SUGAR TRUSTS RAP AT EACH OTHER IN FIXING PRICE SIN

Beet and Cane Manufacturers Blame One Another for Boosts.

BY JOHN CARSON

WASHINGTON, March 14.—If you want to find out about one sugar trust, ask the other sugar trust. And vice versa.

CARSON

It is possible, but hardly probable, that the one sugar trust is guilty of all the iniquities that are charged against it by the other sugar trust. And vice versa.

But now, with every evidence of righteous indignation, the beet sugar trust charges about every sin up to the cane sugar trust. And the cane sugar trust replies in kind.

When you and your grocer are blessing the sugar barrels for 10-cent sugar, and you run out of mean things to say, just turn to the one sugar trust or the other for thoughts. Here they are, in part:

Says the beet sugar trust of the cane sugar trust:

"The refining exploiters have uttered scarcely a fair or honest sentence in twenty years * * *

"The rapacity of these Cuban producers," who have "fattened on high prices," because of the "Cuban ability to bleed us."

Says the cane sugar trust of the beet sugar trust:

"It is a common thing to see little tics with long, sharp knives cutting tops from beets, in many cases working from 6 o'clock in the morning until nearly dark with only a short rest for lunch."

"The beet sugar trust is levying a tariff of 2 cents a pound on the sugar consumer and taking big profits."

"The beet sugar trust made profits large enough to build nine or ten factories, invest millions in other enterprises, pay dividends of 40 and 50 per cent."

$1,000 Offer Refused

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Ex-Congressman Volstead has refused an offer of $1,000 to talk before Chattanooga audiences.

Instead, Volstead, after twenty years in Congress, is going back to Granite Falls, Minn., to attempt to rebuild a law practice.

Radio Traffic Congested

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Radio traffic is getting to be so congested a conference has been called for March 20 to straighten out the wave length rules.

Radio experts say that secret methods of transmitting messages are being found.

Oil Monopoly Solution

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Government regulation of the oil industry in much the same manner as the meat packing industry is sought by Senator Harrell, Oklahoma.

Gasoline would be selling for 11 per gallon if it were not for the influence the independents are still able to exert, Harrell says.

Post Card Famine

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The postoffice department was 255,000,000 postcards behind the demand because two employees were quarreling over who was boss.

After much red tape and a brief of the case is prepared for the solicitor of the department, we may get some postcards.

Uncle Sam's New Drink

WASHINGTON, March 14.—"Cassina" is the name of a new drink the Department of Agriculture has on the market.

"Cassina" is a plant with the same kind of caffeine kick as coffee. The weed grows wild along the South Atlantic and Gulf coast.

Span of Life Longer

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, former New York health commissioner, and an authority on public health, declares the span of human life is growing longer.

The average length of life has increased from 42 years to 53 years in the last half century, Copeland says. "If you are fat and past 50 your chance of dying is just fifty per cent greater than if you were of normal weight," Copeland declares.

"We Eat Too Much"

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Americans are eating themselves out of house and home, says Dr. E. D. Ball, director of scientific research for the Department of Agriculture.

"We'll be changed from a food exporting to a food importing nation in twenty-five years, the doctor declares."

TIRE PRICES MUST ADVANCE, MAKERS SAY

Increasing Cost of Crude Rubber and Fabric Given as Cause.

By United Press

AKRON, Ohio, March 14.—Tire prices must advance, manufacturers declared today.

The increasing cost of crude rubber and fabric will make tire prices from 7 1/2 to 15 per cent higher by April 1, they predicted.

Production in the tire industry, however, is mounting steadily.

Beauty Is London Society Butterfly

EUROPE IS UNABLE TO BUY AMERICA'S 1923 GRAIN CROP

Foreign Agricultural Experts Agreed on This Opinion.

Copyright, 1923, by United Press.

LONDON, March 14.—Europe is not going to be able to buy the excess grain crops of the United States this year, according to a consensus of old world economic and agricultural experts.

