

LIFE OF CUNO CABINET RESTS ON RECEPTION OF REPARATION

CORONER STARTS INVESTIGATION OF DOUBLE DROWNING

Witnesses Ordered to Tell of Young Men's Death at Ravenswood.

A probe was being conducted by Deputy Coroner William A. Doeppfers today in a double-drowning at Ravenswood bathing beach in White River Tuesday afternoon.

Guliford Warren, 21, of 5868 E. Washington St., and Frank Grubbs, 22, of 3536 E. New York St., were drowned while attempting to swim across White River in company with Mrs. Ruby Rodgers, 22, who gave her home as Muncie.

It was the first drowning of the G. WARREN, swimming season. Mrs. Rodgers told the police that the young men persuaded her to accompany them across the river, although she could not swim. Two-thirds of the way across Warren is said to have called that he had cramps. Albert Wingerath, Ravenswood, rescued Mrs. Rodgers.

Warren sank. Grubbs went to his rescue. They grappled for a while. They did not resurface. It was almost forty minutes before the bodies were recovered. A pulmotor owned by the city of Ravenswood was used without success by Dr. George R. Gates of the Brevoort Hotel.

Walter C. Bennett, of Broad Ripple and V. Arcus of Ravenswood dived for the bodies of the two men.

Dr. Doeppfers said the men's faces bore evidence of a struggle in the water. George Hunt, 774 N. Emerson Ave., who accompanied Warren and Grubbs to the beach, said they asked him to swim across the river but that he refused.

Witnesses Ordered in. All witnesses were ordered to appear in the coroner's office today. Records show that at 9 p. m., May 2, a Ruby Rodgers, 21, of 911 E. Washington St., was arrested on a vagrancy and a statutory charge. Lieutenant Hudson said she told him she worked in a cafe at 301 E. Washington St. In city court today she was discharged on the statutory charge and fined $25 on the vagrancy count.

Warren is said to have been the mother of Mrs. E. E. Warren, and five sisters, Mable, Fern, Hattie, Warren, and Mrs. Hattie Cook, all of the E. Washington St. address. Funeral arrangements for neither young man have been completed.

Eleven persons were drowned here last year between May 6 and Sept. 7. Were Close Friends.

Grubbs and Warren were close friends. Grubbs's sister, Viola, 17, said she had quarreled with Warren a few days ago, but had made up with him Tuesday morning.

"I'm so glad we did," she said. Mrs. Rodgers said she met Grubbs and Warren at Ravenswood Monday, and they asked her to go across the river with them. She said she told them she would see them some other time. She met them again Monday afternoon and agreed, after some persuasion, to try the fatal stunt, she said.

The coroner interviewed Policeman Joseph Calvey, Arenas, Bennett, Thomas Mathews, Ravenswood; Dr. Gates, Charles Carver, Ravenswood and Mrs. Rodgers today.

Three Go Down Together. Mathews told the coroner that he was standing on the east bank of the river when the men and Mrs. Rodgers started across. About two-thirds of the way across, he said, one of the men was leading about two feet and appeared to be fighting the water. Mrs. Rodgers was first to reappear, he said.

Miss Rogers said when she came up the second time she screamed and attracted the attention of her rescuer on the bank.

"He threw down his gloves and jumped in after me with his clothes on," she said.

BRYAN WILL LEAD 1924 DRY FIGHT

Commoner Will Oppose Tammany and Booze.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, June 6.—William J. Bryan will lead the fight for a dry Democratic party in the 1924 convention, supported in the final showdown by the forces behind William G. McAdoo, one of the leading supporters for the Democratic nomination.

The situation may turn out to be similar to that in 1912 when Bryan forced the nomination of McAdoo's father-in-law, Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson was opposed by the Tammany Hall machine headed by Tammany Hall that tried to prevent the nomination of McAdoo. Bryan's battle cry in 1912 was against Tammany and Wall Street.

This time it will be against Tammany and booze—directed at Murphy of New York, Brennan of Illinois and Taggart of Indiana.

Further delay in settling the fight on whether Marion County tax payers are entitled to a refund following horizontal increase ordered in 1913 by the State tax board in assessments being declared illegal, occurred today when county commissioners refused to allow the claim of John R. Harcourt.

Harcourt, a farmer in Washington Township, demanded a refund of $451.93. His case claim was appealed to Circuit Court as a "test case."

Commissioners refused payment on the advice of Emsley V. Johnson, county attorney, who said the county has no fund to meet such claims.

The Circuit Court recently gave two taxpayers judgment against the county on the same question, which was appealed to the Appellate Court. William Bosson, a Washington Township farmer, has been paid a refund of $2,500 on his victory of a "test case" on the question in the Supreme Court.

Forty claims are pending before commissioners, and 5,000 more will be filed before next spring, Bosson said.

OBSERVES LAW; INJURED Compliance with the law resulted in Charles Evans, colored, 115 Adelaide St., being in the city hospital today. Evans stopped at the boulevard at Fall Creek on Meridian St. Tuesday night, and killed his engine. He got out of his machine and started to crank it.

