

IMPROVEMENT OF STATE HIGHWAYS CAUSES DETOURS

Weekly Bulletin Shows Maintenance Work Progressing on Major Thoroughfares.

While roads of the State system previously constructed and repaired are in excellent shape, construction and maintenance projects necessitate considerable inconvenience to traffic on some of the major routes, John D. Williams State highway director, said today.

Considerable construction is being made on half a dozen main routes. Maintenance crews are widening secondary roads, reducing grades and cutting sharp turns. This work is necessary to care for the tremendous overland traffic State roads are now carrying, Williams said.

Traffic from Lebanon to Indianapolis is advised to take No. 33 (Noblesville Rd.) east to the Michigan Rd. and thence to Indianapolis, to avoid a bad detour where pavement is being laid in the vicinity of Flackville on No. 6.

Condition of State roads entering Indianapolis:

No. 1 (New Albany, Indianapolis, South Bend, Michigan) closed from four miles north of Crothersville to five and one-half miles north of Crothersville traffic between Crothersville and Seymour should follow detour through Dudleytown. Construction started near Scottsburg and detour established from that town to a point five miles north. Closed from four miles south of Westfield to three miles south of the end of the concrete pavement just south of Kokomo. Closed from three miles south of Kokomo to Kokomo. Follow marked detour.

No. 3 (National Rd., Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Richmond) closed from four miles west of Stillville to Manhattan and from Pleasant gardens to one and one-half miles west. Follow old road through Reynolds. Closed two miles west of corporate line of Richmond. Good detour marked north of Road 3. Under construction from Richmond to Ohio line; proceed with caution.

No. 6 (Madison, Indianapolis, Monticello) closed north of Flackville to two miles north of Royaton. This detour begins a short distance out of Indianapolis and is had. Traffic from Lebanon to Indianapolis can take thirty-three east to the Michigan Rd. and thence to the capital.

No. 22 (Bedford, Bloomington, Martinsville, Indianapolis) new stone between Oolite and Harrodsburg. Easing curves and widening road between Centerton and Martinsville. Harrodsburg bridge bridge south of Mooreville. Exercise caution.

This view was held today by City Civil Engineer John L. Elliott after the board of public works had ordered him to proceed with plans.

Several weeks ago Mayor Shank asked the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations to give opinions as to whether the work should be pushed at the present high cost of construction. Upon the recommendation of the city plan commission, the board adopted a resolution fixing the building lines for Fifty-Sixth St. between Meridian St. and Sunset Ave. This will be used as an entrance to Fairview park, the proposed site of Butler university. The line will extend sixty-five feet from the middle of the street, between Meridian St. and Boulevard Pl., and sixty feet between Boulevard Pl. and Sunset Ave.

These contracts were let for permanent improvement: Alvord St., from Thirteenth to Fifteenth St., two-course concrete, A. D. Bowen, $223 a foot, total $3,390.30; Fernway St., between Lawrence St. and Temple Ave., Marion County Construction Co., $4.49, $15,565.80; and the first alley east of Churchman Ave., two-course concrete, Schwert Bros., $2.19, total $585.64.
