Men Were Able to Reach
Gallows Verdict.

DECREE IS STORM CENTER

Wife of Chicago Juror
Threatens Divorce if Mrs.
Crudelle Is Hanged.

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 11.—The day has not arrived when an American jury will convict a pretty woman for a "love murder"—neither Mrs. Anna Buzzi nor Senora Sabelle Mitti-Crudelle were beautiful, Chicago crime analysts declared today.

Mrs. Buzzi and Senora Nitti-Crudelle were both sentenced to death, the former for the murder of her "common law" husband in New York and the latter for the "hammer murder" of her husband in Cook County, Illinois.

"The death verdict was being prepared for Senora Nitti-Crudelle when men first chose pretty women to propagate their race—and was made more certain every time a man discarded an ugly woman," Dr. Lee Alexander Stone, author of sex treatises, declared.

The jury's verdict to send Senora Nitti-Crudelle to the gallows was the center of a verbal storm in Chicago today.

The evidence at her trial disclosed

Several hundred automobiles will be required for transporting of visitors to the fifth annual convention of the Rainbow Division Veterans Association, which opens Friday, John W. Green, chairman of the automobile committee, has the woman with her lover—Frank Crudelle—whom she later married, beat her husband to death with a hammer. Senora Nitti-Crudelle's son testified against her, exposing her alleged illicit relations with Crudelle, who was also sentenced to hang.

Mrs. Nitti appeared in the courtroom a bent, broken old woman. Her face was lined and her hands hardened and broken by toll on a farm.

Eugene Moran, attorney for the condemned woman, declared the theory outlined by Stone will form a part of his plea for a new trial.

He pointed out the five women previously convicted in Cook County of such crimes were not handsome. The two score acquitted were either physically attractive or intelligent.

Assistant State's Attorney William McLaughlin declared the death verdict against the Italian woman "the first step and a mighty significant one."

"Maybe the next step will be conviction of a woman who is just attractive, perhaps middle aged. How far we will get from there remains to be seen."

The Rev. Father J. O'Neil defended the jury that found Senora Nitti-Crudelle guilty, declaring "just because some juries have acquitted pretty women, this jury should not be condemned for doing its duty."

Officials of societies to abolish capital punishment denounced the Nitti-Crudelle and Buzzi death penalties as "disgraces."

Execution of a "broken, peasant woman" will hurt any community, they declared.

Members of the State attorney's office admitted today a member of the jury that convicted Senora Nitti-Crudelle had appealed to them to explain to the juror's wife "how it was." The juror said his wife threatened to leave him if the woman is hanged.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO HEAR PETITION

Groninger Speaks on Water Rate Increase.

John F. White, president of the Southeastern Civic Improvement Association, today announced a committee to attend the hearing before the public service commission, July 18, of the Indianapolis Water Company's petition for increased rates.

The committee: Mrs. A. M. Church, John F. White, A. J. Kelly, E. E. Miller, Robert F. Miller, Charles Duval, Mrs. C. J. Brinkman, Mrs. R. L. Woodruff, Edward J. Sexton, J. Edward Burk, Mrs. O. E. Ragsdale and Jesse Streit.

Taylor E. Groninger, city corporation counsel, speaking before the civic organization Tuesday night at McKinley School, State and Lexington Aves., denounced the petition as an attempt to benefit stockholders in the company.

"I'm not opposed to allowing them to capitalize appreciated real estate values, but I am opposed to adding the fictitious item of structural overhead which they estimate at $1,900,000," Groninger declared.

"Since the beginning, there has not been one time the water company hasn't made money. There is no danger of a water shortage. There is no immediate necessity for a rate increase."

Greater Crops

CONDITIONS in the farming industry are the broad-gauged barometers of general business in the United States.

When crops are good prosperity is general.

It is obvious, therefore, that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) can turn its facilities and talents to no more important task than that of assisting the farmer to secure a greater crop return per acre.

The experience of the past ten or fifteen years has demonstrated that farms where automotive equipment is used are operated on a lower cost level and with a higher crop return than is the case where animal power is used.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is doing its utmost to promote the use of motorized machinery on the farm. Throughout ten middle western states this Company maintains a system of distribution which insures the farmer a dependable supply of gasoline, kerosene, lubricants and other products of petroleum at all times.

In this territory the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains 3,780 bulk stations, out of which some 7,000 trucks and tank wagons carry its products to the farmer's home or if necessary to the tractor in the field.

This is one of the services which only a big organization could perform and it is a service worth while.

To emphasize the far reaching benefits of motorizing farm equipment, it is only necessary to state that farm property values in the United States have increased from forty billions of dollars in 1910 to eighty-five billions in 1920—an advance of 107% for a ten-year period.

The service performed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a factor of importance in making this increase possible.
