PASTOR SEES HOPE IN WORLD CRISIS THROUGH FAITH

Deery Declares Materialism Today Is Defeated by God's Religion.

Declaring that "Jesus Christ is at the helm of the ship (the church) and we know that we shall emerge from the turbulent waters in safety with our God," Rev. Albert V. Deery of St. Catherine's Church, Sunday preached on "The Holy Eucharist and the World Crisis."

Rev. Deery said in part: "When we read in history of that African Bishop, Athanasius, who knelt on the road, took from his bosom the pax containing the Blessed Sacrament, strengthened himself 'ere his pursuers could fall upon him, he did an elementary thing which the church has done in every crisis. He was simply doing over again what had been done; he was doing what the church would do, namely turning to that 'bread from heaven' which the master had given for the 'life of the world'."

"The faithful at the dawn of Christianity realized full well that they might be called upon at any moment, to deny their God or to die. Hence they arose at daybreak, morning after morning, to be present at the 'breaking of the bread.' Thus did those three centuries of religious persecution pass, and liberty gained for the church; and truly was that immortal page written which showed that, not by the weapons of human forging did the early Christians triumph, but through that hidden strength which came to them as they met morning after morning to receive their God."

"And in our day when society trembles in the balance, how feebly do men understand the meaning of that other force which goes on, not in public halls or street corners, but where pious women in their chapels, holy priests at their altars, devout men, women and children at the communion renew their lives with the personal contact of Jesus Christ. These are the forces which the world does not see, but these are things that will give shape and order to society, when the temporary frenzy shall have passed away."

Shows the Need Of Holy Communion

"Without Christ, we realize that we can do naught; if therefore, we are to go forth into the world as exemplary soldiers of Christ, ready to defend God and His Church, then we must come to the source of all holiness and knowledge, to Jesus in Holy Communion. Without this we are not ready to battle for our God, we are crippled soldiers in the heat of the conflict. We are not walking in the footsteps of the first Christians. Hence, we must rally round our Eucharistic God in this crucial hour as never before, and hearken to His cry, 'Come to Me all ye that labor and are burdened, and I will refresh you.'"

"If, therefore, we are true to our God, we will accept His loving invitation; holy communion will do its work and Christ will make good His promises. As paganism and vandalism went down to defeat, so also will the present day of materialism and the material world be reconstructed by Jesus Christ, through frequent holy communion," he said.

PRAYER IS A NATURAL ACT

Pastor Says Prayer Is Conscious Contact With God.

"Prayer is as natural as breathing," said the Rev. Charles H. Gunshus Sunday at the Brightwood Congregational Church.

"Prayer is the mightiest weapon in our armory. It is the key that opens the door to the kingdom of God. It is the power that makes the temptations and trials of life because He knew how to pray."

"Prayer is the psychological act by which the soul seeks and finds contact or communion with God. Prayer is the rope up in the life. We pull it and it rings the bell up in Heaven," he said.

PRETTY HOUSTON GIRL SETS NEW DANCING RECORD

Friends Persuaded Her to Stop After 65 Hours and 53 Minutes.

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas, April 15.—Magdalena Williams, picked recently by Rudolph Valentino as Houston's prettiest girl, today held the world's long distance dancing championship. Miss Williams shattered all previous endurance records when she danced continuously for sixty-five hours and fifty-three minutes.

The Houston beauty, who outlasted forty-one others who stepped off with her Thursday night in quest of new world honors, might be dancing yet if parents and friends had not persuaded her to stop.

Miss Goldi Hughes and L. Kessler, who began dancing when Miss Williams did, also broke the previous record made at Baltimore Saturday. Miss Hughes quit the race after dancing fifty-four hours and Kessler was ordered out of the competition after he had gone fifty-three hours because he could no longer follow the music.

Girl Waits Three Years to Slay Her Alleged Betrayer
So Glad She Killed Him, 'If I Was Out of Jail I'd Go to a Show.'

By United Press
CHICAGO, April 15.—Anna Diadone, 17, who waited three years to slay Frank Taranto, 40, the man she says betrayed her, declared today that she was "so glad I killed him that if I was out of jail I would go to a show."

Taranto was shot to death yesterday by the girl, police said she admits, when he walked to the door of the Diadone home and knocked.

The girl told police she had kept a revolver hidden in her room waiting for return of Taranto, a former lover, he assaulted her three years ago. As the man started to enter the house she started shooting and shouting.

"You ruined me!" She fired six shots, all that were in the gun.

She said she determined upon her revenge after hearing her mother say that a girl so attacked had "lost her honor and was no good any more."

"Because of this man I was dishonored. I could never marry," Anna told the detectives at the juvenile detention home. "I believe the priest will forgive me."

After Taranto fell dead Miss Diadone walked over to the body and kicked it. She then leaned on the fence that surrounds the Diadone home and waited for the police to arrest her.

Evansville Police Interrupt

Air Honeymoon With Arrest

WILL D. PHILAN AND HIS ATLANTA BRIDE IN THEIR HONEY-MOON AIRPLANE.

By NEA Service
ATLANTA, Ga., April 16.—Will D. Philan, aviator, and his bride soared to the seventh heaven of matrimonial bliss.

Then crashed spinally downward to hard reality and to a jail cell for Philan.

Philan, you see, married Miss Annie May Wells here. The ceremony was performed while the pair were seated in Philan's plane.

Then the propeller started whirling and off flew Philan and his bride for a honeymoon in Indiana. But, say police, Philan forgot one important fact when he got married—that he already was married to a girl in Lexington, Ky., and had neglected to divorce her.

Well, news of the spectacular air wedding reached Lexington. Upon which the alleged wife No. 1 communicated with the father of the alleged wife No. 2 in Atlanta.

Upon which papa complained to police, who caused the flying swain's arrest at Evansville, Ind. The air bride has come back home to father. The woman who calls herself wife No. 1 is coming to Atlanta, too—to testify against Philan.

FAKE WAR VETERAN ORGANIZATIONS ARE UNDER U. S. BAN

Justice and Postoffice Departments Will Drive Bodies Out of Existence.

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Spurious war veterans organizations and publications preying upon the sympathies of the American public are to be driven out of existence by the combined forces of the justice and postoffice departments.

Aggressive investigations by the two departments in the last few months have completed the chains of evidence necessary to Federal prosecution.

The postoffice department will shortly issue a number of fraud orders naming certain bodies as using the mails to defraud while the department of justice will ask grand jury indictment of the promoters in localities where their offices are located.

Inquiries of the departments secret agents have revealed imitating organizations on a big scale. Not only have the promoters thrived on the sale of certain publications, proceeds, from which have passed no further than their individual bank accounts, but by cunning solicitations thousands of dollars have been extracted from persons who believed they were contributing to worthy relief causes.
