

FOUR HURT WHEN CAR TURNS OVER AFTER COLLISION

Girl's Condition Critical—
Brother of Injured Man in Second Crash.

Two persons were in a serious condition at the city hospital today, two others were suffering from cuts and bruises and one man was under arrest, as the result of an accident at the Big Four tracks and the Lafayette Pike, three-fourths of a mile north of Flackville at 11:45 p. m. Tuesday.

A touring car driven by Harold Parker, 26, of 837 N. Dearborn St., side-swiped a hog truck driven by Jesse Wetherald, 33, of Thorntown, Ind. Parker, who was cut and bruised, was charged with speeding and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. The touring car turned over, pinning the occupants underneath.

Girl Badly Injured
Miss Sylvia Patrick, 20, of 2304 N. New Jersey St., suffered severe cuts about the legs, injuries to her back and internal injuries; Fred Lang, 26, of 431 N. Illinois St., broken right arm and bruises about head and body. Both are at the city hospital. Miss Patrick's condition is critical. Miss Sarah Kimberlin, 18, of 2304 N. New Jersey St., suffered cuts about the face and bruises on the head and body.

While on his way to the hospital to see his brother today, at 3:10 a. m., Hubert F. Lang, 431 N. Illinois St., narrowly escaped injury when his car collided with one driven by Jacob Shulmeyer, 1125 E. Thirty-Fifth St., at New York and New Jersey Sts. Lang's car was damaged. With him was Mrs. W. R. Moore, 2304 N. New Jersey St.

Train Crew to Rescue
The crew of a Big Four freight train stopped and rescued the injured from under the Parker automobile before Sergeant Dean and the emergency squad arrived. The touring car was a complete wreck. P. S. Flannigan of Thorntown was with Wetherald. The springs of the truck were broken. Parker, his head covered with bandages, stood in a cell at police headquarters today.

"At supper my mother, brother and I were talking about accidents," he said. "I had a feeling something would happen. I was not drinking and no one in my car had been drinking. We had been to a farm northwest of the city."

Lad Injured
Frederick Wright, 14, of 1923 Hovey St., was in the city hospital suffering from cuts on the knees, a sprained ankle and bruises. He was riding a bicycle without a light. It was said, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Carl Cokran, 814 Greer St., at St. Clair and East Sts., Tuesday night.

Ray Wells, 19, of 214 Fulton St. suffered a dislocated shoulder and a severe cut on the shoulder when an automobile driven by Louis Zollman, 1953 Hovey St., skidded and the rear fender struck Wells' bicycle, at Massachusetts Ave. and Samoa St.

Hay Wagon Hit
Dayton Carter, 2419 N. Alabama St., suffered a slight cut from broken glass when his automobile collided with a car driven by Charles Rodgers, 932 S. Missouri St., at Meridian and South Sts. late Tuesday.

A load of hay was turned over, the wagon wrecked and an automobile damaged at 3300 N. Sherman Dr. at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday. An automobile, driven by Robert Stivers, 1834 Parker Ave., collided with a wagon owned by Lee Nelson, 2705 N. Oxford St. Nelson was arrested on a charge of having no lights on his wagon.

Three Autos Damaged
Three automobiles were damaged in an accident at Michigan and Ogden Sts., at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday. A car driven by Earl Jacks, 1856 Oliver Ave., was struck, he told police, by an automobile driven by a man who gave him name as Walter Edwards, and then left. Police say the license on the car was issued to Walter Williams, 1036 N. Talbott Ave. Jacks' car was knocked into an automobile owned by William Martin, 4345 Guilford Ave. No one was injured.

Injured in Fall Downstairs
Charles Pierson, 59, of 331 N. Blackford St., today was in the city hospital suffering from injuries received when he fell down a stairway at his home Tuesday. Several ribs were broken and he suffered severe cuts on the side of his face and left arm.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood, power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Boston Merchant Will Be Advisor and 'Colonel House' to Coolidge

By HARRY B. HUNT,
NEA Service Writer.

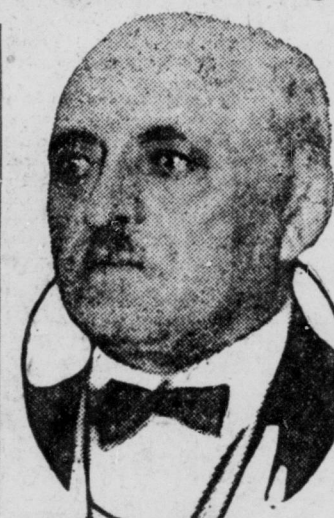

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A stocky and broad-shouldered man in a square-cut business suit, ruddy of face, gray of hair, with a bristling gray mustache shading rather thick, full lips and with keen, gray eyes shining through heavy-lensed glasses, is Calvin Coolidge's right-hand confidant and counselor.

