

1,000 VETS OF '61 TO ATTEND STATE G. A. R. MEETING

Special Program Arranged for Entertainment of Visiting Delegates.

From 150 to 200 members of the Grand Army of the Republic, living in Indianapolis, plan to attend the annual encampment of the State organization at Muncie, May 15-17, Albert J. Ball, assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general, said today. Nearly 1,000 members throughout the State are expected to attend, Ball said.

J. M. Willett of Tama, Ia., commander in chief of the national G. A. R., William A. Kelsey of Ft. Wayne, commander of the department of Indiana, and other national and State officers will attend. Through co-operation of the American Legion, Boy Scouts, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and other patriotic organizations, the encampment promises to be one of the best ever held, Ball said.

Indianapolis members of the G. A. R. will leave on a Special Big Four train Tuesday morning, May 15 at 9 o'clock. Delegates from outside cities are to take another train leaving at noon. Meetings Tuesday will be confined to preliminary organization. Muncie citizens are to be hosts to the veterans at a banquet at the Roberts Hotel in the evening.

The first business session will be held Wednesday morning. The annual parade will be given in the afternoon. A sightseeing trip through the city and dedication of a boulder commemorating the encampment will conclude the Wednesday program. Final meeting of the encampment will be held Thursday with election and installation of officers.

COLLEGE OFFICIAL ASKS ATTENTION ON SCHOLARSHIP

Dr. Edwin Sparks of Pennsylvania Opens Program for Butler Society.

More attention should be given to scholarship in education in America, Dr. Edwin D. Sparks, president emeritus of Pennsylvania State College and regent general of Phi Kappa Psi, scholarship patron declared in a talk to the students and faculty of Butler University today.

The meeting was held in honor of newly elected members of the fraternity. Members of the senior class and of the faculty appeared in caps and gowns.

The fraternity initiation services were held in the University library in the afternoon.

The annual banquet of the fraternity will be held in the Florentine room of the Claypool tonight. Among the speakers will be Dr. Thomas Carr Howe, former president of Butler; R. F. Davidson and Dr. W. C. Morrow. Seniors on the program for talks are Mrs. Harold E. Winslow, Henry P. Bruner and Miss Dorothy Black. Miss Katherine Quig will give a violin solo and Miss Sarah Slison will sing.

TWO ARE SENTENCED ON INFORMATION BY KU-KLUX

Isaac Sherman, 26, Oxford Hotel, and Paris Redman, colored, 325 W. Twelfth St., were fined $200 and costs each and sentenced to sixty days on the Indiana State farm by Judge Wilmett, on affidavits said to be part of those provided by the Ku-Klux Klan. They were charged with operating a blind tiger.

Cases of four other men arrested on similar affidavits were continued until May 2. The others:

Stewart Donnelly, Claypool Hotel; George Egan, 111 W. North St.; Joe Furb, 1236 E. Ohio St.; Paridel Stanovich, Maryland and Minnesota Sts.

'TIME TO THINK' NEEDED

The trial of Willie Carey, 234 Arbor Ave., on charges of neglecting his son, born Jan. 1, 1923, will be resumed next Monday. The hearing was held Monday night at 7 p. m. and was continued to give Judge Frank J. Lahr of Juvenile Court, "time to think."

Willie told the court he had been arrested forty times.

Mrs. Mary Carey, his wife, who brought the charges, said she had been arrested fifteen or twenty times. "Judge, I don't think she takes good care of the baby," said Willie. "I am afraid some one will fall on it. They're always leaving over it."

