

Foot Work Is Golfing Necessity

FOLLOWING THROUGH AND EYING THE BALL COME NEXT

By BILLY EVANS

KEEP your eye on the ball. Follow through with your swing. These and a score of other suggestions are a part of golf. Every kind-hearted individual has a bit of advice that he feels sure will improve your game, when, as a matter of fact, it is certain to injure it. I have always believed that keeping your eye on the ball and following through with your swing were the two principal features of a good golfer.

RECENTLY as I watched Jock Hutchinson drive ball after ball down the fairway of the Miami, Fla., Country Club, getting uncanny accuracy and great distance to each drive, I wondered what he thought about it, what he figured was the basic fundamental of a good golfer.

"What is your greatest asset from a golfing point of view?" I asked Jock.

"Footwork," he replied, as he continued hitting them a mile. Hutchinson is a little fellow, not weighing over 145 pounds, yet he hits a mighty long ball. You wonder how he does it.

"WHAT is the greatest asset of any golfer?" I asked.

"In baseball the fellow who pulls away from the plate never amounts to very much as a hitter. In tennis foot faults are the most annoying of anything that can happen. Nothing will throw a tennis player off his game more quickly than being constantly out of position. In bowling if a player doesn't approach the foul line properly, and isn't lined up with it when he lets the ball go, he isn't going to get much accuracy. It is needless for me to comment on what footwork means to a fighter.

"FIRST you must address the ball properly. Your feet must be correct as to distance. Then as you start to swing, the importance of footwork becomes even more manifest.

"It is rather difficult for me to try to explain this feature. Any one who has ever tried to play golf knows just what I mean when I refer to footwork. Those who have never played it have something to think about, because sooner or later most people will play it.

"KEEPING your eye on the ball is important. Following through with your swing is more important. Footwork, however, is most important."

There you have Jock Hutchinson's opinion of golf, and Jock is sure a pastmaster at the game.

Perfect Game

By Times Special
ROCKFORD, Ill., May 3.—Pitcher Rennie Young of the Bloomington team of the Three-I League twirled a perfect game against Rockford Wednesday and won, 9 to 0. It was a no-hit, no-run, no-error, first-inning contest. Twenty-seven men faced Young and he fanned four. His mates gave him faultless support.

Only a few perfectly pitched games have been recorded in the history of organized league baseball.

INDIANS IN LAST PLACE AGAIN AS INJURY JINX RETARDS CLUB EFFORTS

Tribe Faces Third of Series With Senators With Same Old Handicaps—Eddie Brown's Batting Average Starts to Bulge.

Trouble, trouble, boil and bubble.

The depleted Indians skidded down the cellar door again Wednesday. Players in the make-shift line-up are trying to keep their heads up, but the patched places are pulling the boys down.

The Tribe athletes were ready for another go-around with the Columbus Senators today and the outlook wasn't encouraging. Jess Petty was about due for the chucking job, but unless he was airtight his chances for victory were of the slim variety.

Old experience counts in the tight places and the weak links are sure to come to the surface in the defensive pinch. First base, third base and right field are out of order because of necessity and those three spots were poorly defended Wednesday. In addition to handicaps there, Pitcher Carmen Hill didn't have a thing. The veteran is not twirling as of yore.

If all Tribe regulars had been in the contest Wednesday victory probably would have been easy for the home team. Pitcher Senator finger wasn't much. He won because the Indians didn't have their full strength. The score was 5 to 3.

Seib Tries Outfield

Clyde Seib was used in the Tribe right garden Wednesday. Purcell was left out of the line-up because of his inability to hit southpaw fling. Seib got one hit and a sacrifice, but his outfield work was semi-pro, and his throwing arm was weak.

There is a vast difference in the strength of the Tribe as it stands now and when all regulars are in position. Little can be expected of the club until Krike and Campbell return to the line-up. When these two players recover from injuries four positions will be bolstered—first base, third base, catch and right field.

Three hits for Eddie Brown Wednesday. The tall boy's batting average is fastening.

Sicking and Whelan accepted many chances Wednesday, twenty all told. Sick failed to make a play in two games of the series, but he improved defensively. The Tribe captain is complaining of a "game" leg.

Dixon got an error he didn't deserve Wednesday. Murphy rolled one in front of the plate and out in as he neared first. The Indians asserted Murphy ran out of line, but Empire Murray couldn't see it that way. Maybe Krueger didn't play the throw properly, but at any rate Dixon's pen went untouched and Murphy calmed to second.

Manager Moleworth of the Senators advanced Brooks from seventh to third position in the batting order, and Brooks made a play for the honor by obtaining three hits.

Scout Sutton of Brooklyn and Scout Smith of Washington attended the Wednesday contest.

The Davis is playing good ball for Columbus and he is hitting hard.

"Ladies day" at Washington Park Friday.

The club officials sent out eighteen telegrams Wednesday, sending out various managers over the country, in an effort to obtain playing help.
