

MAN AND WOMAN FLEE FROM AUTO HIT IN COLLISION

Occupants Escape From Overturned Car—Accident Toll Climbs.

Police are searching for the man and woman who were in an automobile that turned over in a field after collision with another machine at Raymond and Harding Sts., late Friday.

Earnest Evans, 18, 406 Parkview Ave., driver of a truck for the Bartlett Tea Company, told Lieutenant Corrigan and Sergeant O'Connor, that he was going east on Raymond St., when the car bearing the two persons tried to speed ahead of him at the corner.

He struck their rear wheel, spilling them in a field. They were uninjured, and left the scene without giving names or address.

Two automobiles were damaged at Sixteenth Street and Central Avenue. Walter E. Lockwood, 3445 Kenwood Ave., was driving east on Sixteenth St. H. A. Nightengale, 2052 Catherine St., was driving north on Central Ave. Nightengale's car was turned over. The top was damaged and the windshield broken. Lockwood's car ran onto the side walk. No one was injured.

C. OF C. TO AID VISITORS
Card System Planned to Encourage Out-of-Town Motorists.

John B. Reynolds, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the retail committee is preparing a plan for "card-system" parking.

Under this system, cards would be issued to visiting motorists, which, displayed on their automobiles, would cause traffic officers to permit certain infractions of traffic laws by drivers unfamiliar with local ordinances.

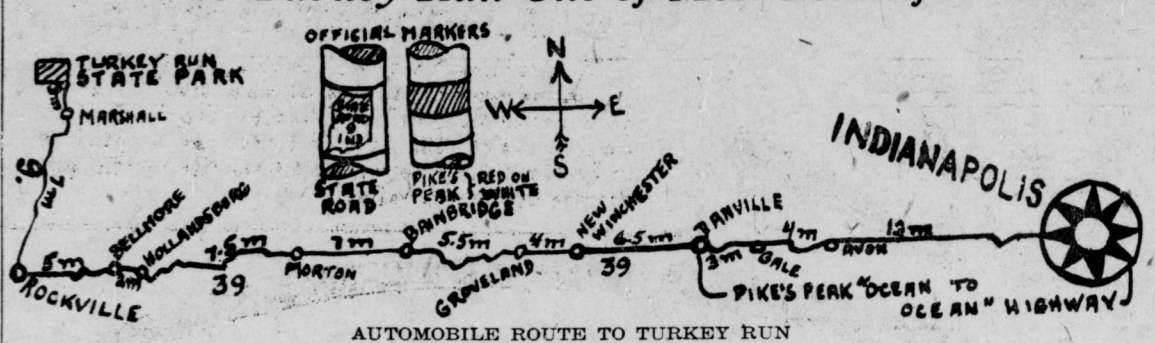

The Chamber of Commerce is going to follow this matter to encourage trade to come to Indianapolis, Reynolds said.

The plan will be discussed with Police Chief Herman F. Rikhoff.

ARREST OF JUNK DEALER ENJOINED

Judge Rules City Ordinances Conflict.

City police today were permanently enjoined by Superior Judge Sidney Miller from arresting Jacob Saperstine, junk dealer, 356-358 W. Tenth St., under City Ordinance 44.

This ordinance requires that 60 per cent of property owners within 500 feet of a proposed junk yard must give their consent. Saperstine was arrested June 12 for violating this ordinance. Judge Miller upheld him in his contention that the ordinance is in conflict with the city zoning ordinance.

PENNSY HEAD CRITICISES LABOR BOARD METHODS

Rea Says Railroad Has Right to Disobey Ruling.

Criticism of the United States Labor Board's method of attack on the Pennsylvania Railroad system for defying the board's ruling is expressed in a statement to the railroad's employees by Samuel Rea, president, made public at the company's office here today.

"The Labor Board's statements convey the impression that our company was under obligation to comply with decisions of the board on account of a Supreme Court decision," Rea's statement reads.

"The court made it very plain that our company was not obligated in any way if it felt that its constitutional and legal rights were being invaded, the management felt; they were, if it complied with the decision of the board, in the shop crafts and clerks' cases."

TWO BOYS HURT IN FALL
Edward Loffin, 12, of 512 S. West St., and William Goldstein, 6, of 123 W. Morris St., received fractured arms when they fell from a ladder at the municipal playgrounds, Kansas and Meridian Sts., Friday.

They were taken to the city hospital and later to their homes.

One of the very popular one-day motor trips from Indianapolis is that to Turkey Run State Park. Try it some Sunday.

On three sides of the park are the deep ravines of Sugar creek and Turkey Run hollow, scenic attractions of the park.

A dark and cool shady path runs through the forest. No wonder it is called "Lovers' Lane."

From Rocky hollow the sky seems stretched like a curtain from the top of one perpendicular cliff to another.

If it's hot, don't miss seeing the "Devil's Ice Box." This place of natural beauty is never touched by the sun.

Turkey Run is indeed a tract of virgin wilderness, hiding beneath its voluminous foliage great rocky canyons, beautiful ferns, luxuriant grasses and beautiful mosses and lichens.