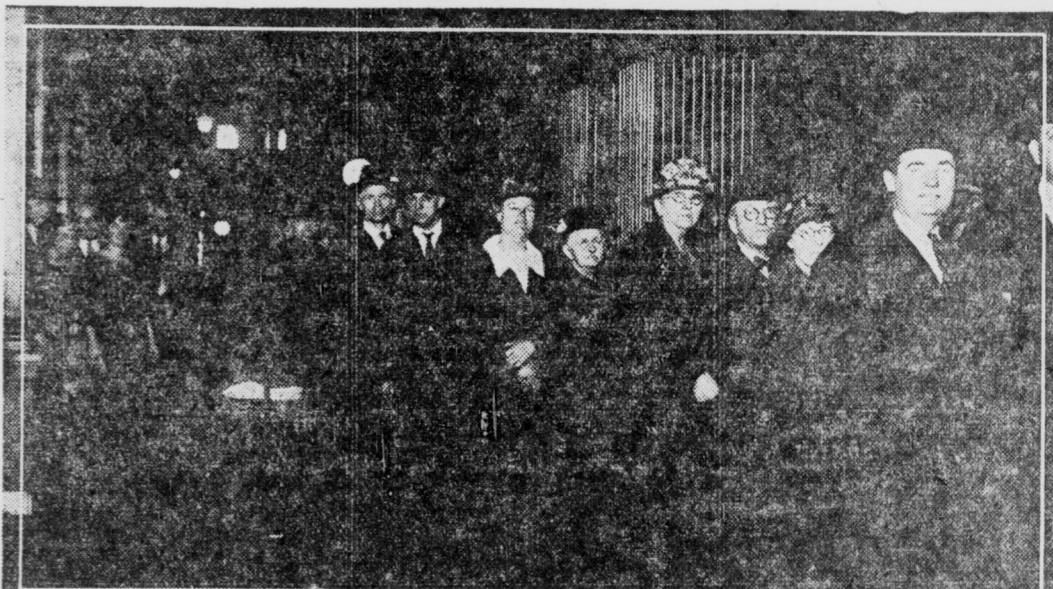

Nicholson to Be Beauty Judge

Winners in a beauty contest to be held at Indiana University in connection with the publication of the college annual, the Arbutus, will be selected by Meredith Nicholson, author. Pictures of the coeds will be published in the book, which will be edited hereafter by the Junior class instead of the seniors.

Local Firm Dissolves

Dissolution of the State Tire and Rubber Company, 204 S. Illinois St., was effected today with papers filed with Ed Jackson, Secretary of State. Philip Deutscher was president and Rose Deutscher, secretary.

'Last Days' Taxpaying Rush on Again

See the people!
They all have money in their hands with a yellow slip of paper. They are waiting to pay taxes at the treasurer's office in the courthouse. Part of them will pay Mayor Shank's salary and fix the holes in Washington St. and other thoroughfares.

With eleven days left to settle with Marion County before being declared delinquent the line is long. The picture shows only a small part.

"I wish I'd brought my dinner," remarked a woman holding a child by the hand.

"Next year I'm going to pay my taxes Jan. 1," said a man. He had been waiting an hour and was nearly half to the cashier's window.

"But he won't," said C. O. Harris, chief deputy treasurer. "You've heard of the wise and foolish virgins? This last minute rush always reminds me of them. And this rush today is nothing to what we will have Monday, May 7, the last day."

Two of 13 Arrested Plead Guilty to Violating City Ordinance.

Judge Delbert O. Wilmett will inspect plants in which smoke consumers have been installed before passing on charges against thirteen Indianapolis concerns accused of violating the smoke ordinance, he announced when the cases were brought before him today. The city asks judgment of $100.

Two of the defendants, James Finn, engineer of the Ballard Ice Cream Company, 315 N. Alabama St., and Opie Powermaster, superintendent of the Indianapolis Cordage Company, pleaded guilty and their cases were taken under advisement until May 15.

More Arrests

Frank S. Beck, city smoke inspector, said seventy-five more persons will be brought into court.

Two persons against whom charges have been made, but who have not been arrested are Alvin Tyler, fireman at the Roosevelt Hotel, Capitol Ave. and Ohio St., and William Williams Soap Company, 1281 Roosevelt Ave.

Those whose cases were continued are James Jackson, engineer for William B. Hurford Company, 28 S. Meridian St.; R. L. Glenn, engineer at the Y. M. C. A., Illinois and New York Sts.; Frank Hill, general of the Hilgemier Packing Company, 445 W. Raymond St.; Gottlieb Erber, engineer, Hume-Mansur Bldg., 23 E. Ohio St.; A. S. Anderson, chief engineer, Indianapolis Street Railway Company, W. Washington St. power house; J. A. Botorff, engineer at the Traction Terminal building, Illinois and Market Sts.; Frank Alexander, engineer, Duesenberg Automobile Company, Washington and Harding Sts.; William P. Junglauss, contractor, 825 Massachusetts Ave.; J. L. Dunn, engineer, Bankers Trust Company; Frank Bowers, superintendent State Life building.

Keeler & Company, general merchants of Lizton, Hendricks County, filed a petition in bankruptcy in Federal Court today. Petitions also were filed by Charles E. Keeler and George E. Ruse, partners in the concern.

Liabilities of $18,231.80 and assets of $12,196.43 were scheduled. Keeler gave his liabilities as $3,900 and assets at $860. Ruse listed liabilities of $18,810 and assets of $590.

Store and Partners File Petition in Federal Court.

