

TWO KILLED IN MARION COUNTY AUTO ACCIDENTS

Child Is Run Over by Car—Guard Fatally Injured in Race.

Two fatal automobile accidents in Marion County were investigated by Paul F. Robinson today.

Evelyn Froelich, 4-year-old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Froelich, 2134 Singleton St., Sunday morning as a result of injuries received when a car driven by Herbert E. Wedewen, 1423 S. East St., ran over her at Prospect and East Sts., late Saturday.

Wedewen was driving north on East St. when the girl ran from behind her father's machine, which was facing south, directly into the path of the approaching machine. The girl's chest was crushed. Wedewen reported the accident to the police.

The child was visiting the home of her grandparents, 855 S. East St., with her parents.

Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday afternoon. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Joseph Betley, 34, of 14 E. Michigan St., a member of the World War Veterans, was today remembered by his buddies as having died in an effort to save the lives of others.

Betley was injured Saturday while employed as a guard at the Hoosier Motor Speedway, Pendleton pike and Thirty-Eighth St. He stepped out on the track during the race to flag other racers away from the car of Charles Brown, which had thrown a tire, skidded and turned over on the east turn. Almost immediately he was struck by a car following Brown, driven by Ray Butcher and knocked several feet in the air. He suffered a broken leg, arm and a badly injured shoulder. Betley was rushed to the Deaconess Hospital and died there Saturday night. Brown escaped injury.

Betley is survived by a brother in the Navy, a brother, John, who lives in Massachusetts and a sister, also of Massachusetts.

Dr. Paul F. Robinson, coroner, has started an investigation.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

HARDING REACHES FARTHEST NORTH POINT OF TRIP

President Out of Touch With World in Heart of Alaskan Territory.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN, United Press Staff Correspondent. WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 16.—President Harding's party disbanded today, and while the President took a ninety-mile automobile ride over the Richardson Trail, Secretary Hoover, Wallace and Work and others returned to Seward for conferences with Alaskan citizens on this possession's problems.

Mr. Harding, from McCarty, will go on by river steamer to Nenana, closer than heretofore to the real Alaska. He will return to Seward by rail and board the Henderson Wednesday or Thursday.

For an entire day the President will be completely out of touch with the rest of the world. He reached the farthest north on the presidential trip last night when his special train arrived at Fairbanks. It is the heart of Alaska, almost within the Arctic circle. All suggestions of Arctic weather was missing, however, as the temperature Sunday hovered near 80 degrees.

With hearty blows of a railroad sledge the President Sunday afternoon drove a golden spike in the Tanana bridge, marking the formal completion of the government line from Seward on resurrection day, 471 miles to Fairbanks. The spike was presented by the citizens of Anchorage to Col. Frederick Mears, United States engineer in charge of the construction. Mears asked Harding to drive it. The spike was immediately drawn and will be kept in a museum at Anchorage.

GIRL BACK FROM VISIT TO FRANCE

Postal Delegate Finds French Farm Methods 'Quaint.'

Styles of Parisian and American girls differ very little, according to Miss Agnes S. McCarty, secretary to John F. Looney, local superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Company, who has just returned from a good-will visit to France. She was one of five women picked by the Postal from its entire organization.

Miss McCarty said there are not so many hoodlums in France as in America.

"Methods of agriculture are much more quaint in France," Miss McCarty said. "It was a usual sight in the rural districts to see an old woman driving a team of oxen hitched to a two-wheeled cart. There are few horses in France."

"But American girls seem to be more refined. At a dance we met a few nice French-girls, but they don't seem to come up to the American standard."