Leave Indianapolis by way of W. Washington St. Three and seven-tenths miles out, just after crossing the concrete bridge over Big Eagle Creek, take the right fork into Avon. Follow the Pike's Peak "Ocean-to-Ocean" highway to Danville. Then follow the Pike's Peak highway, or State highway No. 31 into Rockville. Go north from Rockville on State road No. 9 to Turkey Run.

Broker Goes to Wall
By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 30.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Fred A. Bergemester, a broker. The petition fixes liabilities of $70,000 and free assets at $20,000. E. B. Wilson was named receiver under $5,000 bond.

Hunt occupied the stand all Friday afternoon, denying the charges. He thought Sipe was loaning him private funds, he said. Sipe let Hunt have a check for $10,000 and stock worth $31,000 to bolster the Aetna Trust and Savings Company, which Hunt and Latta controlled, it was testified.

"How did it happen that you would rather pay a friend 10 per cent interest, as you say, than borrow at a legal rate?" Prosecutor William P. Evans asked.

"We decided to borrow from friends," replied Hunt.

HUNT TRIAL TO BE REOPENED MONDAY

Conspiracy Case Nears
Close.

Jurors and witnesses in the trial of Edwin A. Hunt, 3938 Washington Blvd., which opened Monday in Criminal Court, rested today. The case will be finished Monday, it was thought.

Hunt is charged with conspiring in 1921 with Richard V. Sipe, ex-county clerk, now in prison for embezzling $143,000 in trust funds, and Will H. Latta, attorney, to embezzle $10,000 from trust funds held by Sipe for people who had received judgments in county courts.

Hunt occupied the stand all Friday afternoon, denying the charges. He thought Sipe was loaning him private funds, he said. Sipe let Hunt have a check for $10,000 and stock worth $31,000 to bolster the Aetna Trust and Savings Company, which Hunt and Latta controlled, it was testified.

Announcing a Merger of Two Well Known Banking Institutions

On July 1 the National City Bank and the Commercial National Bank of Indianapolis will merge into one large banking institution.

The combination of the personnel and resources of these two banks means the consummation of a banking organization that in time will not be surpassed, within the State of Indiana, in stability, resources and efficiency of management.

The officers of the new institution will appreciate an opportunity to discuss with individuals, firms and corporations their financial problems of every kind and character.

Statement by the President

It will be the earnest purpose of the officers and directors of the National City Bank, so far as it lies within their power to do so, to serve every worthy legitimate, commercial and financial need of this community.

The National City bank will be conducted in a spirit of helpfulness. Counsel and guidance, so far as these may be desired or necessary, will be available to the patrons of this bank.

Upon these principles and these purposes, in our opinion, an institution of tremendous potential force for good can be built.

We want our contact with our patrons to be of a personal as well as a business character so that mutual confidence will obtain at all times.

As reorganized, the National City Bank is a financial institution which, in our opinion, should appeal to the substantial, thinking people of this city, without respect to race or creed.

Broadmoor Terrace

At the Crossing of the Boulevards

ACROSS the river, on the rolling highlands to the northwest, lies Broadmoor Terrace, at the crossing of Kessler Boulevard and the 56th Street Boulevard, the two mighty links in the magnificent new boulevard system encircling the city.

Out past the Highland Club to the west is the new quarter-of-a-million-dollar Broadmoor Country Club. Broadmoor Terrace is across the street.

Here in the atmosphere of magnificent clubs, splendid estates and broad boulevards are incomparable home sites.

There are just fifty-nine home sites in Broadmoor Terrace—fifty-nine opportunities the like of which will never come again. The lots are deep—most of them 300 feet, and broad—most of them a hundred feet.

Here is a place to build a home—Broadmoor Terrace.

The plain facts plainly stated will reveal to you the wonderful opportunity that Broadmoor Terrace holds for you:

1. It is next door to the Broadmoor Country Club—and property in an exclusive country club colony always rises in value.

2. It is at the crossing of Kessler Boulevard and 56th Street Boulevard. Look back at the enormous rise in values of property along boulevards.

3. The City Plan Commission has designated Broadmoor Terrace as a restricted residential section—no apartments, no doubles, no filling stations, no undesirable business properties. And there never will be.

4. Kessler Boulevard, 56th Street Boulevard and Broadmoor Plaza will be 100 feet wide. Construction of these sections of the boulevard system will start at once. The boulevards will be lighted and improved without expense to the property owners. Paved street every inch of the way to the Circle—only twenty minutes by motor.

5. Broadmoor Terrace is so eminently valuable for home sites that you can buy, if you don't want to build, with the absolute certainty of a profit within a year.

6. Lots range from $1,500 up—which is one-half as much per front foot as similar lots on golf frontages with no boulevard improvements in the same neighborhood are selling for.

There is not now, and there will not be, another addition like Broadmoor Terrace, where nature, the growth of the city, the development plans of the park board and the city plan commission, and everything conspire together to make home sites of incomparable beauty and value. Come out Saturday afternoon or Sunday and see for yourself.