Rolla Nissen Dies at City Hospital of Injuries Received in Wreck.

Another accident caused by violation of the headlight law brought death today.

Rolla Nissen, 19, bank clerk, 834 Fletcher Ave., died at the city hospital at 9:30 a. m. He was injured Saturday night when an automobile driven by Oliver Bales, 827 Park Ave., crashed into a culvert wall on the Martinsville Rd. west of Bethany park.

Bales, who suffered a cut on his head and bad bruises, is confined at his home. He said another motorist suddenly flashed on glaring headlights causing him to swerve into the culvert wall.

Martin Nissen, brother of the dead youth, was slightly injured, as were two other men riding in the car.

Nissen was brought to the city hospital at 3 a. m. Sunday. His funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church with burial in the Lutheran cemetery.

LIFE'S SPAN ENDS FOR EX-SOLON AS BIRTHDAY NEARS

D. V. McCallister Will Be Laid to Final Rest in Shannondale.

Eighty-two years ago Wednesday, April 25, 1841, David V. McCallister was born two miles from Crawfordsville, Montgomery County.

On Wednesday, April 25, 1923, on his eighty-third birthday, David V. McCallister will be buried in Shannondale, Ind., where he moved from his birthplace when he was 11.

Mr. McCallister, who lived at 3535 Byram Ave., died Monday at the home of his son, Frederick McCallister, 3824 Byram Ave., after a brief illness.

Funeral services at the home will be followed by the burial in Shannondale.

In 1893 Mr. McCallister was a representative to the State Legislature from Montgomery County. He moved to Indianapolis thirteen years ago. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. for more than fifty years.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Harriet McCallister; the son, Frederick; and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Knox, of near Shannondale.

Harding Hits at Foes of Court

When the Martin Bomber took a nose dive into the Miami River, near Dayton, Ohio, three army aviators and one civilian were killed and a fourth member of the army air service suffered a fractured skull. The crash is the most disastrous in the history of McCook field. Its victims represented three of the nation's principal flying fields.

When a party platform is regarded by too many men in public life as even less important than a scrap of paper and groups or blocs are turned to serve group interests and many individuals serve through while contempt for party loyalty pretty much is lost to the discard.

"Let no one misconstrue me. I am not advocating the abandonment of the primary, which gives to every voter a voice in nominating men for office and determining party policy. I would carefully preserve and safeguard it against the old-time abuses which impeded its adoption, but I would make it an agent of undisputed party possession rather than a means of party confusion or destruction.

"Our drift today is toward pure democracy, and no pure democracy ever long survived. We talk solemnly and earnestly about preserving our world civilization. I have every confidence in survival, but it may be assured only by human kind reaching the proper appraisal of the secure values of twenty centuries of progress. In our America we have the freest and best press in the world. In its power of today only the press can sound the warning and reason to that conviction which will enable us to play our full part in the work of preservation."

Gains in Commercial Strength

"Our position commercially is gaining in strength, because we are free from political entanglements, or can be charged with no selfish designs.

Mr. Harding at this point turned to the merchant marine problem, pointing out that a contradiction of the principle of less government in business was necessary and adding:

"It would be a small Administration which would surrender the aspirations for an American merchant marine and scrap or sacrifice our great merchant fleet in a pique of disappointment over the Senate's failure to give approval.

"For security of defense, for the advance of a like extravagant and ineffectual outlay in case of future war, for the promotion of our commerce and our eminence on the seas, I believe a great merchant marine to be an outstanding American requirement."

Answers Personal Criticism

Turning to a change in American political thought, discussing the question as the first newspaper president, and referring to alleged criticisms that "there is not a strong man" in the White House, Mr. Harding continued:

"But a great change has taken place, virtually influencing the work of administrative and legislative fulfillment. This effectiveness is no longer influenced by war stress or presidential personality. It is the change in our political system, the rule of the primary, the drift toward pure democracy, and the growing importance of political parties.

"We have gotten away from the representative system; we have reached a point where the lack of party loyalty has made party sponsorship in Government less effective than

TOLERANCE WINS SUIT

A reversion suit against "Tolerance," organ of the National Unity League, has been dismissed in Chicago, a telegram to officials of the local branch of the league, 1208 National City Bank Bldg., said today.

P. H. O'Donnell, president of the league, who sent the message, said those who brought the suit were repudiated by Federal Judge Carpenter.

