

CHURCH LEADERS END CONFERENCE AT WINONA LAKE

Dr. James H. McGraw Predicts Ultimate Acceptance of Christian Principles.

By Times Special
WINONA LAKE, Ind., July 9.—America has been destined by God to become a modern-day example to the nations of the world, and the conversion of Uncle Sam is the mighty responsibility resting upon the Christian forces of the land, said Dr. James H. McGraw, Pittsburgh, at the closing session of the constitutional conference on Christian citizenship Sunday evening.

Christian Nation Predicted
Dr. McGraw discussed "The International Christ." "Now we are thundering with a gospel that one-third of the Bible is God's message to nations. Some day we will see Uncle Sam stand up and proclaim in fundamental national law, 'We, the people, do ordain this government and accept God's holy law as the only basis of our civil law and international relationships.' America will then have laid the foundation of a Christian nation on the Rock of Ages."

Work of Conference
Action taken by the conference: A definite stand in behalf of constitutional amendment recognizing Christian morality and government responsibility to God; demands that the Bible be given a legal place in public schools; demands that teachers have Christian qualifications as well as educational; endorsement of a world court; opposition to prize fighting, and denunciation of New York and Maryland for their attitude toward prohibition.

Jaywalkers and Speeders Condemned.
My suggestion is for the city council to pass a law for people not to jay walk and to move with the auto traffic. Arrest all speeders and jaywalkers and give them the limit of the law. Bar no one.

Here it is! Movable walks! At all dangerous crossings construct movable walks, enclosed on the sides and children and others will be in no danger. The walks can be made to

WALTER HALLERS,

Get Reckless Driver, Is Woman's Advice.
This is the only safe traffic rule: GET THE RECKLESS DRIVER.

Regardless of traffic rules, speed limits, corner cops, etc., one wild driver will endanger the lives of hundreds of other motorists and pedestrians.

The careful driver or innocent pedestrian is often the victim, while the culprit remains unharmed and often unchastened.

If such persons were obliged to spend a few days in jail for first offense (if proved really guilty) and if they were not allowed to drive a car for six months or a year after the second offense the laws we already have would be observed and new ones would be unnecessary.

We might change the laws every week and still not make driving or walking safe. Just obey the ones we have, and make your friends and fellow citizens obey them.

Likewise SAFETY FIRST.
MISS LUELLA W. CRAIG,
931 N. Illinois St.

Would Have Walkers Give Sign to Driver.
Cut the speed limit to fifteen miles an hour and enforce it to the letter. Fifty dollars fine and thirty to sixty days in jail will turn our streets from a speedway to safe and sane thoroughfares.

A law prohibiting any machine from passing another within twenty-five feet of any street intersection. Street cars and autos should pass together east and west, then north and south. Pedestrians should cross east, north and south while all traffic is stopped. License numbers should be of cut out type, to be illuminated by rear light same as street car sign.

Pedestrians must be required by law to cross streets at intersections. If machine is approaching closely give driver signal which way to pass you by beckoning hand in front or rear.

There should be more speed cops. Let them travel around our city streets for speeders any day or night. They can easily pick up 500 to 1,000 violators of our present laws.

If you want less accidents, this is the most important thing to do.
WILLIAM J. QUINLAN,
308 Sanders St.

Wow! He'd Prevent Crossing on Street.
I suggest stopping pedestrians from crossing streets any where and everywhere, and when this is done the motorists will be able to speed up when the signal go is given without having pedestrians slow him up, and will be able to get three blocks instead of one. That in my opinion will be a good way to relieve the congestion.

J. MCOLLUM,

Praise Is Given to Indianapolis Police.
So far as traffic officers are concerned, the Indianapolis traffic men are fine, much more efficient than you will find in Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and other large cities.

If the motorists could drive with care and keep his motor and brakes in responsible condition, traffic would move with safety at the downtown corners, provided the jaywalkers could be kept under control. Pedestrians should move with traffic, always keeping to the right.

HOOSIER MOTOR CLUB OPENS NEW OFFICES IN HOTEL

Auto Organization Makes Appeal for 10,000 Members This Summer.

Completion of removal of the headquarters of the Hoosier Motor Club and the Hoosier State Auto Association to the Spink-Arms, Vermont St. side, was announced today by Frank Wampler, president of the motor club.

Plans are being made to keep the club quarters open all hours.

"When we arrange this it will provide a continuous free service for our membership or members of clubs affiliated with the National Motorists' Association, covering all States in the Union," said Wampler.

"It will cost money to maintain this service. This is one reason why we are appealing for greater membership support in Marion County. There are 47,320 automobiles in this country and we feel that our slogan: 'Ten thousand members by the end of summer' is certainly not too great a goal. We have a special soliciting committee now at work in the city and make the invitation general on the grounds that our civic and safety work can not be extended without a great increase in membership support, through which we are solely financed."

The touring bureau of the club is on the ground floor on the Vermont St. side of the Spink-Arms, and arrangements are being made to keep a parking space clear for visiting motorists.

Directors and officers of the club are planning for an "open house" for members and automobile owners generally in the near future.
