CORONER'S PROBE INDICATES DENNER WAS RIDING ALONE

Police Still Continue to Investigate Theory of Possible Companion.

Belief that William F. Denner, 45, of 1221 N. LaSalle St., was alone when his automobile took him to his death plunge into Fall Creek at Talbot Ave., early Wednesday, was expressed today by Coroner Paul F. Robinson, who is conducting an inquest.

Police continued their investigation of clues which, to their minds, indicated there may have been a woman with him and that her body might possibly still be in the creek.

Denner's body was recovered from the almost submerged car Wednesday morning. It was in the back seat and condition of the car's machinery showed it was going full speed when it went into the stream.

Dr. Robinson said he was certain Denner died from drowning. He discounted theories that Denner's heart was afflicted a short time before the car went over the thirty-foot embankment.

Meanwhile the coroner and police are seeking to learn where Denner was from 8:15 Tuesday evening, when his mother, Mrs. Pauline Denner, with whom he lived, said he drove away from home, and the time when the accident occurred.

Dr. Robinson said any person who had seen Denner in this period would render a public service by telling the authorities all he knows.

Denner's funeral will be Friday afternoon at the residence.

Local Students at Indiana University Play Prominent Parts in Jordan River Revue

Ten Indianapolis students have parts in the Jordan River Revue, Indiana University's musical show, to be presented at the Murat Theater next Thursday night.

Walter Stiner, Indianapolis, musical director, and Herman Lieber, Indianapolis, assistant, are the two men in charge of the production. The revue is the second attempt of Indiana University students to produce a musical show. Last year the original Jordan River Revue played at the Murat. Fifty-six persons, including twenty-eight men and twenty-eight women, composed the cast of this year's show. A six-piece symphony orchestra is carried.

Plot Based on Balkan Legend
An old Balkan legend is the background for the plot. Count Zabelli, a resident of Chekout, disinherited his son because the son was an artist and refused to follow the profession of war. The son married a gypsy.

During the war the son died. His widow and daughter, Sonia, were separated from Marie, the younger daughter, and Marie, a faithful retainer, Marie and Marie got to New York. Marie opens an art shop. They later return to Chekout with a school of red-headed girls whom Uncle Henry Hermione Horace has taken to Europe to study art. He has an idea all red heads are artistic and spends his money to prove it.

The school goes into financial distress. Money to return to America is produced by Brilliantina, "an ex-chorus lady," anxious to marry Uncle Hermione. The usual number of love affairs start, progress and become involved, to be straightened out in the last scene laid in a New York winter garden.

Local Students in Cast
George Bailey, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Bailey of Indianapolis, does a futuristic dance with Janet Bass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bass of Indianapolis, and Justine Bronson of Shelbyville. Mary Norwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Norwood, 1230

Central Ave., is the soprano in "The Golden Domino." Dorothy Daugherty, Dorothy Marquette and Irene Duffey of Indianapolis dance in several of the choruses.

Frank Cox of Indianapolis takes the part of Pearly Gates, a colored valet of Larry Marshall, American Relief worker. Herman Lieber and Victor Helm of Indianapolis are in the choruses.

Walter Stiner, Charles Robertson and Glad Head wrote twelve original musical numbers. Lyrics are by James S. Adams, Bertha Stein, Walter Stiner and Robert Harris.

Miss Helen Coblenz has worked out the nine girls' choruses in the show, including the gypsy, urchins, redheads, art, palmas, Valentine, green wig, winter garden and struttin' choruses. The book is by James S. Adams, director of the show.

The presentation of the revue here is sponsored by the Indianapolis Alumni Association, of which Mark Helm is president.

pleas of guilty and non-arrests reduced the number.

Among those indicted: Roswell O. Johnson, mayor of Gary, Lewis E. Barnes, former sheriff of Lake County, William H. Oils, sheriff, William M. Dunn, city judge of Gary, Dwight M. Kinder, prosecutor, Blaz A. Lucas, attorney, Clyde Hunter, former prosecutor.

Ruth Bush, 14, Missing
Mrs. John Bush, 528 Chadwick St., today asked police to search for her daughter Ruth, 14. The girl left school at 1 p. m. Wednesday. She was described as being four feet seven inches in height and has light hair. She wore a brown coat and was bare-headed.

attempted to find out what the organization was, but the court ruled the question was not material.