More than twenty-five representatives of brick manufacturing concerns and railroads were present at a hearing today at offices of the public service commission in the case of the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce against several railroads, asking for a revision of brick freight rate schedule. A. B. Cronk, traffic manager of the commission, suggested to the representatives the adoption of a schedule similar to that tentatively fixed by Judge Theophilus J. Moll in Marion County Superior Court.

States from Attica, Crawfordsville, Brazil and Terre Haute to nineteen Indiana cities were discussed. Moll, in his decision, asked the commission to confer with carriers and shippers in order that a satisfactory schedule might be adopted.

HEARING AGAINST RAILROADS OPENS

C. of C. Asks Revision of Brick Freight Rates.

Rolla Nissen Dies at City Hospital of Injuries Received in Wreck.

Another accident caused by violation of the headlight law brought death today.

Rolla Nissen, 19, bank clerk, 834 Fletcher Ave., died at the city hospital at 9:30 a. m. He was injured Saturday night when an automobile driven by Oliver Bales, 827 Park Ave., crashed into a culvert wall on the Martinsville Rd. west of Bethany park.

Bales, who suffered a cut on his head and bad bruises, is confined at his home. He said another motorist suddenly flashed on glaring headlights causing him to swerve into the culvert wall.

Martin Nissen, brother of the dead youth, was slightly injured, as were two other men riding in the car.

Nissen was brought to the city hospital at 3 a. m. Sunday. His funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church with burial in the Lutheran cemetery.

Where Four Were Killed in Army Air Crash

When the Martin Bomber took a nose dive into the Miami River, near Dayton, Ohio, three army aviators and one civilian were killed and a fourth member of the army air service suffered a fractured skull. The crash is the most disastrous in the history of McCook field. Its victims represented three of the nation's principal flying fields.

When a party platform is regarded by too many men in public life as even less important than a scrap of paper and groups or blocs are turned to serve group interests and many individuals serve through while contempt for party loyalty pretty much is lost to the discard.

"Let no one misconstrue me. I am not advocating the abandonment of the primary, which gives to every voter a voice in nominating men for office and determining party policy. I would carefully preserve and safeguard it against the old-time abuses which impeded its adoption, but I would make it an agent of undisputed party possession rather than a means of party confusion or destruction.

"Our drift today is toward pure democracy, and no pure democracy ever long survived. We talk solemnly and earnestly about preserving our world civilization. I have every confidence in survival, but it may be assured only by human kind reaching the proper appraisal of the secure values of twenty centuries of progress. In our America we have the freest and best press in the world. In its power of today only the press can sound the warning and reason to that conviction which will enable us to play our full part in the work of preservation."

Gains in Commercial Strength

"Our position commercially is gaining in strength, because we are free from political entanglements, or can be charged with no selfish designs.

Mr. Harding at this point turned to the merchant marine problem, pointing out that a contradiction of the principle of less government in business was necessary and adding:

"It would be a small Administration which would surrender the aspirations for an American merchant marine and scrap or sacrifice our great merchant fleet in a pique of disappointment over the Senate's failure to give approval.

"For security of defense, for the advance of a like extravagant and ineffectual outlay in case of future war, for the promotion of our commerce and our eminence on the seas, I believe a great merchant marine to be an outstanding American requirement."

Answers Personal Criticism

Turning to a change in American political thought, discussing the question as the first newspaper president, and referring to alleged criticisms that "there is not a strong man" in the White House, Mr. Harding continued:

"But a great change has taken place, virtually influencing the work of administrative and legislative fulfillment. This effectiveness is no longer influenced by war stress or presidential personality. It is the change in our political system, the rule of the primary, the drift toward pure democracy, and the growing importance of political parties.

"We have gotten away from the representative system; we have reached a point where the lack of party loyalty has made party sponsorship in Government less effective than

LIGHT VIOLATION IS BLAMED FOR FATAL ACCIDENT

Rolla Nissen Dies at City Hospital of Injuries Received in Wreck.

Another accident caused by violation of the headlight law brought death today.

Rolla Nissen, 19, bank clerk, 834 Fletcher Ave., died at the city hospital at 9:30 a. m. He was injured Saturday night when an automobile driven by Oliver Bales, 827 Park Ave., crashed into a culvert wall on the Martinsville Rd. west of Bethany park.

Bales, who suffered a cut on his head and bad bruises, is confined at his home. He said another motorist suddenly flashed on glaring headlights causing him to swerve into the culvert wall.

Martin Nissen, brother of the dead youth, was slightly injured, as were two other men riding in the car.

Nissen was brought to the city hospital at 3 a. m. Sunday. His funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church with burial in the Lutheran cemetery.