"America might as well prepare to dispose of any cereal excess through the mouths of the world's starving paupers," a leading British broker declared.

Russia is planning to use a lot of American wheat in 1923—but not to pay for it, the representatives of the All-Russian Consumers' Union said. "The United States has most of the world's gold and is about to get the remainder," R. G. Glenday, economic expert of the Federation of British Industry, said.

"Europe's ability to absorb American produce of any kind hinges upon the condition of Germany—which remains the hub and barometer of Europe, despite crippling French action in the Ruhr."

England probably will look to Canada for its wheat, an official of the department of agriculture stated.

PLAN COMMISSION WORK OUTLINED

Boulevard Construction Is on Fifty-Year Basis.

Outlining the proposed work of the city plan commission for a system of boulevards and major thoroughfares to provide for needs of the city for fifty years, Charles A. Bookwalter, president of the board of park commissioners, spoke at the last of a series of seven fire prevention meetings last night in Caleb Mills Hall.

"In the next three years I want to see Indianapolis in the vanguard of the beautiful cities of the United States," Bookwalter said. "Cities are now in competition with each other and we must keep ahead. Let us bury that sectional warfare of the North side against the South side and all work together for one purpose."

Fire Chief John J. O'Brien landed members of the fire force for their unselfish work in the interests of the city. He declared that with the cooperation of the citizens in reducing fire hazards the time would come when destructive fire would be reduced to a minimum.

Spirits Restored After Bitter Sting During Last Days of Senate—Battle With Watson Forces

Inevitable, Politicians Say.

By JOHN CARSON
Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Postmaster General New is back at his desk and all "pepped up" over his experience last week in Indianapolis.

Senator James E. Watson is in Florida, where it may be possible for him to confer with President Harding.

Disassociated as these facts might seem to be, there is a relation. The tremendous reception given New in Indianapolis did not add to the confidence and the political security of Senator

CHARITIES BOARD FINDS HOMES FOR 5,000 CHILDREN

Annual Report Shows Wide Range of Activity in Twenty-Five Years.

Nearly five thousand Indiana children have been placed in family homes during the last twenty-five years by the State board of charities, and 72 per cent of them have remained free from public support, a report made today by John Brown, temporary chairman, shows.

Finding homes for approximately five thousand children involved 8,141 transfers, Brown said. This year marks the twenty-sixth since establishment of the board, April 1, 1897.

Approximately three thousand children have been placed in foster homes where they were placed by the board. At the beginning of last year there were 1,553 public wards in the different orphan's homes in the State. In the twelve months just closed 771 children, not previously on public support, have been received, and 435 former wards have been readmitted, making a total of 2,759 children handled during the year.

On Sept. 30, 1922, the close of the last fiscal year, 1,557 boys and girls were found in orphan's homes, an increase of 104 over the number a year before. At the same time only forty-nine children were shown to be in county poor asylums. Total expenses of the State agency during the year was $21,394.55.

WHAT THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT IN CINCINNATI

BY ALFRED SEGAL

CINCINNATI, March 14.—They are talking about the discovery of an honest man here. The honest man is pointed out on the streets. Some pity him for being so honest.

The honest man was appointed Federal judge by President Harding, but he shocked everybody by renouncing the honor for the sake of his conscience.

The President was as shocked as anybody when he called on him in person and told him he couldn't take the job.

The President desires to broadcast the name of the honest man, Harry Hoffheimer, a former judge in the county courts.

Eddy Roush, Too

This honest man of Cincinnati holds the center of the local stage with Eddy Roush, the honest man of Oakland, Ind.

Eddy Roush is a ball player, center fielder for the Cincinnati Reds. Eddy Roush is an honest man in that, sincerely believing he is worth $25,000 a season, he is frank enough to say so, and intends to hold out until he gets it. "The management is willing to pay him $15,000."

