

PROBE AT FATAL CROSSING STARTS AS COUPLE DIES

Police Investigate Report View of Track Was Obstructed.

The police accident prevention division today was investigating conditions at the Nevada St. crossing of the Big Four Railroad, where Archibald Winings, 73, and his wife, Dela, 49, of 2112 W. Washington St., were killed Sunday morning.

Mullen said he saw the automobile approach the crossing and applied his brakes. The automobile stopped. Mullen said, so he released brakes and applied power. Then the auto was driven onto the track, the engineer said.

All Pleasant Features of Vacation Provided at Camp Ida Wineman

Shrill childish voices raised in a chanting song of "Farmer in the dell, farmer in the dell" vie with a high-pitched call to "Com'mon, kids, let's go swimmin'" in the shady camp that lies just north of Broad Ripple, between the river and the Range Line Rd.

Camp Ida Wineman, as it is called, is supported by the Indianapolis Community Chest and the Jewish Federation, and provides a summer vacation spot for forty children and ten mothers, who would otherwise have to spend the hot days in stuffy city tenements.

Miss Rose Bogen, in charge of the camp, sees that the children are provided with nourishing meals, supervises their swimming and their play and makes their stay, which lasts from two to six weeks, as pleasant as a vacation can be made.

COUNCIL TO GET CITY BUDGET AND TAX LEVY TONIGHT

Pruning Process Leaves Rate, Excepting Park Figure, at $1.02.

With the 1924 budget surviving administration pruning, city council will consider a tax levy of $1.02 tonight which will bring in an estimated total of $6,324,000 for expenses of city government next year. The council will meet in a special meeting, sitting as a committee of the whole.

Every item will be considered by the council in reviewing the cuts of Mayor Shank, in which he reduced the proposed levy from $1.3043.

A Chamber of Commerce committee and representative citizens have reviewed the budget. It represents an increase of $0.078 over this year.

In addition to the $1.02, an additional levy of $0.225 for the park sinking fund will be included, making a grand total of $1.0425. The park department levy, however, will be submitted separately. It is now in the hands of the county auditor, and will go to the State tax board for approval.

Following council action tonight, the State tax board must approve the city levy. It is estimated the levy as it now stands will bring in approximately $700,000 more than this year, due to increased property valuation.
