

MAN IS KILLED DURING ATTACK ON NIGHT WATCHMAN

Alleged Gangster Shot—
Guard, in Hospital, Is Under Arrest.

Detectives today took steps to arrest members of a gang that beat Roy Buchanan, 26, of 645 Erie St., night watchman at the Eli Lilly plant, Friday night.

Homer Deering, 23, of 820 S. Alabama St., was killed by two shots from the watchman's gun. Deering it is said, was a member of the gang. He was shot while attempting to escape following the attack police say. Buchanan is in the city hospital. His condition is not serious.

The trouble dates back more than a week. Buchanan had received orders to keep a gang of young men from loafing in vacant buildings. This, it is said, "got him in bad" with the gang. Deering and another man, it is said, alleged water had been thrown on Deering from a window of one of the buildings. He is said to have entered the building and abused employees at that time.

Buchanan told Motor Policemen Reldy and Griffin he was walking through a passageway about four feet wide, between two buildings. One of about ten young men in this passageway said, "Let's get him," according to Buchanan's story. Buchanan ordered them out. Deering is alleged to have seized the night watchman and the others to have beaten him with knuckles.

Twisting one hand loose, Buchanan fired one shot. Dazed, he fired three more shots as some of the men ran.

When the police arrived, Buchanan did not know any of his bullets had taken effect. Sergeant Harris and a squad found Deering's body in the passageway. Two bullets had struck him.

Buchanan was charged with manslaughter. Deering, the police say, had been arrested a number of times.

Police today are holding a cap which belongs to one of the men who attacked Buchanan. The owner of the cap is said to be named Brown.

Funeral services for Deering will be held at his home, 820 S. Alabama St., at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery. Deering's father died two weeks ago.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Alice Deering, a sister, Mrs. Robert Wines of Indianapolis and two brothers, Curtis and Roy Deering, both of Indianapolis.

MRS. L. H. PRICE FUNERAL RITES AWAIT RELATIVES

Widow, Who Takes Own Life,
Believed Despondent Over
Husband's Death.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Lehman H. Price, 55, who took her own life by swallowing poison in the McKinsey Apts., Delaware St. and Maple Rd., Friday night, will be made when relatives arrive from the Pacific coast.

Despondency over the recent death of her husband, the late L. H. Price, sales manager of the Chapman-Price Steel Company, is believed to have been the cause of her act.

Friends of Mrs. Price said she had grieved deeply over the death of her husband in January.

Mrs. Price was found by a maid in her apartment, where odor of escaping gas was evident. She was found lying across the bed unconscious. Mrs. Price was taken to the Clark-Blakeslee Hospital, Delaware and Eleventh Sts., where efforts of Dr. M. E. Clark to revive her failed. She drank two ounces of the poison and inhaled gas fumes, Dr. William Doepfers, deputy coroner, said.

A sister of Mrs. Price, Mrs. C. B. McConahay of Van Wert, Ohio, arrived today. In addition there is a brother in Milwaukee, one in Los Angeles and a sister in San Francisco on their way to Indianapolis.

Mrs. Price had been a resident of Indianapolis for twenty years.

COMMITTEE TO REPORT ON SITE FOR GARAGE

John F. White, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee to recommend a suitable site for the location of a garage to house the equipment of the board of sanitary commissioners, will make his report Monday at noon, when the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce meets. William Fortune, chairman of the civic affairs committee, will preside.

One of the sites under consideration is on land owned by the city on Kentucky Ave., west of the White River bridge.

