.

Clown week will be observed next week at the Palace.

Manager Herb Jennings has been successful in the past with his special "stunt" bills. Each act next week at the Palace was selected because of the ability of the actors to fit in a clowning stunt.

The headline attraction at Keith's next week will be William Halligan, a well-known legitimate actor, in a playlet called "Highbrow."

Janet of France will be another interesting personality on the Keith bill.