During the press of events crowding his first days in office the new President has conferred with Cabinet members and public officials concerning the arrangements for President Harding's funeral, and on routine matters of administration that have had to be met. But whatever conferences he has held with respect to administration policies and the course he is to follow as chief executive of the Nation, have been not with the politicians and Cabinet officials, but with the broad-shouldered, gray-haired Boston business man—Frank W. Stearns.

Stearns is one of the few men who really know Coolidge—who have broken through the crust of silence and reserve which encases this silent President from New England. And he is the man to whom Coolidge looks, more than any other, for sane, disinterested, non-political advice.

College spirit is back of this friendship. Although Stearns is 67 to Coolidge's 51, they were first drawn together by mutual love of their alma mater, Amherst College, from which Stearns graduated in the class of '78 and Coolidge in '95.

For years the bigger New England colleges had monopolized Republican officeholding in Massachusetts. Stearns, as an active and ardent Amherstite, and as an Amherst trustee, didn't like it. He looked about for an Amherst man who could break the ice and he found Coolidge, then a member of the Massachusetts Senate. Stearns already has been labeled the "Warwick," he "Mark Hanna," the "Colonel House" of the Coolidge administration. But he doesn't mind it. He's putting Amherst College on the map.

POOR MAN PAYS BIGGEST SHARE OF INCOME TAX

Little Relief in Sight for Persons Who Earn Salaries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Despite the political success of the progressives, the possibility of relieving the comparative poor of their burden of the income tax is remote.

Investigations made by government officials into the income tax statistics for 1921 show that the poor man carries most of the income tax burden. Without his taxes, the government would have to go to some other form of taxation. And the possibility of getting tremendous sums from the rich is also remote.

The investigation revealed that total net incomes of $19,114,209,177 were reported for 1921. Of this total net income which was taxable, only $463,003,351 was reported by those persons with net incomes of $100,000 or more. There were only 2,352 such persons while 6,661,191 persons with incomes of $100,000 or less contributed to the government.

Rich Are Few
To show how comparatively few are the rich income taxpayers and how many are poor, the statistics on 1921 were as follows:

Total net incomes of persons having taxable incomes of nothing to $1,000 were $5,260,000,000.

Total net incomes of persons having taxable incomes of $1,000 to $2,000 were $5,300,000,000.

Total net incomes of persons having taxable incomes of $2,000 to $3,000 were $2,479,000.

Total net incomes of persons having taxable incomes of $3,000 to $4,000 were $1,252,000,000.

Total net incomes of persons having taxable incomes of $4,000 to $5,000 were $637,000,000.

Little Fellow Pays Most
Thus, $15,928,000,000 of the total income of only $19,114,209,177 were from persons who had taxable incomes of $5,000 or less.

The government estimates that approximately $20,000,000,000 of income is obtained by persons who are not subject to the income tax or who have less than $1,000 of income a year.

Suggestions, therefore, that the government should exempt all incomes of $5,000 or less would mean.

according to Government officials, that some other source of revenue would have to be discovered. And with the probability that a soldier bonus bill will pass the next Congress, other sources of revenue will have to be found, regardless.

Hope that the little fellow will dodge the income is held slight in view of these figures.

'UP THE MIFF TREE'

Complaining Church Members Ridiculed by Lecturer.

By Times Special
BETHANY PARK, Ind., Aug. 8.—"Up the Miff Tree" was the subject of an address given before the adult worker's conference by John W. Marshall of Orleans, Ind.

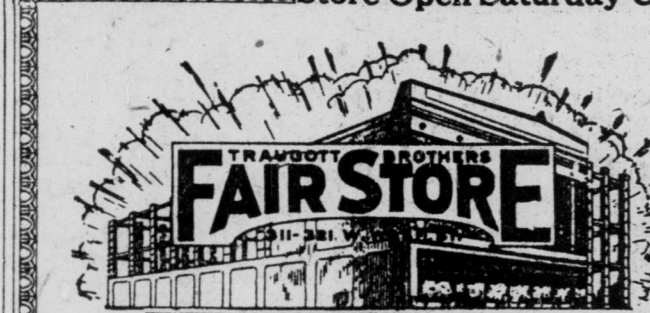

"What is a miff tree?" Marshall asked. "It is a creature of my imagination, a tree which is nested by pouty, scratchy and complaining church people." To illustrate his point he painted a miff tree, the limbs of which were covered with hens and roosters with feathered bodies but heads of humans. Each represented complaining church members. Crawling up the tree was a serpent, representing the devil. The tree grew beside the church, just from under the protective eaves.