Some citizens say: "He is worth every cent of $25,000, if he can win a pennant for us."

Others say: "No ball player is worth $25,000, unless he is the kind of a Ruth Ruth was in 1921."

Still others: "Teachers are more useful than ball players, but the average teacher must work about twenty-five years for $25,000."

Baseball Talk

There are some in our city who say people talk too much of baseball while the world is headed for a smash.

So a group of the leading, thinking citizens has gotten together to organize a Foreign Policies Association to spread information relating to our interests in Europe. Another group has organized the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association to create public opinion favorable to the league.

However, on the street cars Public Opinion says:

"So Charley Chaplin is gonna marry Pola Negri after all."

"I began digging up my garden Sunday."

"I'd give anything to see Rodolph dance."

"We gotta pay the income tax, but when do we get the bonus?"

"They're still raising rents."

"You ought to see my new hat."

"An automobile is a liability, never an asset."

"The movies are getting to be awful. I haven't been to one for months."

Etc., etc., etc.

P. J. HAUSS RITES WILL BE PRIVATE

Native of Alsace-Lorraine Dead at 75.

A private funeral will be held at the home at 2 p. m. Friday for Philip J. Hauss, 75, of 3869 Carrollton Ave. He died Tuesday night. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery. Friends may view the body from 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday at the home.

Mr. Hauss was born in Alsace-Lorraine. He came to this country with his parents at the age of 6. He attended Brookville College, Brookville, Ind. He entered the stove manufacturing business with his father at Morris. Thirty-six years ago he came to Indianapolis and entered the real estate business. He was one of the founders of the Zion Evangelical Church.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Josephine Hauss; two daughters, Mrs. C. O. Dreiss, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Harry Winterole, of Indianapolis; one son, Philip G. Hauss, of Indianapolis, and three grandchildren, Henrietta Juneaus, Dorothy Lucille Hauss, and Philip J. Hauss, Jr., all of Indianapolis.

HIGH FENCE AGAIN MARKS PROPERTY LINE OF NEIGHBORS

White Resident Hastens to Repair Damage Done by Wind.

The so-called "spite fence" between the homes of Gabriel Slutsky, 2253 N. Capitol Ave., and his colored neighbor, Dr. William R. Merriwether, 2257 N. Capitol Ave., stands serenely today.

An ill wind that blew nobody good, caught the fence in its grip Friday night. The fence toppled over into Merriwether's yard, according to Mrs. Slutsky.

Saturday Slutsky employed a carpenter to rebuild the fence and put it firmly in place, one foot from the property line on Slutsky's yard, according to Mrs. Slutsky.

But in assembling the six-foot fence Slutsky and the carpenter had to go over into the Merriwether's yard. This caused much consternation on the part of the Merriwethers. Representatives from a colored newspaper flocked to the scene of the fence raising and took photographs of the proceedings, Mrs. Slutsky said today.

The fence was erected about two years ago. At that time it reached the height of ten feet. Merriwether brought suit against Slutsky. He obtained $350 damages. The height of the fence was reduced to six feet.

It is reported Merriwether may bring suit against his neighbor for trespass as a result of his rescue of the runaway fence. R. L. Bailey, attorney for Merriwether, would neither affirm or deny the report today.

FORMER COUNSEL OF VETS' BUREAU IS FOUND DEAD

Body Discovered in Room With Bullet Wound in Head.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Charles F. Kramer, general counsel of the veterans' bureau until a few weeks ago, was found dead in his home here today.

Police believe he committed suicide. A bullet wound was found in his head and a revolver was in his room.

Kramer, who was severely criticized by American Legion officials, resigned from the bureau during the shake-up of that government agency, created by the action of the Senate in order to get a complete investigation of charges that veterans' relief was being badly administered.

Kramer's chauffeur heard a shot in the Kramer home early today. He notified the police, who found the body, attired in night clothes.

