

TWO ARE INJURED AS TRAFFIC TOLL MOUNTS TO 784

Woman and Boy Hurt in Collisions—One Autoist Has Lucky Escape.

Two persons who suffered injuries in automobile accidents Tuesday afternoon were reported recovering today.

The injured: Mrs. Everett Wickard of 8 S. Bradley Ave. Bruised about the body. David Jones, 3, son of Ralph E. Jones, 4631 Guilford Ave. Cut by broken glass of a windshield.

Mrs. Wickard was riding with her husband who was driving west on Washington St. at the intersection of E. Market St. was turning on Washington St. and the two cars collided. Both automobiles were damaged. David Jones was riding in an automobile driven by his mother, Mrs. Josephine Jones, 34, who was going south on Emerson Ave. Mrs. Jones' automobile struck the rear wheel of a car driven by Mrs. Daisy Tonget, 5316 Burgess Ave., parked in front of 744 N. Emerson Ave. Mrs. Jones said a truck crowded her into the other car. Colored Man Escapes.

Ulysses Akers, colored, seventy-first St. and Westfield Rd., considered himself a lucky man today. Akers, driving on Westfield Rd. in his automobile, collided with a car driven by O. C. Roberts of Newcastle, Ind., at a point where the road runs along White River. Akers' automobile went over the bank and landed partly under water. Akers escaped without a scratch. The car was wrecked.

PLANS ADVANCED FOR FINCH PARK OPENING

Southeastern Civic Society Will Supervise Program.

Elaborate preparations for the opening of Finch Park, State St. and Fletcher Ave., Monday evening, July 2, by members of the Southeastern Civic Improvement Club were advanced today.

Mayor Shank and members of the park board will be speakers. Music will be furnished by the police band and the Marimba band of South America. The celebration is in charge of Robert F. Miller and a committee of ten south side leaders.

CHURCH MEETING CLOSES

Dayton Man to Address Christian Endeavor Workers.

Christian Endeavor workers of the White river branch of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Union, United Brethren in Christ, will close a three-day conference tonight at the Indiana Central college, University Heights.

Dr. J. E. Shannon, secretary of evangelism, Dayton, O., will deliver the closing address, followed by installation of new officers.

AUTO THIEF FRIGHTENED

Woman Blocks Attempts to Take Her Automobile.

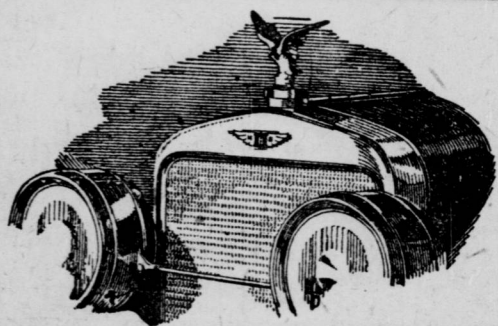

When Mrs. Laura Jackson, 113 Arizona St., heard some one trying to start the motor on her automobile, parked in the yard, early today, she investigated. The would-be thief saw her and ran. She gave police a description of the prowler.

MILK PRICES HOLD FIRM

No Increase Scheduled Here Despite Boost at Chicago.

Local retail milk dealers here today could see no reason why milk prices should be raised following a dispatch from Chicago that the retail price there will increase 1 cent July 1.

The last raise here on Jan. 15 is sufficient to keep the dairies, unless pastures are hit hard by wet weather, explained the Carey & Sons Dairy, 2911 Bellefontaine St.

Eighteen miles to the gallon is only one H. C. S. economy. H. C. S. requires less than normal service attention because it is built so well. That's another.

Boys, the Town's Yours!

"HERE'S THE KEY TO THE CITY," SAYS MAYOR EDWARD L. BADER OF ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., AS HE HANDS IT OVER TO M. F. BOURLA (LEFT), DIRECTOR OF THE MARBLE-SHOOTING TOURNAMENT IN WHICH THE CHAMPS OF FORTY CITIES ARE TAKING PART. ROSS BEAVER, WINNER OF THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES CONTEST, IS IN THE CROWD. THE TOURNAMENT WAS SPONSORED BY SCRIPPS-HOWARD NEWSPAPERS, WHICH PAID ALL EXPENSES OF CITY CHAMPIONS AND ONE OF THEIR PARENTS.

WHERE HOOSIER BOYS WILL PLAY SOLDIER

Times Woman Writer Tells History of Camp Knox, 33,000 Acre Tract in Kentucky.

By DOROTHY STANHOPE
(Times special correspondent at Camp Knox, Ky., June 27.—Before September between 15,000 and 20,000 men will have come and gone from Camp Knox.)

High school boys, college students, reserve officers, National Guardsmen of many ages and from many walks of life, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana all will send goodly numbers. There undoubtedly is in the minds of many more than a passing interest as to just what manner of place this is.

It is a tract of 33,000 acres, lying thirty miles south of Louisville on the Illinois Central Railroad. That is, the occupied area is that far distant; the reservation itself begins much nearer the city.

