

LYONS, UNDER FIRE AS EX-KLANSMAN, WILL NOT QUIT POST

WILLIAMS, HELD IN CALIFORNIA, WANTS JAIL TERM 'OVER'

Former Local Auto Dealer Is Caught in San Diego After Long Search.

After two years of vain endeavor to evade United States officials, W. D. "Pete" Williams was in jail today at San Diego, Cal., awaiting removal to Indianapolis.

Williams, formerly a well known Indianapolis garage man, will be brought back next week by Linus P. Meredith, United States marshal, to serve a six months sentence for conspiracy to violate the liquor laws imposed by Judge Albert B. Anderson in 1913.

In attempts to evade the sentence Williams carried the case to the Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court. Defeated in all legal battles he forfeited a $2,000 bond and disappeared in 1913.

His wanderings, it was said took him to Cuba, the Bahamas, Mexico, Hawaii and finally to San Diego, where he was arrested last week.

Williams admitted his identity Friday, according to telegrams received by Federal authorities, and said he wanted to get back to Indianapolis and "get it over."

Williams and his son Axel were convicted of violating the Reed amendment, which forbids transportation of liquor from a wet State into a dry one. This was before the national prohibition amendment became effective.

REPORTS ACCIDENT, THEN IS ARRESTED

Delbert Willham Held for Injury to Boy.

When Delbert Willham, 19, of 450 E. Parkway Ave., came to police headquarters today to report an accident in which the automobile he was driving struck Walter Priller, 14, of 34 Karcher St., Friday, Willham was arrested on charges of assault and battery and failing to stop after an accident.

Priller's left leg was broken. He is improving at St. Francis Hospital. The accident occurred at Union and Palmer Sts. Willham stopped, but left before police arrived, it was said.

Willham said he was driving for his father, who is ill, and did not wait for police after the accident because he wanted to rush his parent home.

MODEL'S 'ANGEL' IS QUESTIONED

Two Society Men Also Quizzed in Murder Case.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Two men, one from the peak of American aristocracy, the other from a considerably lower level, whose lives were tangled with that of Dorothy King, murdered "Broadway butterfly," were to be brought face to face today in the office of District Attorney Pecora.

J. Kearney Mitchell, Philadelphia millionaire clubman, was questioned again concerning his relations with the slain artist's model.

Albert E. Gulman, who was befriended by Miss King, was to be present.

Pecora hoped by checking up the stories of the two men to gain a further clue to the murder.

Francis Keenan, the dead girl's brother, has admitted applying to Draper Daugherty, son of the United States attorney general, for a job in the Department of Justice. This followed Keenan's discovery that Draper Daugherty was friendly with his sister, Miss King's real name was Keenan.

DAUGHTER AND SONS SURVIVE JOHN ULRICH

Funeral of Designer Set for 2:30 p. m. Monday.

John Ulrich, 70, designer of the fringed in the Riley room of the Claypool, died Friday at his home, 530 E. Thirty-Third St. The funeral will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Monday, with burial in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mr. Ulrich was born in Germany in 1853, coming to this country when 20. He studied photography, lithography and design in Germany. Coming to Indianapolis, he became an employee of the William Burford Company. He served them forty-seven years.

Surviving are four sons, Paul, Louis, Walter and Oscar, and one daughter, Mrs. Elsa Sputh, all of Indianapolis.

PRISON SENTENCE FIXED

Charles Barnett Receives One to Three Years for Desertion.

When Judge Collins of Criminal Court today sentenced Charles Barnett, 38, to one to three years in the Indiana State prison for child desertion, his wife, Mary Barnett, who had caused prosecution, screamed and beat upon a table. Their child is six years old.

Barnett was arrested in Dayton, Ohio several days ago. Authorities were told he had another wife there.

Volunteer Sleuths Hope to 'Clean-Up' Sullivan

LEFT TO RIGHT—NEWMAN BUY, H. J. RIDGEWAY, CHARLES BRILEY, GEORGE R. WATSON, HERSCHEL WENCE.

These are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

They are five of the nine members of the Sullivan County Protective Association, a branch of the National Horse Thief Detective Association.

PETER LAUGHLIN DEAD

Former Columbus Man Expires in Colorado—Funeral Here.

Word has been received here of the death of Peter Laughlin, 76, formerly of Columbus, Ind., in Pueblo, Colo., where he had lived for about thirty years.