New Proposal Fixes Billion and Half Marks as Yearly Payment and Leaves Settlement of Terms to International Conference.

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, June 6.—Life of the Cuno cabinet depends on the reception of the new reparations offer now on its way to the allied capitals.

In the face of strenuous opposition from many sides because of failure to reach some conclusion with the allies that will lift Germany's present burden, Chancellor Cuno is understood to have proposed:

1. Payment of approximately a billion and a half gold marks yearly.

2. Settlement of the exact terms to be left to an international conference. Contents of the document will be officially divulged upon receipt by the allies.

WISCONSIN WETS PREDICT VICTORY ON DRY REPEALER

Legislative Confab Reaches Crisis—Prohis Equally Confident.

By United Press. MADISON, Wis., June 6.—The legislative controversy over repeal of the Wisconsin prohibition enforcement law reached its crisis today.

Wets predicted victory in the vote on the repeal scheduled in the Assembly at noon Thursday. They prepared to go into caucus tonight to sign their "majority" solidly in favor of the repealer.

The dries are confining activities to statements that the upper house will kill the Tucker bill and the Anti-Saloon League will make the wet assemblymen sweat at the next election.

Meanwhile the anti-prohibitionists pointed jubilantly to:

1. A letter sent out by State Prohibition Commissioner W. Stanley Smith to his deputies, advising them to take a vacation until July 1, without pay, as the $60,000 a year appropriation for his department was all used up.

2. The decision of the State Supreme Court Tuesday that a search warrant must specify the person of any one searched, in order to allow a dry agent to go after "hippers."

3. Decision of the Supreme Court a month ago that automobiles cannot be searched for booze without a search warrant.

The wets also count as a victory the stand of Governor Haine, who came out for the first time at this session definitely "wet" and in favor of amendment of the State enforcement act to protect homes.

NEW SNAG SEEN IN TAX REFUNDS

County Commissioners Refuse Claim of John Harcourt.

Further delay in settling the fight on whether Marion County tax payers are entitled to a refund following horizontal increase ordered in 1913 by the State tax board in assessments being declared illegal, occurred today when county commissioners refused to allow the claim of John R. Harcourt.

Harcourt, a farmer in Washington Township, demanded a refund of $451.93. His case claim was appealed to Circuit Court as a "test case."

Commissioners refused payment on the advice of Emsley V. Johnson, county attorney, who said the county has no fund to meet such claims.

The Circuit Court recently gave two taxpayers judgment against the county on the same question, which was appealed to the Appellate Court. William Bosson, a Washington Township farmer, has been paid a refund of $2,500 on his victory of a "test case" on the question in the Supreme Court.

Forty claims are pending before commissioners, and 5,000 more will be filed before next spring, Bosson said.

DILLON APPEALS 30-DAY JAIL TERM AND FINE OF $100

Former Pugilist Says He Kept Liquor for Personal Use Following Breakdown.

Ernest Price, known in pugilistic circles as Jack Dillon, was fined $100 and costs today and sentenced to thirty days in jail when he appeared in city court on a charge of operating a blind tiger. The case was appealed.

Before Judge Delbert O. Wilmett, Claude Worley, special investigator for criminal court, testified that, armed with a search warrant on the night of May 9 he visited Dillon's home, in Seventy-Eighth St., on White River, north of Ravenswood. He said that, through a window, he saw Dillon sell whisky to one member of a party of two men and two women who had arrived in a taxi.

Worley said he found fifteen bottles of red liquor in the house.

Dillon, on the stand, admitted ownership of the liquor and said he had had two of the bottles since he was in the saloon business. He said the liquor was for his personal use, needed since he suffered a physical breakdown in 1918. He admitted having been convicted of operating a blind tiger Feb. 8, 1922.

Former City Judge Walter Pritchard defended Dillon, who at one time was one of the best boxers in the ring.

The note suggests final settlement of such a great question as reparations must be reached through interchange of notes. Hence it is advisable to summon a conference to discuss differences.

Babies Who Won Bloomington Prizes

Efforts to solve troubles of Mrs. Rebecca West, 19, of 228 W. Ray St., arising from one too many husbands were of no avail in Criminal Court this morning.

After hearing the evidence Judge James A. Collins turned the job over to J. Stephen Fullen, her attorney, and told him to solve the bigamy case.

Mrs. West was indicted Feb. 26 when Arthur Ele, R. R. B., box 131, whom she married May 7, 1919, returned from a year's absence in the Northwest. He found his wife had married Floyd West, 228 W. Ray St., on Dec. 16, 1922.

Mrs. West, whose maiden name was Stone, explained she had heard he had gotten a divorce while on his travels, and consequently had dismissed her divorce application in Superior Court here, last Dec. 5.

Records show that Ele had asked for divorce here in 1920 and again in 1921, the first case being dismissed and the second denied.

"I don't know what to do," said Fullen, after arguing with Mrs. Ele. West and Ele for an hour. "She can't get a divorce now because of this later marriage, and Ele says he won't, because of religion."
