

10,000 Indiana Sunday School Workers Come to Indianapolis Monday for 4-Day Meeting

By THE VISITOR
TEN THOUSAND INDIANA SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS and young people are expected to begin arriving here Monday for the Indiana Sunday School Convention which formally gets underway at the Cadle Tabernacle on Tuesday morning.

Hundreds of delegates will arrive here Monday as official registration begins at the tabernacle at 2:30 Monday, followed by a mass meeting.

A local committee of a hundred co-operating with the Sunday schools of the city have made arrangements to place the delegates in homes of the city.

Vacation Bible Schools and week-day religious education will be two of the chief subjects to be discussed by experts in departmental meetings.

The exercises of the general convention program will be held at the Cadle tabernacle. Sectional conferences, including children's division, young people's division, adult division, administrative division, daily vacation Bible school, ministers, county officers and week-day religious education, in various churches of the city.

Many Special Features Planned to Show Progress
Many features planned to show the strength of the Sunday school movement in Indiana as well as its progress, have been arranged.

On Tuesday night at the tabernacle three principal addresses will be given.
At 12:15 Wednesday noon, the annual Sunday school parade will be held. Last year at Evansville the parade was more than four miles in length. Besides thousands of marchers, the parade will include many floats showing progress of Sunday school work over the world.

On Wednesday night at the tabernacle, Margaret Slattery will speak on "What Shall We Do With the Reformer?"
On Thursday night at the tabernacle, H. Augustine Smith will present his paper, "The New Life."

There also will be luncheons, sectional banquets and dinners. The music will be one of the features at all sessions at the tabernacle.

Official General Convention Program Announced at Tabernacle
The official general convention program to be carried out at the Cadle Tabernacle is as follows:

Monday Afternoon, June 18
2:30 Registration (Cadle Tabernacle).
Tuesday Afternoon, June 19

Cornes Stone to Be Laid Sunday at Fairfax Christian
Work on the Fairfax Christian Church is progressing rapidly. The frame work is all in place and the roof is being laid. The brick masons started laying brick the first of the week and the corner stone will be laid Sunday. The building will be ready for dedication some time in August. The auditorium will seat about 400 people. About five or six hundred can be taken care of in Sunday School work.

90th Anniversary of Central Christian Church Held Sunday

In celebration of the 90th anniversary of the Central Christian Church, Sunday, an elaborate program to include a "home coming" welcome has been prepared. Featuring the exercises will be songs of long ago, some of them written by pioneers of the church.

At the morning service Mrs. E. C. Rumpel will give a solo, "I Know It Was His Love," written by her father, Rev. Daniel R. Lucas, for many years pastor of the church.

"Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," a hymn given to the world by Jessie Pounds Brown, will be sung at the evening service by Mrs. Arnold Spencer. From 5 to 6:30 p. m., there will be a social hour at the church with refreshments.

F. M. Wiley, veteran member of the church, will give a historical sketch of the church's career since 1833, when it was organized in a log cabin which stood on Illinois St., north of Market, in the evening service. The church quartet will sing "Gathering Home."

All members and friends of the church are invited to the reception from 5 to 6:30 p. m.
Rev. Allan B. Philpott is pastor of the Central Christian Church.

AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, Dr. Lewis Brown will preach in the morning on "The Century Child," and at night on "St. Paul in a Basket."

DR. E. A. ROBERTSON of the East Park M. C. Church will preach on the following themes Sunday: "The Educational Mission of the Church," and "The Keynote of Christianity."

"MUTTERINGS OF PROSECUTION" will be the morning theme of Rev. Paul W. Eddingfield at the Broad Ripple Christian Church. At night, "Christian Science."

"CHRISTIANITY AND RELIGION OF THE FUTURE" will be the 11 a. m. theme of Dr. Edwin Cunningham of the Central Universalist Church.

COMMUNION will be observed Sunday morning at the Brookside Park U. B. Church. Rev. Charles P. Martin will preach on "The Conquered Enemy" in the morning and at night on "The Secret of Strong Manhood."

Two weeks ago Land took a trip through Indiana, going from Richmond to Indianapolis, Bloomington, back to Indianapolis, to Lebanon, Frankfort, South Bend, Goshen, Ft. Wayne, Huntington, Kokomo and Elwood largely State roads.

The Ford Age

The screen story of the world's greatest automobile manufacturing institution.

Intimate glimpses of Henry Ford, one of particular interest shows him driving his first car.

It shows the Ford forests, ore mines, coal mines, railroad and the giant factories; all of which clearly illustrates the magnitude of this marvelous manufacturing development.

This unusual screen offering will be shown throughout the city at the following theaters as a special feature in addition to their regular program.

"PENROD and SAM"

Booth Tarkington's Sequel to "PENROD"

JUST AS HE WROTE IT—SO IT HAS BEEN SCREENED
Everyone knows and loves Penrod, his pal Sam, and all the characters of Tarkington's inimitable books. First National's film version tells a truthfully human story of children and grown folks in a humorous and pathetic way. You'll laugh and cry at their haps and mishaps. It's great entertainment for boys and girls from seven to seventy.