Mr. Laughlin's daughter, Mrs. Lawrence G. Gels, Eleventh and Pennsylvania Sts., was at his bedside. She will bring the body to Indianapolis for burial in Crown Hill cemetery. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at the John F. Reynolds chapel, 950 N. Pennsylvania St.

RUSSIA DEAF TO CLEMENCY PLEAS FOR CHURCH HEAD

Vicar General Budkevich Must Die on Charge of Treason.

By United Press. MOSCOW, March 31.—The Russian government turned a deaf ear today to worldwide appeals for clemency of Vicar General Budkevich, sentenced to die for treason and resistance to the soviet system.

Official attitude toward the case of the Roman Catholic prelate is that his crime was absolutely unpardonable, because he assured Poland of his loyalty, although he was a Russian citizen. This constitutes him a traitor in the Government's eyes. Further, it is stated, the vicar general was in communication with Poles, arranging plans for a counter revolution here, and was selling nationalized church property to Poland.

Vicar General Budkevich was found guilty of treason together with Archbishop Zepiak. The latter's death sentence was commuted to ten years imprisonment.

While politicians of both leading parties have expressed the opinion that the Klan has been powerful in Indiana elections, they also have expressed it would never become an open issue.

It was pointed out that Governor McCray, close friend and political sponsor for Lyons, has repeatedly expressed opposition to the Klan and its aims, and the subject has caused some division among State officials.

Orbison's Name Heads List. The anti-klan magazine prints a long list of names of Indianapolis persons who, it says, are members of the Klan. Heading the list is the name of Charles J. Orbison, former Superior Court judge and an active Democrat. The magazine says, referring to Orbison: "He is assistant to Imperial King Stephenson, who was formerly King Kleagle of the 'Golden Rule' Klan."

Orbison refused to comment today. Lyons' telegram of resignation was addressed to "Freeman and Stewart, care of Harrison Pharmacy, Eleventh St. and College Ave. It reads:

"Some thirty days ago I was inducted into the Ku-Klux Klan through misrepresentation. Since my action I am convinced that your organization is wrong and un-American in its principles and purposes. Accept this as resignation from this un-American organization, and I demand that you take my name from the roster at once."

Dated March 27. The telegram was dated March 27. The letter to the American Union League bears the same date. It says: "I am a firm believer in our Government, as it is now constituted, believing that all men are equal before the law and the right to a trial by jury of their peers, and the right to worship Almighty God in whatever way may seem fit. The Ku-Klux Klan, according to their oath and constitution, does not conform with these principles. Being a man of conservative ideas and a lover of freedom, I cannot help but at this time make my position plain with the people of my State."

"Nobody Else's Business." "If I belong to the Klan, it is my business and nobody else's," the Rev. George S. Henninger, one of the ministers listed by Tolerance as Klansmen, said.

"I have never taken any oath in my life such as ascribed to the Klan by Tolerance. As far as Lyons I have nothing but supreme contempt for such a man."

"I do not believe in mob violence or in hurting the colored races. I believe in the right of a Catholic to worship according to the dictates of his conscience."

Opposes Parochial School. "I am opposed to any interference with the public school system, either by Methodists or Catholics. I am opposed to accepting the parochial school as a substitute for our public school system. I am opposed to any interference by Protestant, Jew or Catholic in our splendid governmental system."

"I belong to the Masons and well know the insidious thrusts made at that organization. I believe in it with all my heart and if for these beliefs I am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

ASSAILANT HELD AS KNIFE WOUND THREATENS DEATH

Raymond White's Condition Critical—Warren Thompson Admits Cutting.

"I didn't have any business sticking a knife in him. I was just nervous that was all. It just started over jolking."

This was the statement of Warren Thompson, 35, colored, 2447 Massachusetts Ave., today after he had been arrested charged with cutting Raymond White, 22, white, 325 Beauty Ave., early today at Kingan's plant.

White is in a serious condition at the city hospital. He suffered a cut in the lower part of the abdomen extending more than six inches in length, physicians said he had a slight chance to recover.

Runs Down Stairway. Following the cutting Thompson ran down the stairway, but was stopped and arrested by William Smith, special police officer, who disarmed him. Sergeant Dean and the emergency squad investigated. Thompson and White told much the same story.

Thompson said it started over jolking. White said "we were just kidding." Then the jolking and kidding led to cursing and the cutting.