Population Scattered

It was chosen for the long range possible for artillery fire, as the population through the hills was very scattered. However, the range obtainable is not as great as that at Camp Bragg, North Carolina, so when the Government, in its retrenchment campaign last year, was considering which camp should be kept, the larger one was decided upon.

In consequence Camp Knox was abandoned last fall as a permanent station for troops and only a small caretaking guard was left during the winter. The guard did not prove adequate for protection of the occupied area and vandals looted many of the quarters.

The land is not particularly valuable. It is a collection of joint farms which the Government bought, in many cases from owners most unwilling to part with their possessions.

Fruit Trees Killed

Excellent apples were raised, I am told, and there are thousands of trees in the deserted orchards. Crabapples, plums, pears, peaches and grapes also were raised in considerable quantities. Although some slight effort has been made to care for the trees in the immediate vicinity of the camp, many have died or are ceasing to bear.

Some of the farm houses have been used as targets in artillery firing and shot to pieces. Others have fallen into decay through neglect.

The whole reservation is very beautiful, with deep ravines into which the sun never penetrates, trickling springs and miniature waterfalls, giant trees that date back to Kentucky's earliest days, and caves to which stories of daring bandits cling.

CHAMPION GUARD TO LEAVE TONIGHT

Red Cross Life Saver Gives More Tests.

Capt. Charles B. Scully, champion life saver, who is here from Washington, D. C., to assist the Red Cross and the city recreation department in their "Learn-to-Swim Week" campaign, gave tests this morning to life guards at the White River beach at Twenty-Sixth St., who wished to qualify for the Red Cross life saving corps.

Captain Scully gave swimming instructions at the Willard and Douglas pools this afternoon. He will leave tonight for Johnstown, Pa.

Miss Thelma Darby, nationally-known swimmer, Miss Euphrasia Donnelly, Miss Dorothy Moore and Mrs. Mae McDowell Grainger, all expert local swimmers, passed the Red Cross examination given by Captain Scully at Broad Ripple Tuesday.

Three thousand persons ranging in age from eight to sixty are taking advantage of the swimming instructions this week. The campaign will close Saturday night.

CARBURETOR STARTS ROW

One Man Stabbed in Triangular Fight—Three Are Held.

Three men will appear in city court today, two on charges of assault and battery and one with assault with intent to kill, after a neighborhood quarrel over a carburetor, police said. After Horace Schaefer, 1433 McLain St., is alleged to have struck Harry Sharp, 44, of 1619 Howard St., Sharp's friend, James, 81, of the same address, is said by police to have entered the fray with a knife and stabbed Schaefer in the back. The two Sharps were taken to jail. Schaefer's condition is not serious.

LIFE-LONG HOOSIER DIES

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Edna May Byram.

Relative of Mayor Dies

By Times Special
NOBLESVILLE, Ind., June 27.—W. R. Shank, 73, a distant relative of Mayor Law Shank, Indianapolis, died suddenly of heart trouble at his home, near here. He was sitting at a library table listening to his wife read.

Jumping Seeds Are Just Bugs

The mysterious and infinitesimal urge that has kept a bottled-up "mustard seed" on the jump since early last week has been solved by Frank Wallace, State entomologist. The mustard seeds, persistent in their jumping propensities, have literally jumped their way from obscurity to identity.

Wallace has scanned thousands of pages of biology since the mustard seeds were received at his office from a Hope, Ind., citizen, who asked their name. To the scientist they are known as cynips quercus-salatrix, which means little to the man who scratches when bitten by an insect and doesn't give a hang about his tormentor's name.

The "nips," short for cynips, is a member of the jumping gall family and alternates his abode between the oak leaf and the root of the tree. When he gets down to earth, encased in a paucity of toughened skin, he looks like a mustard seed. The restlessness of the enclosed larva causes him to jump, sometimes a quarter of an inch high. Next year he will imbibe himself in the tissues of an oak leaf, where he will look somewhat like a tiny blister.

'WATER WINGS' BURST

Boy, 12, Is First Victim of Swimming Lesson at Jasper.

By United Press
JASPER, Ind., June 27.—Jasper today mourned for its first victim of the swimming season. A pair of "water wings" with which Hilbert Eckert, 12, was swimming across Fatoka River, burst when he was in mid-stream. The body was recovered.

CORONER PROBES DEATH

Commission to File Suit

The Southern Indiana Telephone and Telegraph Company was to be defendant in a suit for the recovery of more than $1,200 in fees due the State of Indiana, which the public service commission said it would file in the Jackson Circuit Court at Seymour. The company is said to owe fees on cases tried before the commission.

Fight Ends Argument

By Times Special
COLUMBUS, Ind., June 27.—A quarrel over the right of way for a string of interurban freight cars, ended in a fight between Harry Gibson, night foreman of the car barns and Sherman Handley, colored switchman. Gibson is said to have drawn a knife after which Handley struck him, breaking his jaw.
