

Joe Boley, Baltimore Phenom, Said to Be Slated for Berth With N. Y. Yanks

OWNERS INDICATE RUPPERT HAS DEAL CLOSED

Famous Oriole Shortstop
Wanted to Take Scott's Place When 'Vet' Fades.

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Joe Boley, International League sensation, probably will be wearing a Yankee uniform before long.

Col. Jacob Ruppert's scouts have been dickering for the speedy Baltimore shortstop for some time. Now they've all but closed a deal for him, it is learned from authoritative sources.

And it looks like he'll be stepping into Everett Scott's shoes some of these days.

Scott Is Real Veteran.

The veteran Scotty, himself, admits he's running along on his last lap in the majors. When he played his 1,000th consecutive game early last spring, friends asked him how much longer he intended to play in the big league.

"Two years more as a regular if they will let me," he replied with a smile.

Colonel Ruppert and Manager Miller Huggins apparently feel just the same way.

Boley, according to the present dope, is regarded as the man best fitted to plug up the big hole which will be left when age finally gets the best of Scotty.

Boley Ripe for Majors

Joe, a protégé of Jack Dunn, veteran Oriole manager, is said to possess the most wonderful hands in baseball. He is a big leaguer in every respect and is ready to step right in and deliver the goods, say scouts who have seen him in action.

Several clubs in the majors have tried to land him. Dunn admits he recently turned down a $100,000 offer from Brooklyn. But Jack has been holding on to his speedy shortstop, for he realizes the position he fills is the keystone of an infield.

The new infield at the Yankee stadium is chain lightning. It is troubling Everett considerably. Another year may be his limit.

Officials of the New York team will neither deny nor confirm the reported transaction with Dunn. Neither will the Oriole pilot, according to word from Baltimore.

FORMER RIVALS PAIRED IN MATCH

Exhibition for Christmas Fund
by Golf Wizards.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Two of the brightest of the college golf stars in the country, Jess Sweetser of Yale and Eddy Knepper of Princeton, who were rivals before Sweetser graduated, will be paired Sunday in an exhibition match at the Beacon Hill course, Atlantic Highlands, N. J., against Jerry Travers, the great veteran golfer, and Frank Dyer, champion of New Jersey.

The match, for the benefit of the town's Christmas fund, will help tune the four for the amateur championship tourney at Chicago, Sept. 10.

FIRPO TO TALK WITH TEX AGAIN ON DEMPSEY GO

New York Hears Luis Will Make One More Appeal to Escape Bout.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Luis Angel Firpo, who has been signed to meet Jack Dempsey in New York on Sept. 14, was to arrive here today to make a final appeal to Tex Rickard to release him from his promise to fight Dempsey, or to postpone the date for the fight.

Firpo left Indianapolis, after his fight with Joe Bonny had been ordered postponed by the Governor of Indiana, and he made an appointment to meet Rickard here.

Rickard admitted this morning that he had an appointment with Firpo, and that he was going to talk over several matters with him, but he would not discuss what these matters concerned.

Firpo, it is known, does not want to fight Dempsey in September. He feels that he is not ready for such an important fight, and he also wants to profit by offers of some engagements that would be canceled if he was knocked out by Dempsey.

The South American admits that the agreement reached with Rickard last year will force him to fight against his wishes. It is understood that terms offered by Rickard and accepted in cablegrams from Firpo constitute the only contract that binds him to the New York promoter.

Firpo, at his meeting with Rickard, will try to argue himself out of the agreement, and he has a postmortem for six months or a year.