"Get out of the way," witnesses said Thompson ordered as he passed a number of men near the locker room.

Starts Over Argument. "What is it to you if we don't get out of your way?" White was said to have answered. The men continued to argue as they entered the locker room. White carried a bundle containing his coat, apron, and butcher knives, but all agree that he put this on top of a locker before the cutting occurred.

Thompson drew his pocketknife as he and White continued to curse each other. White said: "Put up your knife and I'll fight you fair." He repeated this three times, and then Thompson admits he cut him, police say.

Thompson is married. His wife, he said, is ill. He has worked for the company eleven months. White has been employed at the Kingan plant since November. Thompson was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill and vagrancy, and is held under a $5,000 bond.

FINDING OF MAN PUZZLES POLICE

R. C. Hazen, 914 Ashland Ave., Covered With Blood.

Police today investigated circumstances surrounding the finding of R. C. Hazen, 914 Ashland Ave., in an interurban waiting station at Thirty-Eighth St. and Ritter Ave. He was covered with blood. The act was committed at the home of John Gross of Apartment No. 11, the Delmar, at 221 W. Vermont St.

Helen Thompson, 13, of 1237 Nordyke Ave., has a skull fracture suffered in an automobile accident Thursday.

Stripped of Clothes. By United Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 31.—William Williams, 33, was stripped of all his clothing when it caught in a winding core at the local wire mill. He suffered a broken leg and internal injuries.

WOMAN HELD WHEN MONEY DISAPPEARS

Florence Wildhack Charged With Vagrancy by Police.

Detectives today questioned Florence Wildhack, 31, of No. 7, the Millikan apartments, who was arrested Friday night on a charge of vagrancy. According to police Miss Wildhack was a friend of Rudolph Volderauer, before he was arrested for operating a blind tiger, police say. According to the story told the officers by Volderauer, he expected to be arrested and left a trunk containing a sum of money for bond in Miss Wildhack's possession. When he was arrested he called for Miss Wildhack to come to his assistance, but she and the money had disappeared, detectives said.

Republican Officeholders Amazed by Publication of Documents—Local Pastor, Listed as Ku-Klux Member, Defends Americanism.

Lawrence Lyons will not resign as Republican State chairman in response to a demand from factions within the Indiana G. O. P. which followed his withdrawal from the Ku-Klux Klan and his denunciation of the "invisible empire," he said in a telephone conversation from his home at Brook, Ind., today.

Lyons said he will retain the office of chairman and he expects the Republican State committee to take no action in the matter, which he considers a "closed incident."

Lyons said that final judgment of the people will exonerate him from blame either within the party ranks or within the Ku-Klux Klan.

"I was led to believe I would be able to gain some particular advantage for the Republican organization and was urged by many people to join the Ku-Klux Klan for this reason," he said.

"As soon as I realized the purpose of the Klan, I felt as a true American citizen I should have my name withdrawn from their records and have requested them to do so."

"So far as I know, I am the only one who has thus far publicly declared an intention to withdraw."

"It is my opinion that when judgment is finally passed on my action, it will meet with approval of all fair-minded, liberty-loving citizens of Indiana."

Lyons, over the telephone, said he did not know when he would be in Indianapolis.

A dispatch to The Times from Washington indicates Republicans there feel it will be necessary for Lyons to resign. It was stated friends of Postmaster General Harry S. New have been urging him to permit a fight to compel the resignation of Lyons, who opposed the appointment of New to the Cabinet. The dispatch said the Ku-Klux incident may be used for this purpose.

No meeting of the State committee has been scheduled, but it is possible the Lyons affair will be discussed officially at the next session.

Lyons admitted the correctness of a telegram of resignation from the Klan and a letter to the American Union League denouncing the Klan as un-American. Both are printed in the current issue of Tolerance, an anti-Klan publication.

Prominent ministers included in a list of reputed Klan members printed by Tolerance issued statements.

Republicans Concerned. Lyons' action has caused a stir in Indiana political circles. Some observers, expressed the opinion it will result in the Ku-Klux Klan being made an open political issue.

G. O. P. office holders looked upon the publication of the documents with amazement. Few hesitated to express the opinion that Lyons had "pulled a boner" in joining the organization and then discussing his resignation with those who would make it public.

