

MOTHER OF SLAIN STUDENT NAILS 'CAMPUS LIES'

Mrs. Mount Declares Hazers Killed Son and Denies Suicide Theory.

By United Press
CHICAGO, May 11.—Mrs. J. L. Mount, frail mother of Leighton Mount, today emphatically refuted hints her son committed suicide and declared she will fight to bring his slayers to justice.

She branded parts of the testimony of President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern University, before the grand jury, as "campus lies."

In denying Scott's testimony that she expressed fear Leighton ran away or took his own life, Mrs. Scott accused Scott of inducing her to "keep quiet about developments in the case to protect the school."

"He Died Fighting"
"My boy was killed by hazers. He died fighting. Now I am going to fight. I am through protecting Northwestern University."

Mrs. Mount has been near collapse since the skeleton identified as that of her son was found in a Lake Michigan pier, where, the Mounts charge, it was placed by hazers some time following the 1921 class rush. She nervously wept as she read Scott's testimony.

The mother said soon after Leighton's disappearance President Scott called her up and told her he had expelled fifteen students, but asked her to keep this quiet so they could enter other institutions.

Demands Justice
"They told me my boy would return. That's why I kept quiet. Now I am through keeping quiet. I demand justice."

Aligned with Mrs. Mount in her fight today was Miss Doris Fuch, the youth's sweetheart, to which the mother was reported to have objected.

"I have abandoned the theory I first held that Leighton killed himself and I am confident now he was killed by hazers," she said.

HOME REMEDIES OF OUR ANCESTORS
Almost every man and woman in America can remember the botanical recipes of our mothers and grandmothers for the treatment of disease, and they were wonderfully dependable, too. Every fall there were stored away in the attic thoroughwort, pennyroyal, catnip, sage, rue, and many others for treating the family during the winter months that followed. In 1873, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first prepared from one of these botanical recipes, and the demand for it has increased to such an extent that hundreds of tons of roots and herbs are now used annually in its preparation. It has recently been proved that 88 out of every 100 women who try it have been benefited by its use, which is a marvelous record for any medicine to hold.—Advertisement.

Did Winter leave you with that tired feeling?

WINTER'S confinement, with its lack of "pure air and sunshine," shows its effect in Spring. To be underweight, easily tired, listless and have a poor appetite, indicates a weakened condition of the blood. Nature must have help—your blood is minus fighting strength! More red-cells mean cleaner, purer, richer blood. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells. It builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. FAILURE OF CASE TO REACH UPPER COURT MYSTERY

Records Found in Appeal Filed by State Board in July, 1922.

Efforts were being made today to determine why the case involving the powers of the State board of accounts, supposed to have been transferred to the Supreme Court from the Appellate Court July 29, 1922, did not reach the Supreme Court until today.

Pleadings in the case, filed at different times, have been found by Joel A. Baker, deputy clerk of the Supreme Court, buried under old files of decided cases, Baker said. The case was filed during the term of Patrick J. Lynch, as clerk. Zachariah T. Duncan is clerk now.

In the case the Appellate Court held the board of accounts had no power over road contracts. The decision, with the case presumably pending in the Supreme Court, precipitated a hard fight in the Legislature and resulted in a new law, giving the board more powers.

Records show that the petition was filed July 29 and that briefs and request for oral argument were filed Aug. 10. The three documents were together when found.

Records show the various filings were entered in the Appellate Court docket but never appeared on the Supreme Court docket.