The body was found in a locked bath room. A revolver was clutched in his hand. At midnight Kramer accompanied his wife to the Union Station where she boarded a train for New York.

The coroner's jury pronounced the death a suicide.

Kramer lived in the house formerly occupied by President Harding while a Senator.

'INFANT HUSBAND' SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife Says He Sat Like Stick When Guests Called.

By United Press

CHICAGO, March 14.—Although Warren J. Garland is 21 years old, his wife, Isabella, says he is an "infant and entirely too young and innocent." She asks a divorce from him on these grounds.

"He sat like a stick every time we had company," she added by way of good measure, "just sat with his back to me and sulked all the time. He has stayed at home all his life and is a very unsophisticated person."

They were married last October and lived in the tranquil suburb of Des Plaines until the wife could endure her "infant husband" no longer.

Stolen Auto Found

A sedan owned by Cleve Marcum, 2523 W. Washington St., reported stolen today, was found at Morris town by the town marshal.

Three other cars stolen belonged to: Sam T. Becker, 1031 N. Pennsylvania St.; Grover Winnings, Maywood, Ind.; and James W. Hensley, 135 W. Eighteenth St.

Woman Uses Novel Weapon on Prowler

MISS BERNIECE SULLENDER.

UMBRELLA ROUTS PURSE SNATCHER

Thief Drops Pocketbook When Dealt Blow on Head.

Police today commended upon the courage Indianapolis women are showing when accosted by strange men. Following the vigorous defense Miss Berniece Sullender, apartment 3, 828 Roache St., put up Tuesday night, when a negro snatched her purse at Twenty-Sixth St. and Highland Ave.

Miss Sullender struck the negro over the head with her umbrella, so hard that he dropped the purse and fled through an alley.

Monday night Mrs. Marie Doty, 3120 N. Illinois St., struck an alleged masher in the face when he accosted her at Illinois and Vermont Sts.

"My only regret is that I did not have strength to hit the purse snatcher harder," said Miss Sullender. "He came upon me from behind. I whirled around just as he grabbed the purse and hit him as hard as I could."

Miss Sullender described the man as being about 23 years old, 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighing 140 pounds. He wore blue overalls with jacket and a gray cap. Motor Police Lowe and Baker investigated.

CAR RIDER LOSES SUIT FOR BALM

E. T. Lawrence Charges He Was Ejected From Coach.

Suit for $5,000 damages against the Union Traction Company by Edgar A. Lawrence, 5014 Broadway, for humiliation suffered when, he says, he was ejected from an interurban car at Forty-Ninth St. and College Ave., Nov. 20, 1920, was lost in Superior Court. A jury found for the defendant.

Lawrence testified when he wanted to get off the car he could not attract the conductor's attention and pulled the bell rope. The rope broke. He said the conductor then struck him and ejected him.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsion of cod liver oil, which is an essential element in the blood. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical profession as the greatest healing agent for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to serious complications.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, catarrhal bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

NURSE, CITED FOR WAR WORK, SHUNS PUBLICITY HONORS

Miss Jane G. Malloy of Ft. Harrison Receives Medal for Service.

Cited as one of twenty-one nurses in this country to receive the distinguished service medal, Miss Jane G. Malloy, head nurse at Ft. Benjamin Harrison Hospital, today shunned the publicity which accompanied the honor. She declined to discuss it with reporters.

Although notification that she was to be awarded the medal was received by Miss Malloy Feb. 27, the fact was not disclosed until United Press dispatches were received by The Times late Tuesday from Washington.

Miss Malloy, whose home is in Santa Barbara, Cal., has been an Army nurse for fifteen years. Award of the medal was made for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service during the World War." Miss Malloy served as chief nurse of the base hospital at Camp Devens, Mass., from October, 1917, until the signing of the armistice.

Brigadier General Aultman, commandant at the fort, today said that the date of the formal presentation of the medal had not been set.