Melloy in earlier testimony cited the case of Billy Jones, Indianapolis, who he said, was arrested with 13 cases of whisky. He said Jones sent $50 to Gary and that Dwight M. Kinder, prosecutor of Lake County, was given a fee of $25 for handling the case. Jones was not in court at this time.

Sixty-Three on Trial
Sixty-three defendants are on trial. Seventy-five were indicted, but four

NOW WHO IS MARBLE CHAMP?

This Paper Will Give Bicycle to Winner of City Contest—and That Isn't All.

Scores of Indianapolis boys and girls today had their best "taws" in shape and were practicing for the preliminary rounds of The Times marble contest to be held during spring vacation week at various school houses.

Winners of the school games will take part in the city championship tourney. The city champion will be awarded a fine double-barreled motor bike type of bicycle.

Besides this, the city champion will be entered in a district tournament to determine the champion of a number of middle Western cities. The district champion will be sent to Atlantic City with one of his or her parents to participate in the national championship. The Times will pay all expenses.

The official game is "ringer." It is easy to play if you are used to playing marbles. It was chosen because it will be the official game of the national tournament and the games must be uniform. Rules of the game will be reprinted from time to time in The Times.

Every boy and girl under 15 in Indianapolis is eligible to enter. Every boy and girl who plays marbles—and that includes about every boy and girl in town—ought to be in the contest. SEND YOUR NAME IN ON THE BLANK COUPON YOU WILL FIND IN TODAY'S TIMES.

Taxpayers Again Object to Furnas Highway Bonds.

Public hearing on a $76,000 bond issue for construction of the S. A. Furnas road, an extension of English Ave. through Center and Warren Townships, will be held Monday before the State tax board. A year ago the board sustained objections to an $89,000 bond issue on the same road.

ROMANCE TRAIL IS LOST HERE

Couple, Supposed to Be in Indianapolis, Still Missing.

Trail of a romance that was believed to lead to the home of Mrs. Albert Irwin, 3019 Broadway today proved to be a "blind alley."

After Mrs. Irwin's brother, Raymond Vinson, employed in Terre Haute railroad shops, disappeared from Terre Haute with Miss Mary L. Ellsworth, said to be his fiancée, who had been missing since Sunday, a note from Vinson was found. It said the couple would motor to Indianapolis to visit Mrs. Irwin. It was believed they were to be married.

Today Mrs. Irwin said that her brother had not been at her home and that she had not heard from him. Miss Ellsworth disappeared Sunday from Warren, where she was a high school teacher.

A letter received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ellsworth, of near Summitville, from Vinson, said Miss Ellsworth was safe and would be at her parents' home within several days.

SPREADING FIRE HALTED

Firemen today were given credit for quick work in preventing spread of flames from a two-story building occupied by the Barish Dry Goods Company, 2530 W. Michigan St., on Wednesday night. The damage was estimated at less than $2,500. The flames threatened to spread to the Emrich Hardware Company structure, adjoining, but were halted.

Inconvenience is suspected. A large stock of dry goods was damaged.

BROTHERS QUIZZED IN GARAGE HOLD-UP DENY IMPLICATION

Employee Is Forced Into Wash-room While Cash Drawer Is Looted.

Wayne Eastes, 23, and Weldon Eastes, 20, brothers, of 903 N. Pennsylvania St., were arrested today on vagrancy charges and held under $5,000 bonds, pending investigation of the hold-up and robbery of the Parkway garage, 325 N. Delaware St. They insisted they were innocent.

Wayne is the regular night man, but was not on duty Wednesday night, reporting he was ill, according to police. Harry Edwards, 608 N. Delaware St., worked in his place.

At 12:45 a. m. a man entered the garage and asked for a drink of water. As Edwards started to show him to the washroom, the stranger, "covered" Edwards with a revolver, forcing him to walk to the washroom and remain there. Edwards heard the front door of the garage open.

Later the rear door of the garage opened and closed. Then the man backed out of the washroom and ran out of the rear door. Edwards hastened to the alley but found no trace of the robbers. He found $17 had been taken from the cash drawer.

The Doctor's Advice by Dr. Lewis Baker

"D. E. G." writes: "My wife and I are getting worse all the time. I am getting so stiff that it is a k-e-s-i-e-v-e-r-y hard for me to get around."