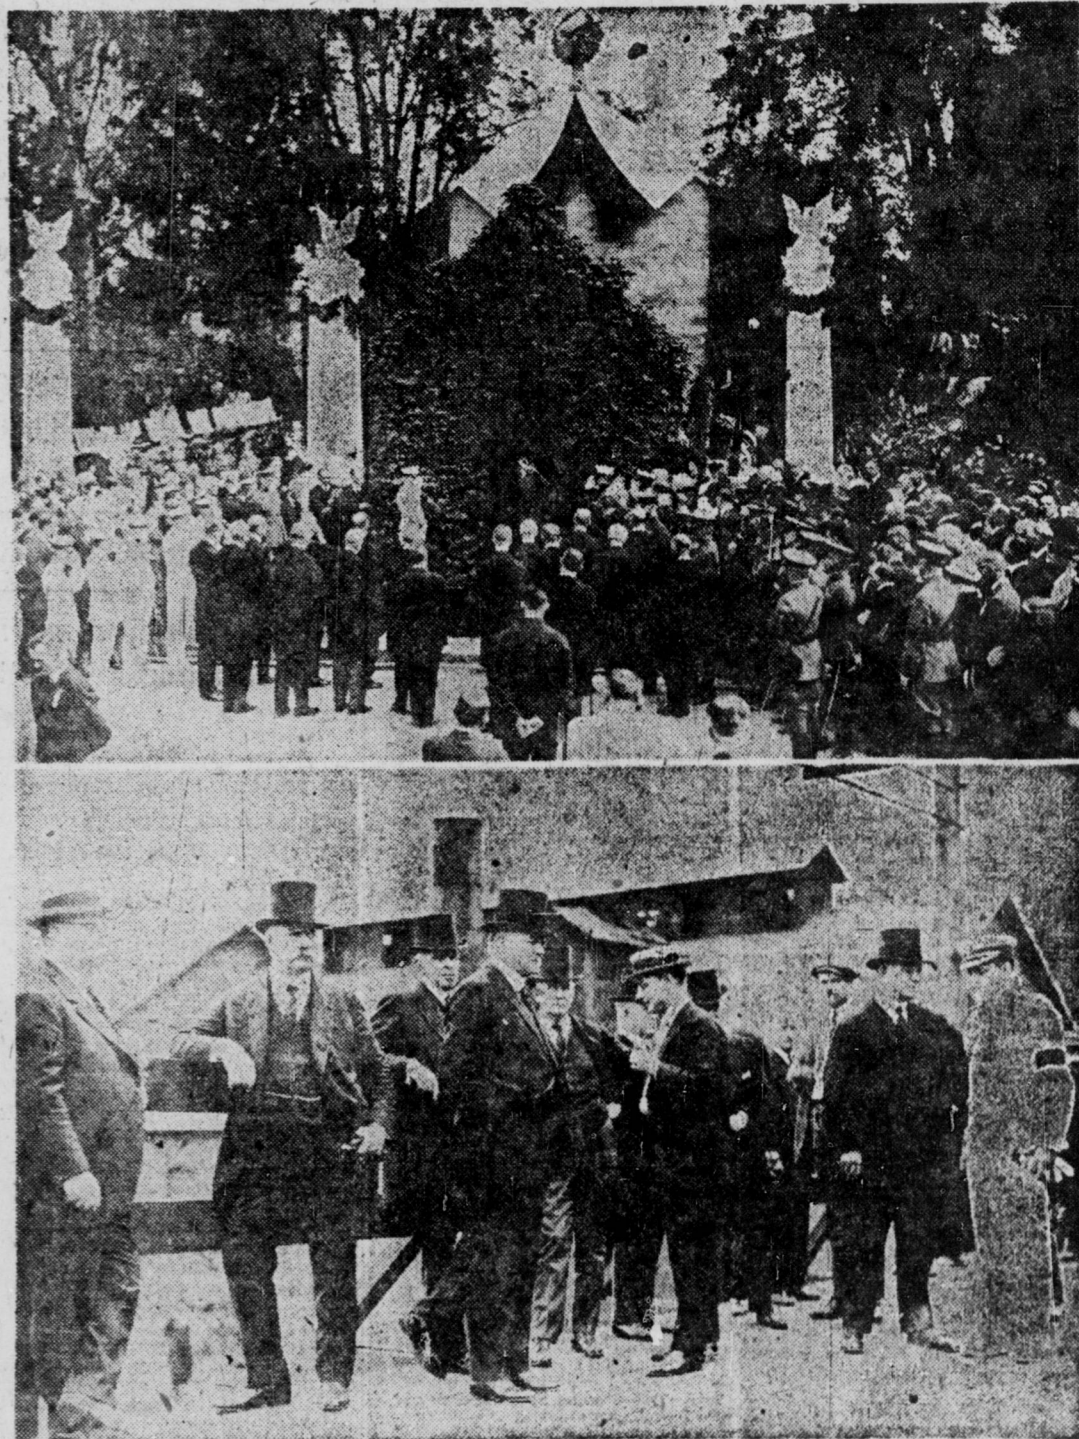

Another site, the location of which has not been announced, is also under consideration. This would cost $270,000 and make it necessary for the sanitary board to issue bonds.

Condition of the city streets during State Fair week also will be discussed. Other matters to be considered are the city budget and the improper labeling of streets.