Where Four Were Killed in Army Air Crash

When the Martin Bomber took a nose dive into the Miami River, near Dayton, Ohio, three army aviators and one civilian were killed and a fourth member of the army air service suffered a fractured skull. The crash is the most disastrous in the history of McCook field. Its victims represented three of the nation's principal flying fields.

When a party platform is regarded by too many men in public life as even less important than a scrap of paper and groups or blocs are turned to serve group interests and many individuals serve through while contempt for party loyalty pretty much is lost to the discard.

"Let no one misconstrue me. I am not advocating the abandonment of the primary, which gives to every voter a voice in nominating men for office and determining party policy. I would carefully preserve and safeguard it against the old-time abuses which impeded its adoption, but I would make it an agent of undisputed party possession rather than a means of party confusion or destruction.

"Our drift today is toward pure democracy, and no pure democracy ever long survived. We talk solemnly and earnestly about preserving our world civilization. I have every confidence in survival, but it may be assured only by human kind reaching the proper appraisal of the secure values of twenty centuries of progress. In our America we have the freest and best press in the world. In its power of today only the press can sound the warning and reason to that conviction which will enable us to play our full part in the work of preservation."

Gains in Commercial Strength

"Our position commercially is gaining in strength, because we are free from political entanglements, or can be charged with no selfish designs.

Mr. Harding at this point turned to the merchant marine problem, pointing out that a contradiction of the principle of less government in business was necessary and adding:

"It would be a small Administration which would surrender the aspirations for an American merchant marine and scrap or sacrifice our great merchant fleet in a pique of disappointment over the Senate's failure to give approval.

"For security of defense, for the advance of a like extravagant and ineffectual outlay in case of future war, for the promotion of our commerce and our eminence on the seas, I believe a great merchant marine to be an outstanding American requirement."

Answers Personal Criticism

Turning to a change in American political thought, discussing the question as the first newspaper president, and referring to alleged criticisms that "there is not a strong man" in the White House, Mr. Harding continued:

"But a great change has taken place, virtually influencing the work of administrative and legislative fulfillment. This effectiveness is no longer influenced by war stress or presidential personality. It is the change in our political system, the rule of the primary, the drift toward pure democracy, and the growing importance of political parties.

"We have gotten away from the representative system; we have reached a point where the lack of party loyalty has made party sponsorship in Government less effective than

Garage Fire Is Laid to Grudge

Police Believe John Johnson Was Victim of Enemy.

With charred walls indicating gasoline had been sprinkled on them and ignited, police today believed the garage of John J. Johnson, 2120 Boulevard Pl. was set on fire Monday night by an enemy. Two automobiles were destroyed. The State fire marshal was notified.

A window of the garage had been forced.

Johnson has been confined to his bed since he returned from a hospital Thursday.

The garage has been entered three times in two years.

RECREATION HANDICAPPED

City Forced to Operate on $45,000 Less Than Last Year.

Edward McBride, city director of recreation, declared today in the monthly cabinet meeting that although his department has $45,000 less this year than last he expects this to be a successful season.

"I don't believe the men responsible for the reduction of our tax levy realized they were depriving little children of places to play," he said. "We will have $75,000 to $80,000 for recreation work this year. The city should be ashamed of this small amount. The amount before the cut was inadequate."

Bar Head Upholds Constitution

By Times Special

ANDERSON, Ind., April 24.—The belief that the Constitution of the nation is not up to the spirit of the present time is a fatal error, said Cassius C. Shirley, president of the Indiana Bar Association at a meeting of the Madison County Bar Association, Monday night. He urged lawyers to be ready at all times to address civic bodies on the Con-

JUDGE CONTINUES CASES TO STUDY SMOKE CONSUMER

Two of 13 Arrested Plead Guilty to Violating City Ordinance.

Judge Delbert O. Wilmett will inspect plants in which smoke consumers have been installed before passing on charges against thirteen Indianapolis concerns accused of violating the smoke ordinance, he announced when the cases were brought before him today. The city asks judgment of $100.

Two of the defendants, James Finn, engineer of the Ballard Ice Cream Company, 315 N. Alabama St., and Opie Powermaster, superintendent of the Indianapolis Cordage Company, pleaded guilty and their cases were taken under advisement until May 15.

More Arrests

Frank S. Beck, city smoke inspector, said seventy-five more persons will be brought into court.

Two persons against whom charges have been made, but who have not been arrested are Alvin Tyler, fireman at the Roosevelt Hotel, Capitol Ave. and Ohio St., and William Williams Soap Company, 1281 Roosevelt Ave.