Answer: Get at the drug store the ingredients named, mix thoroughly, and take a teaspoonful at bedtime and again at bedtime, and you should be entirely relieved of that disagreeable disease, rheumatism. Purchase 2 drams of Iodine of Potassium, 1/2 oz. of Wine of Colchicum, 4 drams of Sodium Salicylate, 1 oz. comp. fluid Balmwort, 1 oz. comp. essence Cardiol, and Lactated Pepsin, ad. q. s. 8 oz. This has satisfied thousands, and I am sure it will you. To relieve quickly the severe pains take 5-grain Sal-tol tablets.

"Mrs. L. L." writes: "I am seeking some safe method to reduce my flesh. While my frame is large I am getting real fat, and, of course, it is embarrassing."

Answer: For many years I have placed reliance in the formula known as 5-grain Arbolone tablets packed in sealed tubes with full directions for home use. Some have reduced as much as forty pounds in a few weeks.

Interested asks: "I am constipated, tongue coated, have headache, dizzy spells and indigestion sometimes. Please advise."

Answer: I advise that you begin using 3-grain Sulbers tablets (sulphur sulphur). These tablets are laxative, act on the liver, kidneys and bowels, and tend to keep the blood pure by arousing the eliminative functions. Relief should follow quickly.

"Manager" writes: "I have pains in my spine and frightful headache in back of head, fainting spells, twitching and trembling, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and strength, and in fact as a 'has-been' when it comes to performing accustomed work and duties."

Answer: In all such cases the assistive functions have not kept pace with waste functions and a powerful harmless tonic treatment is needed. I find Cadomene tablets unexcelled and astonishingly beneficial in such cases and advise them for you.

Note: For many years Dr. Baker, 312 College Bldg., Dayton, Ohio, has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press columns, and doubtless has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence similar to the following:

Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir:—We have used three of the medicines you advise, the double four, the essence, Menthol-Laxative, and the rheumatism preparations, and I want to say they all worked like a charm. They are the best I have ever used, and I feel I could not keep house without them. I am very grateful and pleased to recommend any of these medicines prescribed. Very truly yours, Mrs. B. L. Whitely, No. 5 Columbia St.

U. S. WITNESS SAYS RUM WAS DIVIDED

Chicago for two days trying to catch Agnes Szabo, pretty Hungarian girl, of South Bend with a basket of whisky.

"I wouldn't hang around anywhere that long for one basket of whisky," Melloy answered emphatically.

Melloy told of whisky deals with Agnes Szabo.

"We seized thirteen cases of whisky from Bill Jones of Indianapolis," he testified. "Part of it was sold to Miss Szabo and the rest divided between Hunter, Dunn, Constable Myhoff and me. I never touch whisky, so I gave a lot of mine away."

After that he said he supplied Agnes Szabo with whisky constantly.

"She bought about 150 cases all told," he said.

"The price ran from $125 to $130 a case. When we didn't have enough to supply her demand I used to go to Chicago with her and help buy whisky for her there, also to keep her from being molested."

Seize Shea's Booze
Twenty cases of whisky belonging to Dennis Shea of Terre Haute were seized, Melloy said, and sold to Agnes. Money from the sale was split with officials, he said.

"Seabright came to me once and said that we had to return twenty-five quarts of whisky taken from Schaeffer's place in East Gary," Melloy said. "We took it back, Seabright going with me."

It was common custom Melloy said, to take bonds from liquor defendants, divide the money and drop the prosecution of the case.

The size of the cane Melloy has carried ever since the trial opened caused considerable comment.

"There will be no attempt to intimidate that witness," a prohibition agent said, as Melloy, in emphasizing a point on the witness stand, brought the heavy cane down with a thump that resounded throughout the courtroom.

Melloy in his testimony on cross-examination told of paying money to Hunter in Hunter's office.

Safe Full of Liquor
He said he put the booze in the office of Fred Seabright, a deputy prosecutor, "until the safe was all full and we had to put it in the floor."

Starr produced a receipt purporting to have been signed by Charles L. Clinehens, a justice of the peace, for $600 and made out to Pete Persons, a constable. Melloy said he had seen the receipt.

"Did you ever use whisky as evidence in the justice of the peace courts?" Starr asked.

"No," the witness answered. "We never had to. The defendants always pleaded guilty over in a lawyer's office."

Says He Saw Drinking
Melloy testified he saw Hunter "drinking in Seabright's office."
