DETECTIVES RUN DOWN TWO CLEWS IN WEBB SEARCH

Business Man Tells of Employing Girl as Nurse—She Disappears.

Detectives were running down two clues today in their search for Frances Vinnie Webb, 16, of 420 N. Emerson Ave., who has been missing from her home thirty-three days.

A local business man notified police Monday that on June 8 he had employed a girl answering the description of Miss Webb. He said the picture of Miss Webb which appeared in The Times Monday made him believe the young woman who formerly was employed by him might have been Frances Webb.

Letters Found
Correspondence in a room formerly occupied by the missing nurse indicated the girl either was not Miss Webb or was cleverly concealing her identity.

Another report indicated Miss Webb is in Indianapolis.

Len S. Webb, father of the missing girl, today sent another telegram to the office of a detective agency in a western city asking that they hurry their report of an investigation being made there. The name of the city was not made public, but information was received by Webb a few days ago which caused him to believe Frances might have gone to the West.

Accident Recalled.
Authorities at Danville, Ind., have been appealed to by Webb to make an investigation of an automobile accident which occurred near that city about seven weeks ago.

Two Indianapolis high school girls, being Miss Webb, were with a man living in the east part of the city, on an automobile trip. Both girls suffered slight injuries in the accident. Webb's object in causing this investigation is to learn as far as possible all circumstances which preceded the disappearance of Frances.

Mrs. Anna Buzzi, New York, Indifferent to Sentence in Chair—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, Chicago, Doomed to Gallows.

In States where such sentences are practically unknown, two women faced death by legal execution today, one stoically indifferent, joking with relatives, the other unconscious in a hospital.

Mrs. Anna Buzzi, sentenced in New York to the electric chair, for murder of Frederick Schneider, her common-law husband, paced her cell in Auburn prison, indifferent to the judge's sentence. Her attorneys will file an appeal, and then attempt to have Gov. Smith commute the death sentence.

In her cell in Chicago, found guilty of murder of her former husband, Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, was told of her doom to the hangman's noose. She screamed in hysterics and lapsed into unconsciousness. Both women emphatically protest their innocence.

MRS. CRUELLE COLLAPSES
Woman Is Carried Unconscious to Hospital After Hearing Sentence.

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 10.—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, first white woman to be sentenced to death in Chicago, collapsed physically and mentally today when informed of her fate.

Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle and her husband, Frank Crudelle, were found guilty yesterday of the "hammer murder" of the woman's first husband and both sentenced to hang.

The woman, an Italian, heard the verdict read without understanding it.

EGYPTIAN PRINCE BELIEVED KILLED BY FRENCH WIFE

Beautiful Bride Half Carried to Jail After Hearing on Charge.

By United Press
LONDON, July 10.—Princess Marie Marguerite, beautiful French bride of youthful Prince Aly Kamel Fahmy Bey of Egypt, was sent to jail today for the murder of her husband.

Bedecked in priceless jewels, huge diamonds and ropes of pearls, the princess broke down and was half-carried from the prisoner's box at Bow Street this afternoon, thirteen hours after the prince, once gay favorite of London and Paris society, was found bleeding from numerous revolver wounds in the corridor of his suite at the Savoy.

Prince Aly was 22, ten years younger than his beautiful bride. He was extremely wealthy, a popular figure in English and French ballrooms. He had but recently brought the Princess Marie from Paris.

Servants at the Savoy heard revolver shots ringing through the corridors of the fourth floor. Those who first rushed to the prince's suite found him lying in the corridor mortally wounded.

Tire Taken From Car

"Low Prices and Certainty of Supply"

John Hays Hammond, Chairman of the United States Coal Commission, has urged all coal consumers to

"Buy early in order to take advantage of both low prices and a certainty of supply."

In the same connection, the Chicago Journal of Commerce says:

"Joining in the recommendations is Federal Fuel Distributor, F. R. Wadleigh, who urgently suggests that all coal users lay in reserves as a protection against high prices during winter. Mr. Wadleigh has made an extensive survey of the coal situation and knows what he is talking about. He sees a tremendous scramble for coal later on and is anxious to avoid the difficulty his Department may be called upon to unravel if the signs of the times are correct."