Those whose cases were continued are James Jackson, engineer for William B. Hurford Company, 28 S. Meridian St.; R. L. Glenn, engineer at the Y. M. C. A., Illinois and New York Sts.; Frank Hill, general of the Hilgemier Packing Company, 445 W. Raymond St.; Gottlieb Erber, engineer, Hume-Mansur Bldg., 23 E. Ohio St.; A. S. Anderson, chief engineer, Indianapolis Street Railway Company, W. Washington St. power house; J. A. Botorff, engineer at the Traction Terminal building, Illinois and Market Sts.; Frank Alexander, engineer, Duesenberg Automobile Company, Washington and Harding Sts.; William P. Junglauss, contractor, 825 Massachusetts Ave.; J. L. Dunn, engineer, Bankers Trust Company; Frank Bowers, superintendent State Life building.

Keeler & Company, general merchants of Lizton, Hendricks County, filed a petition in bankruptcy in Federal Court today. Petitions also were filed by Charles E. Keeler and George E. Ruse, partners in the concern.

Liabilities of $18,231.80 and assets of $12,196.43 were scheduled. Keeler gave his liabilities as $3,900 and assets at $860. Ruse listed liabilities of $18,810 and assets of $590.

Store and Partners File Petition in Federal Court.

Rolla Nissen Dies at City Hospital of Injuries Received in Wreck.

Another accident caused by violation of the headlight law brought death today.

Rolla Nissen, 19, bank clerk, 834 Fletcher Ave., died at the city hospital at 9:30 a. m. He was injured Saturday night when an automobile driven by Oliver Bales, 827 Park Ave., crashed into a culvert wall on the Martinsville Rd. west of Bethany park.

Bales, who suffered a cut on his head and bad bruises, is confined at his home. He said another motorist suddenly flashed on glaring headlights causing him to swerve into the culvert wall.

Martin Nissen, brother of the dead youth, was slightly injured, as were two other men riding in the car.

Nissen was brought to the city hospital at 3 a. m. Sunday. His funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church with burial in the Lutheran cemetery.

Where Four Were Killed in Army Air Crash

When the Martin Bomber took a nose dive into the Miami River, near Dayton, Ohio, three army aviators and one civilian were killed and a fourth member of the army air service suffered a fractured skull. The crash is the most disastrous in the history of McCook field. Its victims represented three of the nation's principal flying fields.

When a party platform is regarded by too many men in public life as even less important than a scrap of paper and groups or blocs are turned to serve group interests and many individuals serve through while contempt for party loyalty pretty much is lost to the discard.

"Let no one misconstrue me. I am not advocating the abandonment of the primary, which gives to every voter a voice in nominating men for office and determining party policy. I would carefully preserve and safeguard it against the old-time abuses which impeded its adoption, but I would make it an agent of undisputed party possession rather than a means of party confusion or destruction.

"Our drift today is toward pure democracy, and no pure democracy ever long survived. We talk solemnly and earnestly about preserving our world civilization. I have every confidence in survival, but it may be assured only by human kind reaching the proper appraisal of the secure values of twenty centuries of progress. In our America we have the freest and best press in the world. In its power of today only the press can sound the warning and reason to that conviction which will enable us to play our full part in the work of preservation."

Gains in Commercial Strength

"Our position commercially is gaining in strength, because we are free from political entanglements, or can be charged with no selfish designs.

Mr. Harding at this point turned to the merchant marine problem, pointing out that a contradiction of the principle of less government in business was necessary and adding:

"It would be a small Administration which would surrender the aspirations for an American merchant marine and scrap or sacrifice our great merchant fleet in a pique of disappointment over the Senate's failure to give approval.

"For security of defense, for the advance of a like extravagant and ineffectual outlay in case of future war, for the promotion of our commerce and our eminence on the seas, I believe a great merchant marine to be an outstanding American requirement."

Answers Personal Criticism

Turning to a change in American political thought, discussing the question as the first newspaper president, and referring to alleged criticisms that "there is not a strong man" in the White House, Mr. Harding continued:

"But a great change has taken place, virtually influencing the work of administrative and legislative fulfillment. This effectiveness is no longer influenced by war stress or presidential personality. It is the change in our political system, the rule of the primary, the drift toward pure democracy, and the growing importance of political parties.

"We have gotten away from the representative system; we have reached a point where the lack of party loyalty has made party sponsorship in Government less effective than

Mayor Starts Olds Car on Test Run