While politicians of both leading parties have expressed the opinion that the Klan has been powerful in Indiana elections, they also have expressed it would never become an open issue.

It was pointed out that Governor McCray, close friend and political sponsor for Lyons, has repeatedly expressed opposition to the Klan and its aims, and the subject has caused some division among State officials.

Orbison's Name Heads List. The anti-klan magazine prints a long list of names of Indianapolis persons who, it says, are members of the Klan. Heading the list is the name of Charles J. Orbison, former Superior Court judge and an active Democrat. The magazine says, referring to Orbison: "He is assistant to Imperial King Stephenson, who was formerly King Kleagle of the 'Golden Rule' Klan."

Orbison refused to comment today. Lyons' telegram of resignation was addressed to "Freeman and Stewart, care of Harrison Pharmacy, Eleventh St. and College Ave. It reads:

"Some thirty days ago I was inducted into the Ku-Klux Klan through misrepresentation. Since my action I am convinced that your organization is wrong and un-American in its principles and purposes. Accept this as resignation from this un-American organization, and I demand that you take my name from the roster at once."

Dated March 27. The telegram was dated March 27. The letter to the American Union League bears the same date. It says: "I am a firm believer in our Government, as it is now constituted, believing that all men are equal before the law and the right to a trial by jury of their peers, and the right to worship Almighty God in whatever way may seem fit. The Ku-Klux Klan, according to their oath and constitution, does not conform with these principles. Being a man of conservative ideas and a lover of freedom, I cannot help but at this time make my position plain with the people of my State."

"Nobody Else's Business." "If I belong to the Klan, it is my business and nobody else's," the Rev. George S. Henninger, one of the ministers listed by Tolerance as Klansmen, said.

"I have never taken any oath in my life such as ascribed to the Klan by Tolerance. As far as Lyons I have nothing but supreme contempt for such a man."

"I do not believe in mob violence or in hurting the colored races. I believe in the right of a Catholic to worship according to the dictates of his conscience."

Opposes Parochial School. "I am opposed to any interference with the public school system, either by Methodists or Catholics. I am opposed to accepting the parochial school as a substitute for our public school system. I am opposed to any interference by Protestant, Jew or Catholic in our splendid governmental system."

"I belong to the Masons and well know the insidious thrusts made at that organization. I believe in it with all my heart and if for these beliefs I am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

am indicted as being a Klansman, then I belong to the Klan. Some of the best friends I have in Indianapolis are among the Catholic, colored and Jewish people."

"I am a poor man, but I will remember what Wrigley did to Tolerance in Chicago."

The Rev. Philip S. May, pastor of the Fountain St. Methodist Church, listed as a member of the Klan, refused to make a statement. The Rev. Ray A. Ransdale, pastor of the Brightwood Methodist Church, also refused to talk.

Enters University as Husband's Pupil

ROCHESTER, Ind., March 31.—A "double life" extending over a period of twenty years was bared in Fulton Circuit Court when two women laid claim to the $35,000 estate of John Bartlett, formerly chief at Cuiver Military Academy.

Wife No. 1, Emily Bartlett, of Columbus, Ohio, says she married Bartlett thirty-five years ago in England, came to this country with him and is the mother of his three children.

Wife No. 2, Ellen Bartlett, of West Baden, hotel proprietress, says she lived with Bartlett twenty years; that they were married and that it was through her efforts that he accumulated his estate. She had no knowledge of his previous marriage.

Judge R. R. Carr will decide the issue.

Double Life Extending for 20 Years Is Bared in Fulton County Court.

By Times Special. ROCHESTER, Ind., March 31.—A "double life" extending over a period of twenty years was bared in Fulton Circuit Court when two women laid claim to the $35,000 estate of John Bartlett, formerly chief at Cuiver Military Academy.

Wife No. 1, Emily Bartlett, of Columbus, Ohio, says she married Bartlett thirty-five years ago in England, came to this country with him and is the mother of his three children.

Wife No. 2, Ellen Bartlett, of West Baden, hotel proprietress, says she lived with Bartlett twenty years; that they were married and that it was through her efforts that he accumulated his estate. She had no knowledge of his previous marriage.

Judge R. R. Carr will decide the issue.

Double Life Extending for 20 Years Is Bared in Fulton County Court.

By Times Special. ROCHESTER, Ind., March 31.—A "double life" extending over a period of twenty years was bared in Fulton Circuit Court when two