

BIBLE PROVES GOD EXISTS, PASTOR STATES IN SERMON

Rev. Fackler Draws Lessons From Certain Hidden Mysteries.

"As we search the Scriptures to know more about God, we find hidden things, wisdom and judgments which the human mind cannot fathom," Rev. Louis C. E. Fackler, pastor of St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church, declared Sunday in a sermon on "The Hidden Mysteries."

"The Bible and the universe vouch for the existence of God," he said. "The sacred writing, the Bible, tells us of the true God."

"The first mystery is that concerning the trinity. The entire Scriptures declare that God is one Lord, yet He is described as Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Here we have a proposition which is beyond the grasp of our reason. That statement is not a contradiction, no Christian will call God a liar as the unbeliever does. The Christian search the Bible which says 'there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word and the Holy Spirit,' and these three are one, i.e., one Lord, one God. There are three persons in the one divine essence."

"The Christian accepts the testimony which God bears of Himself and knows what He says is truth. The rationalist says impossible, what foolishness, and refuses to believe."

Second Mystery Deals With Wisdom and Knowledge.

"The next mystery is 'The Wisdom and Knowledge of God.' We cannot understand how a being can possess all wisdom and knowledge."

"We never saw a human being that knew everything that human mind can comprehend. Where is there a philosopher, a scientist, a mathematician, a theologian, a physician, a lawyer, a linguist all in one person. There may be a person that possesses an understanding of these various subjects, but there is much in each branch which he does not know. Then the learned must continue review in each branch which he does not know. Then the learned must continue review lest they forget. That which a learned man has forgotten would make us wise."

"Now think of God of whom our text speaks, He knows everything. On the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God. Speak in any language and God understands you. God understands the workings of everything. He has given us in the first chapters of Genesis the fundamentals of all true natural science. There he tells us how man, the world and all things came into existence."

"Yes, just think of it, He understands even the thoughts and intentions of our hearts. Now this does not pertain to only one person among us, but to all people everywhere and in all ages. Who is there among us that can comprehend with his mind such a being. This is the Lord God of whom the Scriptures speak."

Even a Third Mystery Is Discussed by Pastor

"Another mystery in our text is 'The Judgments and Ways of the Lord.' How unsearchable are His judgments and His ways pass finding out. Why is it that the Lord often calls from this world faithful Christians who would be of great assistance in promoting the kingdom of God?"

"Why does He not permit them to labor longer? Why does He often give long life to the wicked? When they refuse to accept the truth. Why does He not strike them down in their wickedness? Why is it that great difficulties that appear without and within the church are not removed upon the first requests of the Christians? The Lord would try our faithfulness. But above that we can see the ways of the Lord pass finding out."

"Though there are mysteries in the Scriptures, that which is necessary for salvation is clearly stated, so that he that will faithfully hear will be led to believe in God and that he believes will be saved. Blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it," the Rev. Fackler said.

PRODIGAL SON TYPICAL

Educator Says Bible Characters Is Like Man Without God.

"The prodigal son of the Bible is typical of the entire human race away from God," declared Dr. John Paul, president of Taylor University, in his sermon before 1,500 persons at Cadle Tabernacle Sunday on "Modern Problems."

Dr. Paul announced that the national convention of the Promotion of Holiness Association would be held in the Tabernacle in September.

World's Biggest Circus Arrives Here Today for Two Great Performances

As today is circus day in Indianapolis, this picture of three performers of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined circus tells its own story. The elephant is Babylon. He is the biggest actor with the circus. The female looking person is Berta Beezon, famed tight-wire walker and dancer. "Berta" is a man. The third picture, a clown, needs no introduction.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus arrived here during the night for two performances today on the circus lot on W. Washington St.

There will be no street parade as this circus eliminated it several seasons ago.

The 700 arena stars with the circus number such world-famous artists as Berta Beezon, the sensational high-wire dancer; Lily Leitzel, the world's greatest aerial gymnast; Beatrice Sweeney, "twirling at pinwheel speed in the dome of the big top;" Mille Theol, who describes sixty revolutions per minute on a foot-square base fixed high in the air; the marvelous girls in the Silver Swings—an old world novelty act.

There are single companies of performers in this vast modern circus that outnumber the entire personnel of old-time shows. One family, the Nelsons, in remarkable acrobatic displays, consists of father, mother, six daughters and a son. The Italian Picchianis form a troupe of fourteen athletes. Other companies have been formed for the 1923 tour by combining the champions of different countries.

The Clarkonians, supreme among aerialists of England, now appear trapeze to trapeze with the American Tomelsons. Vieing with these artists over still other great nets are the French aerialists, the Silbongs, and elsewhere in the 700-foot long main tent, the Siegrists and Neopolitan. There are seventeen separate displays this season, each numbering no less than nine separate acts.

Seventy equestrians present bareback riding and, in addition, twenty-two menage riders appear in a display given over entirely to high-school horses. The bareback artists offer everything commonly associated with the "old-fashioned circus" while the wonderful Reiffenach Sisters have come from Belgium to in-

The verdict recommended life imprisonment. Mrs. Mima Wertz, the convicted man's mother-in-law, and Beryl Wertz Leeper, his wife, were indicted.

KIDNAPING JUST 'STORY'

Eight-Year-Old Girl Admits Her Adventure Was Fake.

When little Helen Moore, 8, could not find the home of her mother, Mrs. August J. Loechle, 1001 Parker Ave., Sunday afternoon, she returned to the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Judt, 107 N. State St., and accounted for her absence with a story of being kidnapped.

"A man in a black automobile held me up and told me to get my clothes and said 'You have to come with me.' He let me out at Tenth St. and a street car man brought me home," she said.

But when Motorpolice Oakley and Dillan questioned her, she said she was just "storying" to her grandmother."
